Writing in Motion Kenneth King, 2012-01-01 Kenneth King is one of America s most inventive postmodern choreographers His dancing has always reflected his interest in language and technology combining movement with film machines lighting and words both spoken and written King is also conversant in philosophy and some of his most influential dances have been dedicated to and in dialogue with the work of such philosophers as Susanne K Langer

Edmund Husserl and Friedrich Nietzsche Since the 1960s he has performed his dance to texts both spoken and prerecorded texts intended to stand separately as literary works Writing in Motion spans more than thirty years and is collected here for the first time It includes essays performance scripts of King s own work art criticism philosophy and cultural commentary Dense with movement these writings explode and reconfigure the familiar crack syntax open and invent startling new words Dancing to King is writing in space and writing is a dance of ideas Whether referencing Aristotle Langer Simone de Beauvoir MTV Maurice Blanchot or Marshall McLuhan King s delightfully lavish prose is very much in motion Making Jazz in Contemporary Japan Marie Buscatto, 2024-10-30 Making Jazz in Contemporary Japan A Passionate Search for Self Expression explores the ways in which Japanese jazz musicians express themselves through their art not to japanize jazz but to assert one s creativity passion and capacity for self expression establishing it as an art form with its own sense of musicality and cultural social and economic concerns This ethnographic survey contextualizes a shift in the Japanese jazz world over the last 30 years What once was a culture dependent on the American influence is now a thriving local scene creating a wide variety of original transnational compositions Based on digital and physical observations and extensive interviews with nearly three dozen Japanese professional jazz musicians while featuring portraits of well known artists this empirical investigation into how where and why jazz is performed opens doors to touch on culturally sensitive and taboo topics such as gender sexuality and indigenization Suited for readers in global jazz studies and cultural study programs alike this book is a timely sociological consideration of the Japanese jazz diaspora a necessary update to break free of established tropes and clichés envisioning Japanese artists as mere imitators Bulletin of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, 1913

Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore
