Division of Government in the Constitution

- Article I gives the legislative power to the government the right to make laws.

Along the number of members from the president that makes each branch.

The President

1. For the People of the United States, he shall be chosen a more perfect Union,

2. establish Justice,

3. insure domestic Tranquility,

4. provide for the common defense,

5. promote the general Welfare,

6. and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and future Generations.

He shall hold his Office for four Years.

This means that there will be a temporary power against each branch.

This means that the laws will be applied fairly to all.

This means that the government will be kept under within the country.

This means that the common people and future generations will have freedom.

This means that the Constitution will be kept under the people. It will be kept under in our lives and under the future of the country.

This means that the government will provide for the well being of all people.
