Leadership And Change In The Multilateral Trading System:

Leadership and Change in the Multilateral Trading System Amrita Narlikar, Brendan Vickers, 2009 Studies in International Institutional Dynamics 2 International Studies Library 18 This volume presents an authoritative and cutting edge account of the evolving multilateral trading system and the challenges that it faces today It focuses on details affecting the Doha negotiations and also addresses broader themes of leadership changing balances of power and institutional limitations of the WTO Six country cases of the established and rising powers along with two chapters on the critical intervening variable of coalitions offer new insights into problems and opportunities available in the multilateral trading system The Introduction and Conclusion co authored by the two editors ensure that the resulting volume will provide an accessible holistic and cohesive understanding of leadership and change in the multilateral trading system Table of Contents Acknowledgements Author biographies 1 Introduction Global trade governance in a multipolar world Brendan Vickers and Amrita Narlikar Part I The Established Powers 2 The EU in the Doha negotiations A Conflicted leader Manfred Elsig 3 US trade Policy and the rise of the big emerging economies Geoffrey Allen Pigman Part II Rising powers in a multipolar trading system 4 Brazil s multilateral trade diplomacy in the WTO Maria Lucia L M Pdua Lima 5 Shifting coordinates of India s stance in the WTO Understanding the domestic and international drivers Amit Ray and Sabyasachi Saha 6 Reforming the WTO China the Doha round and beyond Gregory Chin 7 Reclaiming development in multilateral trade South Africa and the politics of the Doha round Brendan Vickers Part III Bargaining coalitions in the Doha negotiations 8 A Theory of Bargaining Coalitions Amrita Narlikar 9 Reflections on the WTO July 2008 collapse Lessons for developing country coalitions Faizel Ismail 10 Conclusion What leadership and what change Amrita Narlikar and Brendan Vickers About the Author s Editor s Amrita Narlikar is University Senior Lecturer in International Political Economy at the Department of Politics and International Studies University of Cambridge and Official Fellow of Darwin College Her single authored books include The World Trade Organization A Very Short Introduction Oxford Oxford University Press 2005 translated into Chinese and Arabic and International Trade and Developing Countries Bargaining coalitions in the GATT and WTO London Routledge 2003 Brendan Vickers is Senior Researcher in Multilateral Trade at the Institute for Global Dialogue Johannesburg South Africa and Research Associate of the Department of Political Science at the University of Pretoria South Africa The post war international architecture was designed and created by the hegemon the United States This book is an important addition to a growing literature on the multipolar world There is still a hegemon but with less and less power The post war partner Europe is more and more concerned with domestic issues And there is a growing collection of coalitions Thus for example there are the BRICs Brazil Russia India and China and the BICS Brazil India China and South Africa and lots of Gs And BEEs or big emerging economies Yet no coherent view of the trading system has emerged There s a famous doggerel from the Bretton Woods negotiations In Washington Lord Halifax whispered to Lord Keynes they ve got all the money bags and we ve got all the brains Today as this excellent collection of studies illustrates much of the money bags are in say China And the brains are spread out all over the place This is essential reading to begin to understand the emerging new world order Or disorder Sylvia Ostry Distinguished Research Fellow Munk Centre for International Studies The Oxford Handbook on The World Trade Organization Amrita Narlikar, Martin Daunton, Robert M. Stern, 2012-05-31 This handbook provides a holistic understanding of what the World Trade Organization does how it goes about fulfilling its tasks its achievements and problems and how it might contend with some critical challenges The Oxford Handbook of Modern Diplomacy Andrew F. Cooper, Jorge Heine, Ramesh Thakur, 2013-03-28 At a time when diplomatic practices and the demands imposed on diplomats are changing quite radically and many foreign ministries feel they are being left behind there is a need to understand the various forces that are affecting the profession Diplomacy remains a salient activity in today's world in which the basic authoritative actor is still the state At the same time in some respects the practice of diplomacy is undergoing significant even radical changes to the context tools actors and domain of the trade These changes spring from the changing nature of the state the changing nature of the world order and the interplay between them One way of describing this is to say that we are seeing increased interaction between two forms of diplomacy club diplomacy and network diplomacy The former is based on a small number of players a highly hierarchical structure based largely on written communication and on low transparency the latter is based on a much larger number of players particularly of civil society a flatter structure a more significant oral component and greater transparency The Oxford Handbook of Modern Diplomacy is an authoritative reference tool for those studying and practicing modern diplomacy It provides an up to date compendium of the latest developments in the field Written by practitioners and scholars the Handbook describes the elements of constancy and continuity and the changes that are affecting diplomacy The Handbook goes further and gives insight to where the profession is headed in the future Co edited by three distinguished academics and former practitioners the Handbook provides comprehensive analysis and description of the state of diplomacy in the 21st Century and is an essential resource for diplomats practitioners and academics African Coalitions and Global Economic Governance Michael Byron Nelson, 2016-09 This book examines the strategic implications of fragmented global governance by institutions for African states and their coalitions China and the WTO Henry Gao, Damian Raess, Ka Zeng, 2023-09-28 Examining the twenty years since China acceded to the World Trade Organization this collection provides an original systematic assessment of the opportunities and challenges that China has presented to the WTO Offering in depth analyses of the two way relationship between China and the WTO the contributions explore a range of key issues from the varied effects of WTO membership for China and the global economy to the responses of the WTO members to China's rapid economic growth It presents diverse perspectives of leading scholars from multiple disciplines including law economics political science and international relations as well as practical insights from senior policymakers from both China and the United States This is an invaluable contribution to ongoing debates about the implications of the rise of China for global economic governance and enriches discussions of the wide ranging implications of China's growing integration into the multilateral trading system both now and in the future This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development Carolyn Deere Birkbeck, 2011-08-18 Discussion of the governance of global trade and the multilateral trading system is too often dominated by developed country scholars and opinion makers with inadequate attention given to developing country perspectives Making Global Trade Governance Work for Development gathers a diversity of developing country views on how to improve the governance of global trade and the WTO to better advance sustainable development and respond to the needs of developing countries With contributions by senior scholars commentators and practitioners the essays combine new empirically grounded research with practical insights about the trade policy making process They consider the specific governance issues of interest to developing countries and acknowledge the changing dynamics in the global economy and in trade decision making

