Howards End Case Studies In Contemporary Criticism:

Howard's End Anthony Forster, 1996-10-15 This edition of Forster's classic novel reprints the authoritative text of the 1973 Abinger Edition together with five critical essays especially prepared for this volume that read Howards End from five contemporary critical perspectives Each critical essay is accompanied by a succinct introduction to the history principles and practice of the critical perspective and by a bibliography that promotes further exploration of that approach An

Ecological and Postcolonial Study of Literature R. Marzec, 2015-12-11 This book argues that humanity's relationship to the land has undergone a fundamental and calamitous change Marzec reveals how the historical phenomenon known as the enclosure movement has effected not only the ecosystems and the geopolitics of the Twenty First century but on how we relate to the earth and conceive of ourselves as human Willa Cather and E. M. Forster Alan Blackstock, 2020-04-01

Though both Willa Cather and E M Forster have been alternately praised as progressives and criticized as conservatives the novels of both writers embody the tenets of liberal humanism while at the same time reflecting the tensions associated with modernism though both of these terms have come under intense critical scrutiny in recent years And while a few critics have offered brief comparisons of individual works or particular tendencies of Cather and Forster none has provided the systematic comparative analysis of the relationship between liberal humanist modernist tensions and the search for transcendence in their work that this book offers The principal aims of the present study are to locate the imagined alternatives to the lamentable present embodied in the novels of both writers and to explore how literature and the arts might assist in transcending the deficiencies and disunities of life in the modern era The First Four Notes Matthew

Guerrieri, 2014-03-04 A TIME Magazine Top 10 Nonfiction Book of 2012 A New Yorker Best Book of the Year Los Angeles Magazine's 1 Music Book of the Year This revelatory book of music history examines what is perhaps the best known and most popular symphony ever written and its famous four note opening Reaching back before Beethoven's time Matthew Guerrieri uncovers premonitions of the opening notes in the rhythms of ancient Greek poetry and the music of the French Revolution He discusses the Fifth's impact when it premiered tracing the artistic philosophical and political reverberations across Europe to China Russia and the United States from Romanticism to ring tones from propaganda to pop This fascinating piece of musical detective work is a treat for music lovers of every stripe Risk and the English Novel Julia Hoydis, 2019-09-23 Taking the cue from the currency of risk in popular and interdisciplinary academic discourse this book explores the development of the English novel in relation to the emergence and institutionalization of risk from its origins in probability theory in the late seventeenth century to the global risk society in the twenty first century Focussing on 29 novels from Defoe to McEwan this book argues for the contemporaneity of the rise of risk and the novel and suggests that there is much to gain from reading the risk society from a diachronic literary cultural perspective Tracing changes and continuities the fictional case studies reveal the human preoccupation with safety and control of the future They show the struggle with uncertainties and the construction of individual or collective logics of risk which oscillate between rational calculation and emotion helplessness and denial and an enabling or destructive sense of adventure and danger Advancing the study of risk in fiction beyond the confinement to dystopian disaster narratives this book shows how topical notions such as chance and probability uncertainty and responsibility fears of decline and transgression all cluster around risk Coriolanus: A Critical Reader Liam E. Semler, 2021-01-28 Coriolanus is the last and most intriguing of Shakespeare's Roman tragedies Critics directors and actors have long been bewitched by this gripping character study of a warrior that Rome can neither tolerate nor do without Caius Martius Coriolanus is a terrifying war machine in battle a devoted son to a wise and ambitious mother at home and an inflammatory scorner of the rights and rites of the common people This Critical Reader opens up the extraordinary range of interpretation the play has elicited over the centuries and offers exciting new directions for scholarship The volume commences with a Timeline of key events relating to Coriolanus in print and performance and an Introduction by the volume editor Chapters survey the scholarly reaction to the play over four centuries the history of Coriolanus on stage and the current research and thinking about the play The second half of the volume comprises four New Directions essays exploring the rhetoric and performance of the self the play's relevance to our contemporary world an Hegelian approach to the tragedy and the insights of computer assisted stylometry A final chapter critically surveys resources for teaching the play Difficult Rhythm Michelle Fillion, 2010 Difficult Rhythm examines E M Forster's irrepressible interest in music providing plentiful examples of how the eminent British author's fiction resonates with music Musicologist Michelle Fillion analyzes his critical writings short stories and novels including A Room with a View which alludes to Beethoven Wagner and Schumann and Howards End which explicitly alerts readers how fiction can adopt musical forms and ideas This volume also includes for the first time in print Forster's notes on Beethoven's piano sonatas Documenting his knowledge of music his musical favorites and friends and his attitudes toward various composers performances and competing musical theories this engaging book traces the musical influences of luminaries such as Wagner Beethoven Tchaikovsky and Britten on Forster's life and work Fictions of Home Martin Mühlheim, 2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right wing discourses of belonging It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home focusing in particular on Marxist feminist postcolonial and psychoanalytic contributions The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home In detailed readings of one film and six novels a view is developed according to which home as a spatio-temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics Literary Essays on Explicable Splendours Ethan Lewis, 2019-10-29 A literary critic aspires to eloquence though makes no pretense to mirror the sublimity of the monuments inspiring his endeavors Poets express their wonder through works of art Critics articulate their homage via analysis of art's workings Hence these essays and lectures addressed to the quizzical though not of necessity scholarly reader explore Shakespeare and noted re envisioners of the Bard four modern novels that interrogate identity and underappreciated works and writers They conclude with a series of pensees thinkings that in the course of glossing nuances reflect upon the interpretative craft itself

Literature and Inequality Daniel Shaviro, 2020-03-31 The consequences of high end inequality seep into almost every aspect of human life it is not just a question for economists In this highly accessible new work Professor Shaviro takes an interdisciplinary approach to explore how great works of literature have provided some of the most incisive accounts of inequality and its social and cultural ramifications over the last two centuries Through perceptive close readings of Jane Austen Charles Dickens and Edith Wharton among others he not only demonstrates how these accounts are still relevant today but how they can illuminate our understanding of our current situation and broaden our own perspective beyond the merely economic

Crises of Realism Brian McCrea, Tom Lloyd, 1997 Understanding the novel as both the document and the agent of social change Impotent Fathers studies how writers in eighteenth century Britain at once recorded and helped to define a major demographic crisis suffered by the landed elite from 1650 to 1740 To questions about patriarchy property and gender in the early novel it brings recent work on demographics by the Cambridge Group for the History of Population Studies E A Wrigley R S Schofield Lloyd Bonfield and others and by Lawrence F and Jeanne C Fawtier Stone Impotent Fathers proposes that the early novel was an important means for readers and writers to work through anxieties about family property and succession
