Oxford Dictionary of National Biography 2005-2008 Lawrence Goldman, 2013-03-07 Who made modern Britain? This book, drawn from the award-winning Oxford Dictionary of National Biography, tells the story of our recent past through the lives of those who shaped national life. Following on from the Oxford DNB's first supplement volume, noteworthy people who died between 2001 and 2004, this new volume offers biographies of more than 850 men and women who left their mark on twentieth and twenty-first century Britain and who died in the years 2005 to 2008. Here are the people responsible for major developments in national life: from politics, the arts, business, technology, and law to military service, sport, education, science, and medicine. Many are closely connected to specific periods in Britain's recent history. From the 1950s, the young Harold Pinter or the Yorkshire cricketer Fred Trueman, for example. From the Sixties, the footballer George Best, photographer Patrick Lichfield, and the Pink Floyd musician Syd Barrett. It's hard to look back to the 1970s without thinking of Edward Heath and James Callaghan, who led the country for seven years in that turbulent decade, or similarly Freddie Laker, pioneer of budget air travel, and the comedians Ronnie Barker and Dave Allen, who entertained with their sketch shows and sit-coms. A decade later, you probably browsed in Anita Roddick's Body Shop or danced to the music of Factory Records, established by the Manchester entrepreneur Tony Wilson. In the 1990s, you may have hoped that things can only get better with a New Labour government, which included Robin Cook and Mo Mowlam. Many in this volume are remembered for lives dedicated to a profession or cause: Bill Deedes or Conor Cruise O'Brien in journalism; Ned Sherrin in broadcasting; or indeed Ted Heath, whose political career spanned more than 50 years. Others were responsible for discoveries or innovations of lasting legacy and benefit: among them the epidemiologist Richard Doll, who made the link between smoking and lung cancer; Cicely Saunders, creator of the hospice movement; and Chad Varah, founder of the Samaritans. With John Profumo, who gave his name to a scandal; policeman Malcolm Fewtrell, who investigated the Great Train Robbery; or the Russian dissident Aleksandr Litvinenko, who was killed in London in 2006, we have individuals best known for specific moments in our recent past. Others are synonymous with popular objects and experiences evocative of recent decades: Mastermind with Magnus Magnusson, the