Rise Of The Global South, The: Philosophical, Geopolitical And Economic Trends Of The 21st Century Justin Dargin, 2013-05-27 This book provides a broad and in depth introduction to the geopolitical economic and trade changes wrought with the increasing influence of the countries of the Global South in international affairs The global role of the developing countries came to the forefront in 1974 when the United Nations General Assembly promulgated The New International Economic Order Since then the countries of the Global South particularly China India Brazil Saudi Arabia South Africa and Qatar made an indelible impact upon the world's economic architecture However their true influence became starkly illustrated during the onset of the 2000s when several seismic events occurred The September Eleventh terrorist attacks with the resultant debilitating wars in Iraq and Afghanistan extreme world commodity price increases and the global financial crisis of 2007 2008 all served to wrench the epicenter of global influence increasingly southward While the developed countries of the Global North became mired in economic stagnation with problems associated with the global financial crisis their collective influence waned Since then the world has been attempting to accommodate somewhat unevenly the rising geopolitical and economic clout of the Global South This book presents a collection of scholarly articles that taken together functions as a primer on the workings of the immense global changes at the beginning of the twenty first century

China and Global Trade Governance Ka Zeng, Wei Liang, 2013-12-13 China's historic accession to the World Trade Organization WTO in November 2001 not only represents an important milestone in the country's transition to a market economy and integration into the global economy but is also among the most important events in the history of the WTO and the multilateral trading system China and Global Trade Governance China's First Decade in the World Trade Organization provides us with some fresh empirical data to assess the country's behaviour in the liberal international economic regime Such an assessment is both timely and necessary as it can help us better understand China's role in the evolving structure of global economic governance in addition to shedding light on the broader debate about the implications of the rise of China for the international system Through a thorough examination of China's WTO compliance record and its experience in multilateral trade negotiations this book seeks to better understand the sources of constraints on China's behaviour in the multilateral trade institution as well as the country's influence on the efficacy of the World Trade Organization In doing so this project speaks directly to the following questions raised by China's unprecedented ascent in the international system Is China a rule maker rule follower or rule breaker in international regimes Is Beijing a responsible stakeholder capable of making positive contributions to global trade governance in the long term

