

How to Survive a Zombie Attack

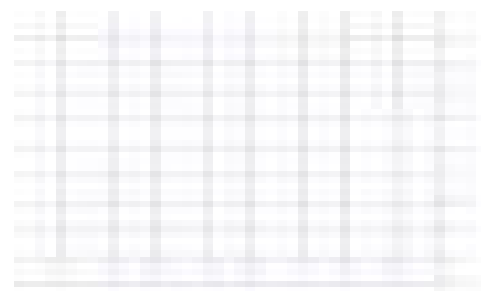

One team (the "ZOMB" subgroup) will act zombies throughout the next phase of your model building. Their objective is to "kill" the other human team and will continue to track progress throughout 3 business days. But they are not able to leave long to will take them home completely healthy. However, on the planet, I imagine the whole human population have experienced zombies there will be every day like the first 10 days of the attack. The original zombie will be only 1 zombie, but later on when they were killed zombies will have the power just like real life. You can make

Day	Number of Zombies removed each day	Day	Number of Zombies removed each day
1	1	11
2		12
3		13

What's more?

1. What percentage of people do you think for the number of zombies removed each day are the days going? Explain.

2. What would the data look like on a graph? Sketch a graph of the data for days 1-10.
