Neoliberalism and Education Systems in Conflict Khalid Arar, Deniz Örü, Jane Wilkinson, 2020-12-29 Neoliberalism and Education Systems in Conflict Exploring Challenges Across the Globe explores how neoliberal values are imprinted onto educational spaces and practices and by consequence fundamentally reshape how we come to understand the educational experience at the school or system level Countries across the globe struggle with the residual effects of increased accountability choice voucher systems and privatization The first section of the book discusses the direct imprint of neoliberal policies on educational spaces The next section examines the more indirect outcomes of neoliberalism including the challenges of inequity access violence racism and social justice issues as a result of neoliberal ideologies Each section of the book includes case studies about education systems across the globe including Britain Middle East Turkey United States China and Chile written by international contributors Neoliberalism and Education Systems in Conflict is essential reading for educators scholars and faculty of educational leadership and policy globally

Exploring School Leadership in England and the Caribbean Paul Miller, 2016-01-28 What drives school leaders What do they do on a day to day basis What helps or constrains their decision making What keeps them focused amidst challenges Rather than applying theory to practice Exploring School Leadership in England and the Caribbean draws on how school leaders practice and experience their own leadership Paul Miller draws on case studies from Jamaica and England to explore what it means to be a school leader and explores a wide range of issues including accountability performativity inclusion and multiculturalism technology staffing and resourcing decisions While no two school leaders will have identical experiences as a school leader Paul Miller draws on the first hand accounts of school leaders to show that regardless of school size type and location there are a number of common experiences and themes Miller acknowledges that the practice of school leadership is occurring in an uncertain economic environment buoyed by a fast paced policy context where by targets linked to national economic development are the new normal He concludes that school leadership is a continuous balancing act driven by and experienced through an Economic motor model of schooling which he proposes

Improving Schools in Exceptionally Challenging Circumstances Alma Harris, 2006-01-15 Discusses ways to have effective improvement programs in schools located in disadvantaged communities and includes case studies of schools with successful improvement programs

Exploring Education at Postgraduate Level Anne O'Grady, Vanessa Cottle, 2015-09-25 There is a growing demand for educational professionals to develop a more critical understanding of the key and emerging debates in education so that they can better meet the challenges and demands placed upon them Exploring Education at Postgraduate Level represents a range of perspectives from educational experts to academic researchers and highlights the key issues surrounding contemporary education Organised into three parts and drawing on key issues in education theory policy and practice the book considers areas such as SEN evaluating learning ESOL and gender Featuring reflective questions case studies and summaries of core ideas the chapters include Troublesome learning journey Applying educational thinkers to contemporary educational practice Values production through social and emotional learning Policy research In defence ad hocery We are all critically reflective now The politics of critical reflection in higher education and in the work place Developing critical thought about SEN The refuge of relativism Aimed at supporting students on Masters level courses this accessible but critically provocative text is an essential resource for those wishing to develop a more critical understanding of the role purpose and function of educational systems and practices

The Elusive What and the Problematic How, 2008-01-01 For the authors in this book there can be no valid excuses for ignorance in any aspect of education as theory practice That is If we come to learn that all educational problems involve knowledge of complex systems and processes then quick simple solutions should not be an educator's first or only expedient option If all education requires a measure of cultural and contextual understandings then uniform standardized programs and lessons will not meet the needs of all children or communities If educational change takes time and strenuous efforts to take hold then why do we abandon and restart reforms efforts year after year If educational practices are best performed by those closest to the problems then why do we not prepare and continuously develop teachers and administrators to grow intellectually and politically to make wise decisions If who a person is culturally and intellectually shapes who they are as educators then why are our recruitment selection induction and retention policies not influenced by this assumption If today s best practices have not taken careful note of successes in the past then how do we validly measure best practices in use today If one time standardized test scores are not adequate measures of a person s worth a teacher s competency or a school s value to its community then why do our policies and practices say otherwise Unfortunately our ignorance of the what and the how of education and educational leadership has persisted across contexts and history Why This book provides both theoretical and practical answers to these elusive and problematic issues
