Tales of a Cosmic Possum Sheila Ingle, 2017-10-01 Sheila Ingle's husband John was brought up in Ingle Holler in Union South Carolina with eight other Ingle families. They worked together in the mills, shared their gardens, attended church, and enjoyed the playing and singing of the songs from the Grand Ole Opry. When five of the brothers went off to war, those who couldn't fight took care of their families. The Ingles stuck together just like they were taught in the Appalachian hills of Erwin, Tennessee. Love of God, love of family, and love of country were modelled in each home. In fact, one year, Make Ingle put his sons and grandsons together to build Hillside Baptist Church. Adults kept up with the newspapers and the radio; world happenings were important. Any type of sickness brought a barrage of soup and cornbread because children still had to eat. On those twenty acres, the children played in the creek, cowboys and Indians, and hide and seek. They built their own wagons and sleds to race down the hill on the dry hickory leaves. All the boys learned to shoot a .22 caliber, and John's mother Lois could light a match with her shots. Living in Ingle Holler was home where each one was accepted. The Athenaeum, 1910

Fragile Edge Maria Coffey, 2012-10-02 Maria Coffey's tale is at once a deeply personal love story and a penetrating look into the world of professional climbers. Such clarity and honesty are seldom seen in mountain writing. Greg Child, author of Postcards from the Ledge, critically acclaimed Fragile Edge won the coveted International Literary Mountain prize for Maria Coffey's eloquently written story of how climbing tragedies affect those who are left behind. This is a powerful story that describes how she survived the loss of her long-time partner, dealing with the sorrow and confusion, anger, and healing. With openness and honesty, Coffey describes her love affair with elite British mountaineer Joe Tasker, who perished with his climbing partner Peter Boardman while attempting Everest's then-unclimbed Northeast Ridge in 1982. She relives her experiences first within the hard-partying mountaineering scene and then during her long journey to understanding and acceptance of the tragedy that cost her the man she loved. She gives us an insider's view of the life of a world-class mountaineer and recounts her deeply moving pilgrimage with Boardman's widow across Tibet, a journey that retraced Tasker and Boardman's steps to their abandoned Advance Base Camp at 21,000 feet on Everest. Academy and Literature