Climate Change and International Trade Rafael Leal-Arcas, 2013-01-01 Rafael Leal Arcas expertly examines the interface of climate change mitigation and international trade law with a view to addressing the question How can we make best use of the international trading system experience to aim at a global climate change agreement The insightful book contributes to developing the architecture for a post 2012 global climate agreement and in doing so seeks and proposes new approaches to climate change mitigation by linking it to the international trade system The author suggests the adoption of a bottom up approach to climate change negotiations by using the evolution of multilateral trade agreements as a model for reaching a global climate treaty He discusses the innovative approach of inserting climate goals within regional trade agreements given their proliferation especially bilateral in the international trading system He explains the trade implications of climate change mitigation policies by analyzing a couple of areas where the international regimes for trade and climate change mitigation may potentially clash Climate Change and International Trade will strongly appeal to undergraduate and graduate students of international and European trade law international and European environmental law as well as social science academics NGOs think tanks practitioners researchers and international organizations will also find plenty of valuable information in this timely resource

The Rise of the Global South Justin Dargin, 2013 This book provides a broad and in depth introduction to the geopolitical economic and trade changes wrought with the increasing influence of the countries of the Global South in international affairs Since the introduction of the United Nations General Assembly's New International Economic Order the countries of the Global South particularly China India Brazil Saudi Arabia South Africa and Qatar made an indelible impact upon the world's economic architecture

Foreign Policy Steve Smith, Amelia Hadfield, Timothy Dunne, 2012-06-21 Foreign Policy is unique in that it combines theories actors and cases in one volume This approach encourages the reader to appreciate a balanced view of the theory and how foreign policy is carried out in the real world

East Asian Studies In The Perspective Of Regional Integration Xinbo Wu, 2018-05-30 East Asia is now experiencing significant economic growth and social change Integration of East Asia seems an irresistible trend as East Asian countries are closely interdependent with each other and share many common interests in economic development This book analyzes the cooperation and challenges of East Asian countries in the process of integration It includes 15 chapters in four sections The first section discusses the impact of East Asia cooperation and economic integration

The second section emphasizes the election of political leadership in East Asia The third section covers the topics of East Asian cultural identity history and norms The fourth section studies the relationship between East Asia and the World The chapters are selected from two Trilateral symposia held in Seoul and Shanghai in 2013 and 2014 respectively The Symposia offer comprehensive and diversified views of scholars from China Korea and Japan

Trade, Poverty, Development

Rorden Wilkinson, James Scott, 2013 This work seeks to look beyond the seemingly endless deadlock in the WTO's Doha round of trade negotiations that began in November 2001 and were first scheduled to conclude by January 1 2005 As well as offering an incisive analysis of the ills of the round with particular attention directed at the poorest and least developed countries the book expands on how the round could be moved forward elaborating on the Statement on the Doha Development Agenda that was negotiated in Johannesburg The work as a whole provides the reader with a critical analysis of the implications of the negotiations for development and poverty reduction as well as proposals for moving beyond the current impasse The volume brings together contributions from serving and former ambassadors to the WTO key practitioners and civil society representatives along with those of leading scholars Each chapter explores an area of critical importance to the round and together they stand as an important contribution to debates not only about the Doha round but also about the role of trade in the amelioration of poverty in the poorest countries

The Post-Cold War Trading System

Sylvia Ostry, 2008-04-15 With the end of the Cold War the search for a new international and economic order has begun In this comprehensive account Sylvia Ostry provides a critical analysis of an international trade system in the throes of rapid and far reaching change With keen historical awareness Ostry examines the role of key economic power brokers particularly the United States in the reconstruction and reconfiguration of an international economy after World War II She argues that U S policy efforts were so successful that they led to an unprecedented renewal of economic growth living standards and education levels in postwar Europe and Japan Ironically those same policy successes unintentionally fostered the relative decline of U S dominance on the world trade scene as the reduction of trade and investment barriers prompted friction and conflict between different kinds of capitalist systems Identifying the historical and legal issues key to postwar trade policy Ostry has commandingly charted our economic course through the last half of this century and perhaps into the next Sylvia Ostry knows this subject as few others do both as a scholar of international trade issues and a major player in the ongoing negotiations that have created the rules of the trade game The Post Cold War Trading System is a fine summary of where we've been and where we ought to be going Peter Passell economic scene columnist for The New York Times

