Hooking Students into Learning Patricia Hipwell,2018-07-20 Best selling author of the How to write what you want to say series Patricia Hipwell has completed her magnum opus which will benefit all teachers from Year 4 Year 12 This book has been written to provide teachers with ways of hooking students into learning at the start of each and every lesson It contains almost 300 ways of doing this The book is designed to be used by teachers in all curriculum areas from Year 4 upwards It contains a plethora of ideas that can be adapted to any curriculum area In the book the term relevant or subject specific content is used a great deal This is because skills are always best developed in the context of use with content that is relevant to current areas of study There is little point for example in asking students to do an activity that develops their sentence writing skills using information on Ancient Greece when they are currently studying the Black Death The symbiotic relationship between content and skills means that teachers often have to develop their own resources because this enables them to focus on the skills using relevant and current content Various referred to as anticipatory sets warm ups lesson starters or hooks the activities in this book are excellent ways to switch students on to their learning In this book the activities will be referred to as lesson starters Their purposes include moving key facts and figures from short term to long term memory activating prior knowledge about a topic where prior knowledge exists awakening interest in the topic of the lesson checking for understanding improving a variety of skills developing learning strategies improving vocabulary developing collaborative learning strategies Most of these activities are designed to take between five and ten minutes at the start of the lesson Students may take longer until they become familiar with them especially if the activities are different from current learning activities Many of the activities will work best if students work in pairs or small groups Some activities can generate noise and therefore be unsettling so teachers will need to be mindful of this when choosing a particular activity They may prefer to do the activity at the end rather than the start of a lesson In this case the purpose of the activity is to consolidate the learning of the lesson The focus of many of the activities is to increase the amount of reading and writing we require students to do Also students need to develop their vocabulary in all areas of the curriculum and many of the activities have been developed with this in mind Social Skills for Kids Keri K.

Metacognitive Listening Instruction in the Second Language Classroom Naheen

Madarbakus-Ring, 2025-09-30 This book addresses the gap between listening theory and practice by providing an outline of listening theory offering practical listening methods and presenting how metacognitive instruction can be integrated into real lesson practice Applying these methods to teaching and learning can provide educators with the instructional guidance needed to offer their learners some tangibility in second language L2 listening Based on original research the book includes descriptions and accounts of teachers listening classroom practices to explain their teaching priorities and their teaching decisions Further samples of listening lessons and learners accounts of their listening experience provide additional insights into learning from listening This book emphasizes the challenges that both teachers and learners face in the listening classroom and suggests metacognitive instruction as a remedy for these listening difficulties It also outlines a four stage pedagogic cycle including listening tasks and an additional journal component that integrates traditional teaching approaches and contemporary metacognitive methods This book is a useful resource for academics scholars educators and curriculum designers in the field of applied linguistics L2 language learning and foreign language education Thinking Skills for SEN Learners: Practical strategies for developing thinking and learning - eBook ,

Tools for Conflict Resolution Ellen M. O'Keefe, Mary Catherine Stewart, 2004-04-09 Have you been searching for a way to resolve conflict that doesn't involve a series of ten or more steps Do you think that perhaps a key to conflict resolution must come from within How can teachers and pre service teachers help their students learn and use strategies for conflict resolution Tools for Conflict Resolution is a practical method for teaching conflict resolution skills to students in grades K 12 Conflict is a part of everyone's life It is the authors belief that if each student is given tools for handling conflict and these tools are used each time conflict arises that soon students become proficient conflict managers This book begins with a chapter which introduces Peter Senge's five disciplines Personal Mastery Mental Models Shared Vision Team Building and Systems Thinking After reading this chapter the reader is able to embrace the five disciplines and begin practicing the adult level As teachers we teach from who we are The rest of the book is filled with actual lesson plans which are directly tied to the Multiple Intelligences Theory and are developmentally appropriate for students Case studies role plays skits literature songs and cooperative learning activities are the primary instructional methods used to teach students conflict resolution skills An annotated bibliography is included to assist teachers in extending lessons These lessons may be taught during Social Studies as a unit on character education or could be used during a guidance class Active Listening 1 Teacher's Manual with Audio CD
