

How to write a movie review

- Title – it should be attractive and must be able to indicate if review will be positive or negative; you can play with words to make it humorous or special;
- Paragraph 1 – Opening paragraph – you can start to summarise film and give early suggestions about your general vision of it (positive/negative);
- Paragraph 2 – Start or continue summary of film but don't give particular information about the ending or else no one will go and see the film!!
- Paragraph 3 and 4 – mention positive things you thought about the film, what did you like about it and why. Use descriptive words; think about the story, setting, effects, music...
- Paragraph 5 and 6 – mention negative things you thought about the film, what didn't you like about it and why. Comment on the same type of things that you mentioned in paragraphs 3 and 4
- Paragraph 7 and 8 – Characterization – talk about the characters: did you like them? Did the actors play them well? What was it about their portrayal that you liked or didn't like? Other impressions of the characters: will certain audience members be able to relate to certain characters? How? Will certain audience members not like certain characters? Why not?
- Paragraph 9 – Final comments – general observations that summarize your view of the film.
- After the paragraph you would give it a star rating out of 5 to indicate your rating for it.
