writing support     Novelista Claire Askew, 2020-10-15 NOVELISTA is a friendly straight talking writing guide for people who want to write a novel but don't know how to begin. It asks all the important questions and gives a host of reassuring answers that demonstrate that anyone can write a novel even you. To begin with what the hell is a novel? It's basically a tiny world where characters are born, live and sometimes die. To write one, all you need is a notebook and a pen, but along the way you'll want to learn about good writing habits, planning, mastering descriptions and dialogue and how to pull it all together. This book will guide you through the process and orient you towards the goal of publication. From absolute beginner to novelist, this book will change the way you write and think about writing.     International Advances in Writing

Research Charles Bazerman, Chris Dean, 2012-09-09 The authors report research that considers writing in all levels of schooling, in science in the public sphere and in the workplace as well as the relationship among these various places of writing. The authors also consider the cultures of writing among them: national cultures, gender cultures, schooling cultures, scientific cultures and cultures of the workplace.     How to Write a BA Thesis, Second Edition Charles Lipson, 2018-12-05 How to Write a BA Thesis is the only book that directly addresses the needs of undergraduate students writing a major paper. This book offers step by step advice on how to move from early ideas to finished paper. It covers choosing a topic, selecting an advisor, writing a proposal, conducting research, developing an argument, writing and editing the thesis and making through a defense. Lipson also acknowledges the challenges that arise when tackling such a project and he offers advice for breaking through writer's block and juggling school life demands. This is a must read for anyone writing a BA thesis or for anyone who advises these students.     Running, Thinking, Writing Jackie Hoermann-Elliott, 2021-06-12

For the creative fulfillment of writers who identify as runners, walkers or movers, Running Thinking Writing Embodied Cognition in Composition unveils the varied understandings of the relationship between writing activity and physical activity. Jackie Hoermann-Elliott provides an interdisciplinary overview of relevant research from the fields of composition studies, cognitive science, neuroscience and sports psychology before proposing a new theoretical framework for explaining what happens to writers when they are moved to develop their writing while their bodies are in motion. She shares illuminating accounts from runner-writers working in the industries of journalism, academia and youth literature. She also provides pedagogical insights from working with student writers on embodied writing assignments as well as introductory activities for instructors to try in their own classrooms. With a running metaphor guiding the chapters in this book, readers will be challenged to view writing as embodied cognition and to realize the benefits of embodiment for all writers.
