These Schools Belong to You and Me Deborah Meier,Emily Gasoi,2017-09-19 A challenge to narrow profit driven conceptions of school success and an argument for protecting public education to ensure that all students become competent citizens in a vibrant democracy In These Schools Belong to You and Me MacArthur award winning educator reformer and author Deborah Meier draws on her fifty plus years of experience to argue that the purpose of universal education is to provide young people with an apprenticeship for citizenship in a democracy Through an intergenerational exchange with her former colleague and fellow educator Emily Gasoi the coauthors analyze the last several decades of education reform challenging narrow profit driven conceptions of school success Reflecting on the trajectory of education and social policies that are leading our country further from rule of for and by the people the authors apply their extensive knowledge and years of research to address the question of how public education must change in order to counter the erosion of democratic spirit and practice in schools and in the nation as a whole Meier and Gasoi candidly reflect on the successes missteps and challenges they experienced working in democratically governed schools demonstrating that it is possible to provide an enriched education to all students not just the privileged few Arguing that public education and democracy are inextricably bound and pushing against the tide of privatization These Schools Belong to You and Me is a rousing call to both save and improve public schools to ensure that all students are empowered to help shape our future democracy Live to See the Day Nikhil Goyal,2023-08-22 An indelible portrait of three children struggling to survive in the poorest neighborhood of the poorest large city in America Kensington Philadelphia is distinguished only by its poverty It is home to Ryan Giancarlos and Emmanuel three Puerto Rican children who live among the most marginalized families in the United States This is the story of their coming of age which is beset by violence the violence of homelessness hunger incarceration stray bullets sexual and physical assault the hypermasculine logic of the streets and the drug trade In Kensington eighteenth birthdays are not rites of passage but statistical miracles One mistake drives Ryan out of middle school and into the juvenile justice pipeline For Emmanuel his queerness means his mother s rejection and sleeping in shelters School closures and budget cuts inspire Giancarlos to lead walkouts which get him kicked out of the system Although all three are high school dropouts they are on a quest to defy their fate and their neighborhood and get high school diplomas In a triumph of empathy and drawing on nearly a decade of reporting sociologist and policymaker Nikhil Goyal follows Ryan Giancarlos and Emmanuel on their mission plunging deep into their lives as they strive to resist their designated place in the social hierarchy In the process Live to See the Day confronts a new age of American poverty after the end of welfare as we know it after zero tolerance in schools criminalized a generation of students after the odds of making it out are ever slighter Learning, Design, and Technology J. Carter,Hilary A. Lochte,2016-12-20 Winner of the 2017 AESA Critic s Choice Book Award This book provides multiple perspectives on the dual struggle that teacher educators currently face as they make sense of edTPA while preparing their pre service teachers for this high stakes teacher exam The adoption of nationalized teacher performance exams has raised concerns about the influence of corporate interests in teacher education the objectivity of nationalized teaching standards and ultimately the overarching political and economic interests shaping the process format and nature of assessment itself

Through an arc of scholarship from various perspectives this book explores a range of questions about the goals and interests at work in the roll out of the edTPA assessment and gives voice to those most affected by these policy changes teacher educators and teacher education students      Educating for Radical Social Transformation in the Climate Crisis Stuart Tannock,2021-09-21 This book asks how education can be developed to facilitate the radical social cultural and economic transformations needed to deal with the ongoing climate emergency The author illuminates important links between the work currently being done in climate change and education and the broader and older theories of radical education an area of education theory and practice that has long grappled with the question of how to use education to create a more just society Highlighting both current work and long traditions that include popular progressive feminist anti racist and anti colonial education the author draws on interdisciplinary research to make the case for how radical education can help tackle the climate change crisis It will have direct relevance for scholars of environmental education and radical education as well as activists and practitioners      Teachers and Philosophy Cara E. Furman,Tomas de Rezende Rocha,2025-02-01

Philosophers and educators come together to address contemporary issues in education Teachers and Philosophy showcases the potential of education practitioners and philosophers of education working and writing together Following Mary Louise Pratt this meeting space is referred to as a contact zone and contributors demonstrate the power and benefit of writing from this liminal space Introductory and concluding chapters provide an argument for the value of bringing together philosophers and practitioners as well as tips for facilitating these interactions Situated amid the COVID 19 pandemic the volume grapples with the challenges that practitioners face around teaching controversial topics crafting inclusive curricula indigeneity disability urban schooling nature based education rural education mental health coping with feelings of anger and more Each chapter ends with suggestions for further reading or engagement questions for reflection and discussion and an activity that a class or reading group can move through together      Diverse Families, Desirable Schools Mira Debs,2021-03-09 In

Diverse Families Desirable Schools Mira Debs offers a richly detailed study of public Montessori schools which make up the largest group of progressive schools in the public sector As public Montessori schools expand rapidly as alternatives to traditional public schools the story of these schools Debs points out is a microcosm of the broader conflicts around public school choice Drawing on historical research interviews with public Montessori educators and ethnographic case studies Debs explores the forces that pull intentionally diverse progressive schools toward elitism At the heart of Debs s book is a thoughtful analysis of the notion of fit between parents and schools an idea that is central to school choice which is often marketed as an opportunity for parents to find the perfect fit for their kids By exploring parents varied motivations in choosing these schools and observing how families experience or fail to experience a good fit after having chosen a particular school Debs makes an original contribution to the literature on school choice and sheds light on the dilemmas entailed in maintaining diversity in progressive charter and magnet schools      The Proud Decades John P. Diggins,1988 What happens when public figures private selves are put forth for examination by public audiences How do the personal struggles of music artists specifically those with immigrant backgrounds compare to the private struggles of other individuals At a time when many countries in the European Union experience an increase in far right political party activities how do individuals from the margins negotiate new ways of thinking about identity offering hope for greater understanding of shared struggles across societies This book offers interpretations of identity and belonging by examining the work of two music artists Faudel Belloua from France and Adam Tensta from Sweden By analyzing texts produced by these individuals I argue that ongoing engagement with the materials produced by Belloua and Tensta a process which I refer to as living biography presents a unique window into the process of how Belloua and Tensta connect personal struggles to public issues providing a compelling departure point for further discussions on how interpretations of national identity are changing in France and Sweden and beyond

Starting at Home Nel Noddings, 2002-01-28 Nel Noddings one of the central figures in the contemporary discussion of ethics and moral education argues that caring a way of life learned at home can be extended into a theory that guides social policy Tackling issues such as capital punishment drug treatment homelessness mental illness and abortion Noddings inverts traditional philosophical priorities to show how an ethic of care can have profound and compelling implications for social and political thought Instead of beginning with an ideal state and then describing a role for home and family this book starts with an ideal home and asks how what is learned there may be extended to the larger social domain Noddings examines the tension between freedom and equality that characterized liberal thought in the twentieth century and finds that for all its strengths liberalism is still inadequate as social policy She suggests instead that an attitude of attentive love in the home induces a corresponding responsiveness that can serve as a foundation for social policy With her characteristic sensitivity to the individual and to the vulnerable in society the author concludes that any corrective practice that does more harm than the behavior it is aimed at correcting should be abandoned This suggests an end to the disastrous war on drugs In addition Noddings states that the caring professions that deal with the homeless should be guided by flexible policies that allow practitioners to respond adequately to the needs of very different clients She recommends that the school curriculum should include serious preparation for home life as well as for professional and civic life Emphasizing the importance of improving life in everyday homes and the possible role social policy might play in this improvement Starting at Home highlights the inextricable link between the development of care in individual lives and any discussion of moral life and social policy
