Graphic Novels and Comics as World Literature James Hodapp, 2022-04-07 Graphic narratives are one of the world's great art forms but graphic novels and comics from Europe and the United States dominate scholarly conversations about them Building upon the little extant scholarship on graphic narratives from the Global South this collection moves beyond a narrow Western approach to this quickly expanding field By focusing on texts from the Middle East Africa Latin America and Asia these essays expand the study of graphic narratives to a global scale Graphic Novels and Comics as World Literature is also interested in how these texts engage with fit in with or complicate notions of World Literature The larger theoretical framework of World Literature is joined with the postcolonial decolonial Global South and similar approaches that argue explicitly or implicitly for the viability of non Western graphic narratives on their own terms Ultimately this collection explores the ways that the unique formal qualities of graphic narratives from the Global South intersect with issues facing the study of international literatures such as translation commodification circulation Orientalism and many others

The Value Gap Courtney Brannon Donoghue, 2023-08-08 How female directors producers and writers navigate the challenges and barriers facing female driven projects at each stage of filmmaking in contemporary Hollywood Conversations about gender equity in the workplace accelerated in the 2010s with debates inside Hollywood specifically pointing to broader systemic problems of employment disparities and exploitative labor practices. Compounded by the devastating MeToo revelations, these problems led to a wide scale call for change. The Value Gap traces female driven filmmaking across development, financing, production, film festivals, marketing and distribution, examining the realities facing women working in the industry during this transformative moment. Drawing from five years of extensive interviews with female producers, writers and directors at different stages of their careers, Courtney Brannon Donoghue examines how Hollywood business cultures value female driven projects as risky or not bankable. Industry claims that movies targeting female audiences don't make money or women can't direct big budget blockbusters have long circulated to rationalize systemic gender inequities and have served to normalize studios prioritizing the white male driven status quo. Through a critical media industry studies lens, The Value Gap challenges this pervasive logic with firsthand accounts of women actively navigating the male dominated and conglomerate owned industrial landscape.

The Charlie Hebdo Affair and Comparative Journalistic Cultures Lyombe Eko, 2019-11-14. The Charlie Hebdo terrorist attack of January 7, 2015 shook French journalism to the core and reverberated around the world, triggering a cascade of responses from journalists, media outlets, cartoonists and caricaturists from diverse geographies of freedom of expression and journalistic cultures. This book is a multifaceted case study that describes and explains sameness and difference in diverse journalistic conceptualizations of the Charlie Hebdo affair from a comparative international perspective. It explores how different journalistic traditions, cultures, worldviews and styles conceptualized and reacted to the clash between freedom of expression and respect for religious sentiments in the context of terrorism, where those sentiments are imposed on the media and secular societies through intimidation, coercion and violence. The book analyzes the political and cultural clashes between the core human right of freedom of expression and right of respect for religious sentiments, which is situated on the outer periphery of the human right of freedom of religion. It also examines how media outlets, editors and cartoonists from different politico-cultural contexts and journalistic cultures in Africa, Asia, Europe, the Middle East and North and South America addressed the delicate issue of Mohammed cartoons in general and the problem of re-publication of the controversial Charlie Hebdo 'Je Suis Charlie' Mohammed cartoon in particular.

Public Baths and Bathing Habits in Late Antiquity Sadi Maréchal, 2020-01-20. In this book, Sadi Maréchal examines the survival, transformation and eventual decline of Roman public baths and bathing habits in Italy, North Africa and Palestine during Late Antiquity. Through the analysis of archaeological remains, ancient literature, inscriptions and papyri, the continued importance of bathhouses as social hubs within the urban fabric is demonstrated, thus radically altering common misconceptions of their decline through the rise of Christianity and elite seclusion. Persistent ideas about health and hygiene, as well as perpetuating ideas of civic self-esteem, drove people to build, restore and praise these focal points of daily life when other classical buildings were left to crumble.

noirs blancs autochtones ou autres Winnipeg Free Press Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2003 The Rise of the Shame Society Marcel H. Van Herpen,2022-06-01 American society is often characterized as a guilt culture as opposed to non Western shame cultures But is this distinction still valid today Through examples like shaming penalties in criminal law fat shaming and cyberbullying on the social media The Rise of the Shame Society America's Change from a Guilt Culture into a Shame Culture shows how shame is increasingly invading our lives leading to feelings of humiliation and depression Marcel Van Herpen identifies three causes of this phenomenon new childrearing methods the advent of the social media and a transformation of Western individualism He weighs the arguments for and against a shame society and concludes that a guilt centered approach remains preferable Although shame increasingly permeates everyday life the author argues that its rise is not a fatality He emphasizes that shame is a dynamic phenomenon and that one can observe trends which lead to an increase of shame as well as to its decrease Examples of the latter are a growing sensitivity to the pain caused by anti Black racism the decrease of anti LGBTQIA prejudices and efforts to end the stigmatization of people with disabilities Along with exploring its increase The Rise of the Shame Society demonstrates that there are ways to overcome shame Gymnasia and Greek Identity in Ptolemaic Egypt Mario C.
