McCarthy, 2004-10-07 This edited volume is a collection of population and metapopulation models for a wide variety of species including plants invertebrates fishes amphibians reptiles birds and mammals Each chapter of the book describes the application of RAMAS GIS 4.0 to one species with the aim of demonstrating how various life history characteristics of the species are incorporated into the model and how the results of the model has been or can be used in conservation and management of the species The book comes with a CD that includes a demo version of the program and the data files for each species

Video Content Analysis Using Multimodal Information Ying Li, C.C. Jay Kuo, 2013-04-17 Video Content Analysis Using Multimodal Information For Movie Content Extraction Indexing and Representation is on content based multimedia analysis indexing representation and applications with a focus on feature films Presented are the state of art techniques in video content analysis domain as well as many novel ideas and algorithms for movie content analysis based on the use of multimodal information The authors employ multiple media cues such as audio visual and face information to bridge the gap between low level audiovisual features and high level video semantics Based on sophisticated audio and visual content processing such as video segmentation and audio classification the original video is re-represented in the form of a set of semantic video scenes or events where an event is further classified as a 2 speaker dialog a multiple speaker dialog or a hybrid event Moreover desired speakers are simultaneously identified from the video stream based on either a supervised or an adaptive speaker identification scheme All this information is then integrated together to build the video's ToC table of content as well as the index table Finally a video abstraction system which can generate either a scene based summary or an event based skim is presented by exploiting the knowledge of both video semantics and video production rules This monograph will be of great interest to research scientists and graduate level students working in the area of content based multimedia analysis indexing representation and applications as well as its related fields

Symbolic Computation for Statistical Inference David F. Andrews, James E. H. Stafford, 2000 Over recent years developments in statistical computing have freed statisticians from the burden of calculation and have made possible new methods of analysis that previously would have been too difficult or time consuming Up till now these developments have been primarily in numerical computation and graphical display but equal steps forward are now being made in the area of symbolic computing or in other words the use of computer languages and procedures to manipulate expressions This allows researchers to compute an algebraic expression rather than evaluate the expression numerically over a given range This book summarizes a decade of research into the use of symbolic computation applied to statistical inference problems It shows the considerable potential of the subject to automate statistical calculation leaving researchers free to concentrate on new concepts Starting with the development of algorithms applied to standard undergraduate problems the book then goes on to develop increasingly more powerful tools Later chapters then discuss the application of these algorithms to different areas of statistical methodology Computational Science, Mathematics, and Software Ronald F. Boisvert, Elias N. Houstis, 2002 This volume contains 19 contributions from the International Symposium for Computational Science 1999 Topics covered include delivery mechanisms for numerical algorithms intelligent systems for recommending scientific software and the architecture of scientific problem solving environments Schizophrenia Bulletin ,2003 Mine Ventilation S. Bandopadhyay, R. Ganguli, 2004-05-15 The purpose of the 10th US North American Mine Ventilation Symposium in Anchorage 2004 was to bring together practitioners involved in the planning and operation of underground ventilation systems to provide a forum for debate and exchange of ideas and to share information on the advances which have been made and consider problems

Schmidt, 2012-09-27 Thanks to the progress made in instruments and techniques the methods in physical chemistry have developed rapidly over the past few decades making them increasingly valuable for scientists of many disciplines These two must have volumes meet the needs of the scientific community for a thorough overview of all the important methods currently used As such this work bridges the gap between standard textbooks and review articles covering a large number of methods as well as the motivation behind their use A uniform approach is adopted throughout both volumes while the critical comparison of the advantages and disadvantages of each method makes this a valuable reference for physical chemists and other scientists working with these techniques

Underwater Acoustic Modelling and Simulation P.C. Etter, 2003-12-08 Underwater Acoustic Modeling and Simulation examines the translation of our physical understanding of sound in the sea into mathematical models that can simulate acoustic propagation noise and reverberation in the ocean These models are used in a variety of research and operational applications to predict and diagnose the performance of complex systems Stochastic Equations for Complex Systems Stefan Heinz, Hakima Bessaih, 2015-05-06 Mathematical analyses and computational predictions of the behavior of complex systems are needed to effectively deal with weather and climate predictions for example and the optimal design of technical processes Given the random nature of such systems and the recognized relevance of randomness the equations used to describe such systems usually need to involve stochastics The basic goal of this book is to introduce the mathematics and application of stochastic equations used for the modeling of complex systems A first focus is on the introduction to different topics in mathematical analysis A second focus is on the application of mathematical tools to the analysis of stochastic equations A third focus is on the development and application of stochastic methods to simulate turbulent flows as seen in reality This book is primarily oriented towards mathematics and engineering PhD students young and experienced researchers and professionals working in the area of stochastic differential equations and their applications It contributes to a growing understanding of concepts and terminology used by mathematicians engineers and physicists in this relatively young and quickly expanding field