The Power to Persuade

Angela Geck, 2024-06-03 The Power to Persuade provides an innovative and eye opening analysis of strategic arguing as a means of power in global politics Based on an empirical case study of arguing processes in the World Trade Organization WTO the book shows how discursive contexts institutional norms and procedures and unequal human resources condition who has the power to persuade While accounts of arguing in international relations are typically based on a notion of arguing as a power free mode of interaction oriented towards understanding Angela Geck shows how such an approach precludes the question of persuasive power Drawing on in depth interviews with Geneva diplomats and a document based analysis of the negotiations on two Doha Round issues the book examines the practices governing strategic arguing in the WTO and uncovers two sources of persuasive power firstly prevalent discourses and connected regime norms empower some actors over others secondly their ability to debate is conditioned by exclusionary procedures and unequal human resources Offering a grounded theory of strategic arguing in trade politics The Power to Persuade presents a novel analysis of the relationship between arguing and power Chinese (Taiwan) Yearbook of International Law and Affairs, Volume 27 (2009), 2020-02-03 The Chinese Taiwan Yearbook of International Law and Affairs commenced publication in 1981 under the auspices of the Chinese Taiwan Society of International Law The Yearbook publishes on multi disciplinary topics with a focus on international and comparative law issues regarding Taiwan Mainland China and the Asia Pacific region The Yearbook is one of the foremost publications in the world concentrating on issues of greater China Revitalizing the World Trading System Alan Wm Wolff, 2023-07-06 Considers the history of trade the current state of the World Trade Organization and how it should be reformed The Diplomatic System of the European Union Michael Smith, Stephan Keukeleire, Sophie Vanhoonacker, 2015-06-12 Over the past five years the EU has established a new system of diplomacy centred on the European External Action Service EEAS and the High Representative for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy This new system reflects a process of evolution in a changing context and has been faced by major challenges since its inception This book examines the diplomatic system of the EU locating it within the broader study of diplomacy and the European integration project The volume is structured around the interrelated themes of institutional change and the evolving practices of EU diplomacy It tracks the development of the EU s system of diplomacy with particular reference to the implementation of the Lisbon Treaty the establishment of the EEAS and the emerging practices of EU strategic and structural diplomacy Bringing together contributions from leading experts in the field this book provides an original approach to the development and operation of the EU s diplomatic system This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European Union international relations European Union politics and diplomacy The Future of South-South Economic Relations Adil Najam, Rachel Thrasher, 2012-12-13 In recent years it has become apparent that South South economic relations are increasing and will continue to do so There will be more trade agreements and more trade more economic alliances and more political alliances with economic goals more investment flows and an increasing acknowledgement that the Global South has more to offer than it has in the past These new economics relations have great potential both for harm and for good In the absence of directed policies and intentional actors imbalances of power and growing gaps in development will persist With the right policies in place however these relationships could forge a new global order with greater economic and political equality Covering a wide range of topics including regional trade integration in Africa the environmental impact of increased

South South trade the changing patterns of South South investment and the effect of conflict on trade in South Asia this ground breaking volume presents an analysis of South South economic relations and how they might impact and be impacted by the rest of the world European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2013 Christoph Herrmann,Markus Krajewski,Jörg Philipp Terhechte,2013-04-02 Part one of Volume 4 2013 of the European Yearbook of International Economic Law offers a special focus on recent developments in international competition policy and law International competition law has only begun to emerge as a distinct subfield of international economic law in recent years even though international agreements on competition co operation date back to the 1970s Competition law became a prominent subject of political and academic debates in the late 1990s when competition and trade were discussed as one of the Singapore issues in the WTO Today international competition law is a complex and multi layered system of rules and principles encompassing not only the external application of domestic competition law and traditional bilateral co operation agreements but also competition provisions in regional trade agreements and non binding guidelines and standards Furthermore the relevance of competition law for developing countries and the relationship between competition law and public services are the subject of heated debates The contributions to this volume reflect the growing diversity of the issues and elements of international competition law Part two presents analytical reports on the developments of the regional integration processes in North America Central Africa and Southeast Asia as well as on the treaty practice of the European Union Part three covers the legal and political developments in major international organizations that deal with international economic law namely the IMF WCO WTO WIPO ICSID and UNCTAD Lastly part four offers book reviews of recent works in the field of international economic law
