Academic Libraries and Toxic Leadership Alma Ortega, 2017-01-31 Academic Libraries and Toxic Leadership examines a phenomenon that has yet to be seriously explored While other so called feminized professions such as nursing have been studied for their tendency to create toxic leadership environments thus far academic librarianship has not This book focuses on how to identify a toxic leader in an academic library setting how to address toxic leadership and how to work toward eradicating it from the organization In addition it discusses which steps can be used to prevent libraries from hiring toxic leaders Presents original research based on a two phase study about toxic leadership in academic libraries Demonstrates how to identify toxic leadership in libraries Shows how toxic leadership can manifest itself providing the reader with steps to eradicate it

Re-envisioning the MLS Johnna Percell, Lindsay C. Sarin, Paul T. Jaeger, John Carlo Bertot, 2018-04-13 At the heart of any discussion about the future of libraries is the future of librarians and how well our instructional programs especially the Master of Library Science MLS degree prepare them for their careers This book continues the critical conversations around preparing future librarians

Emerging Human Resource Trends in Academic Libraries, Michael A. Crumpton, Nora J. Bird, 2020-12-04 Emerging Human Resource Trends in Academic Libraries presents the collective wisdom of human resource librarians and administrators who have been in the forefront of practicing and applying the human resource principles in academic libraries The book is divided into five Parts Part I focuses on the present academic library environment and the unique human resource challenges that can be found there Part II looks at the role of LIS education in preparing Masters level librarians to work within academic libraries and beyond Part III examines how human resource departments in organizations can continue education beyond the degree for professionals and other staff Part IV is concerned with how academic libraries show their value to the parent institution Part V focuses on the library staff roles how they have changed and how they are valued in relation to faculty and professional positions These chapters within each Part represent the emerging trends within academic libraries that impact how librarians are educated mentored and given the ability to obtain professional development training as incumbent librarians as changes occur in the field Each chapter is written by a practitioner in HR who has experienced related problems and sought solutions

Leading the 21st-Century Academic Library Bradford Lee Eden, 2015-03-02 Libraries of all types have undergone significant developments in the last few decades The rate of change in the academic library a presence for decades now has been increasing in the first decade of this century It is no exaggeration to claim that it is undergoing a top to bottom redefinition Cataloging and reference remain central to its new role and the circulation of books is still high though declining Among the changes is the architecture of the library when new libraries replace old or where renovation is occurring the role of technology at every stage and in every library application the management of serials selection shelving and budgeting and in a gradual but irrevocable move to digital forms altered allocation of resources including larger portions of the budget diverted to preservation not only of aging books a theme in the latter part of the last century but of digital files cultural historical personal In brief the academic library is dramatically different today than it was only ten years ago And with it the profession of the academic librarian is also undergoing significant changes Managing digital resources in all its forms from telecommunications to storage and access devices is central to its new roles Creating curating and preserving digital information is also key to the new librarianship And what about services to its clients Here also we see dramatic change particularly but not exclusively with guiding library users in the effective use of networked knowledge Information literacy is a key term and skill in using the new tools of digital literacy reading and writing searching and extracting and the new technologies that drive social networking the Iphone Ipad and Ipod and its many imitators We can t expect the redefined academic library to assume its final shape any time soon if ever but the transformation is well underway This series Creating the 21st Century Academic Library will explore this topic from a number of different perspectives Volume 1 Visionary Leadership and Futures will begin the discussion by examining some of the new roles and directions academic libraries are taking Creating Research Infrastructures in the 21st-Century Academic Library Bradford Lee Eden,2015-08-13 Creating Research Infrastructures in the 21st Century Academic Library Conceiving Funding and Building New Facilities and Staff focuses on research infrastructures bringing together such topics as research and development in libraries dataset management e science grants and grant writing digital scholarship data management library as publisher web archiving and the research lifecycle Individual chapters deal with the formation of Research emerging scholarly forms and new collaborative approaches to knowledge creation dissemination and preservation managing small databases requiring the same level of support as large databases metadata digital preservation and curation and technical support Motivation for such services is provided in a chapter that considers how assessment and data now drive decisions and new services in higher education in general and academic libraries in particular and how statistical data can help to tell stories make decisions and move in new directions Conceptualization of the research process also receives attention through the presentation of a research lifecycle in the university environment with the library as an integral partner and leader Also a topic that is increasingly important the library as publisher with new institutional repositories tied to journal creation curation and management is examined with a discussion of the workflow and expertise necessary for the library to be successful and responsive to the research needs of its institution and become a leader in providing publishing services to its faculty A related topic Web archiving in libraries is explored in a chapter that includes discussions on the process of establishing buy in and legal permission the policies and procedures and the technology necessary for its success All of these efforts require funding and chapters are included that address this need finding funding outside of the university for support of the library is now a necessary and vital part of academic libraries guidelines and steps for how to write a grant and be successful at obtaining outside funds A second chapter deals with the problem of developing a grant seeking culture in the library what some of the barriers are to the grant writing process and how to create a reward system for a grant writing culture The volume concludes with two case studies related to implementing research data management services at two liberal arts colleges They demonstrate that the integration of data management services for undergraduate and faculty research in liberal arts colleges is just as important as it is for the large research universities and that new service models should be incorporated so that all librarians and library staff participate in this integration in their duties and responsibilities It is hoped that this volume and the series in general will be a valuable and exciting addition to the discussions and planning surrounding the future directions services and careers in the twenty first century academic library Beasts of the Forest Jon Hackett,Seán Harrington,2019-12-02 An interdisciplinary engagement with the forest and its monsters through critical readings of folklore fiction film music video and animation Within the text there are a multitude of convergent critical

Lowry,2017-08-31 This book describes the application of The ClimateQUAL survey protocol originally Organizational Climate and Diversity Assessment OCDA to over 55 libraries with thousands of individual respondents in the US Canada and UK The ClimateQUAL toolkit provides the ultimate management tool for effective organizational adaptation by employing deep assessment of a library s staff opinions to plumb the dimensions of climate and organizational culture important for a healthy organization in a library setting It tests critical attitudes around 26 validated dimensions The ClimateQUAL survey measures include work attitudes diversity climate leadership and several other dimensions of library climate The book describes the procedure for evaluating the structure and psychometric properties of each of these scales The survey protocol provides feedback based on normative data from the libraries that have already participated By using these normative scales and institutional results effectively significant improvements can be achieved Among other results the ClimateQUAL research shows that the most effective techniques for remediation are not top down but those that engage the entire staff The book touches on all significant findings of the 15 year project including the positive impact of diversity on customer service experience and the emerging understanding of a new concept the healthy organization and how it is built A full view is provided of the history and experience with ClimateQUAL since its inception and its use in libraries Bold Minds Margaret Weaver,Leo Appleton,2020-11-10 Are librarians and libraries relevant in the 21st century This is a fundamental question and one that presents differing opinions across the many diverse information sectors. If there is a continuing need for libraries and for librarians then how do library leaders obtain strategic support when there appears to be a lack of clarity or understanding about the very purpose of libraries at a time when economically libraries are under pressure to develop new business models and be more commercially focussed. Bold Minds Library leadership in a time of disruption brings together international leaders who frame many aspects of the current library provision and who carry responsibility for the library models of the future to consider how librarians and libraries can be a driving force in a time of disruptive economic technological and cultural change. Each chapter critically presents a short leadership provocation regarding libraries and their purpose encompassing impact service delivery collections staff skills and professional training and assessing what it means for leaders their sectors and organisations and how they have developed their personal leadership signature. This book will be invaluable to library and information professionals in a range of public and private sector libraries as well as policy makers in services where libraries are a component. It will also be useful for students educational establishments and IT professionals with an information management element to their work.

Gender, Tenure, and the Pursuit of Work-Life-Family Stability Kristen E. Willmott, 2020-10-01. Female faculty underrepresentation in higher education is perpetuated by gender based social and professional practices and roles. Existing research confirms gender disparities in faculty recruitment retention salary tenure and mentorship. This book explores how female tenure track faculty navigate the process of balancing their personal and professional lives. Utilizing a qualitative phenomenological approach the stories of nine female full time tenure track and tenured faculty as well as four administrators employed in faculty diversity development and work life are explored. With a blended application of poststructuralist feminism and work family border theoretical framework the book illustrates gender norms roles and boundaries as experienced and interpreted by female faculty navigating their work family and community spheres of influence. This book highlights the first known study to explore a new Ivy institution and there are no other known studies that incorporate both the qualitative perspectives of female faculty as well as those of the faculty diversity and development administrators who oversee and develop the very programs and policies that support those faculty. A key chapter in the book It's Cold Inside Faculty Context seeking clarity in job elements and teaching research service TRS ratios coping strategies in the wake of an overloaded TRS ratio. Quick meals late nights and what gym family borders in the academy and work life family fit stability not balance. This work aims to stimulate faculty gender norm consciousness and acknowledge and relay the unique challenges in faculty's pursuit of work life family stability career path navigation and role negotiation. The author offers an insider's glimpse of modern faculty and administrator lives for the benefit of tenure track faculty their departments their families and higher education institutions at large. This work aims to better inform university and departmental policy planning and enhance institutional understanding and subsequent support in and of the faculty experience and thus the experiences of the increasingly diverse students whom educational institutions aim to serve Managing the Digital University Łukasz Sułkowski, 2023-03-02 The reflection on university management is based on the question about the shape of universities of the future Civic responsible sustainable virtual digital and many other universities can be mentioned among the concepts present in the literature All these names describe an important distinctive feature of a university which will gain more and more importance in the future However given the fundamental importance of the radical change taking place it seems that the most appropriate name reflecting the essence of the emerging new formation is digital university This is because of the importance of digital transformation which has been developing for several decades bringing deep and multidirectional changes in the areas of technology economy society and culture It is a disruptive civilizational transition and although stretched over many decades it is revolutionary in nature significantly changing our lives in the Anthropocene The book has three cognitive and pragmatic objectives to provide a new perspective on the changing academic organization and management to reflect on higher education management concepts and methods and to present an overview of university management governance and leadership useful from the perspective of academic managers and other stakeholders The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
