Golden Arches East Golden Arches East:

Golden Arches East James L. Watson, 2006-03-13 McDonald's restaurants are found in over 100 countries serving tens of millions of people each day. What are the cultural implications of this phenomenal success? The widely read and widely acclaimed Golden Arches East argues that McDonald's has largely become divorced from its American roots and become a local institution for an entire generation of affluent consumers in Hong Kong, Beijing, Taipei, Seoul, and Tokyo. In the second edition, James L. Watson also covers recent attacks on the fast food chain as a symbol of American imperialism and the company's role in the obesity controversy currently raging in the U.S. food industry, bringing the story of East Asian franchises into the twenty-first century. Praise for the First Edition: Golden Arches East is a fascinating study that explores issues of globalization by focusing on the role of McDonald's in five Asian economies and concludes that in many countries McDonald's has been absorbed by local communities and become assimilated so that it is no longer thought of as a foreign restaurant and in some ways no longer functions as one. Nicholas Kristof, New York Times Book Review. This is an important book because it shows accurately and with subtlety how transnational culture emerges. It must be read by anyone interested in globalization. It is concise enough to be used for courses in anthropology and Asian studies. Joseph Bosco, China Journal. The strength of this book is that the contributors contextualize not just the food side of McDonald's but the social and cultural activity on which this culture is embedded. These are culturally rich stories from the anthropology of everyday life. Paul Noguchi, Journal of Asian Studies. Here is the rare academic study that belongs in every library. Library Journal. Golden Arches East James L. Watson, 1997

Fleet Management and Logistics Teodor G. Crainic, Gilbert Laporte, 1998-06-30 TEODOR GABRIEL CRAINIC, DIRECTOR The Centre for Research on Transportation (C.R.T.) was founded in 1971 by the Université de Montréal. From 1988 on, it is jointly managed by the Université de Montréal and its affiliated schools, the École des Hautes Études Commerciales and École Polytechnique. Professors, students, and researchers from many institutions in the Montréal area join forces at the C.R.T. to analyze transportation logistics and telecommunication systems from a multidisciplinary perspective. The C.R.T. pursues three major complementary objectives: training of high-level specialists, the advancement of knowledge and technology, the transfer of technology towards industry and the public sector. Its main field of expertise is the development of quantitative and computer-based models and methods for the analysis of urban, regional, and intercity transportation networks as well as telecommunication systems. This applies to the study of passenger and commodity flows as well as to the socioeconomic aspects of transportation policy, regulation, economics. The twenty-fifth anniversary of the C.R.T. offered the opportunity to evaluate past accomplishments and to identify future trends and challenges. Five colloquia were thus organized on major research and application themes that also reflected our main research areas. They gathered together internationally renowned researchers who linked recent scientific and technological advances to modeling and methodological challenges waiting to be tackled, particularly concerning new problems and applications and the increasingly widespread use of new technologies The McDonaldization of Society 6 George Ritzer, 2011 As one of the most noteworthy and popular sociology books of all time The McDonaldization of Society 6 demonstrates the power of the sociological imagination to 21st century undergraduates in a way that few other books have This engaging work of social criticism is praised for sparking debate in and out of the classroom and for allowing students to read in depth on a small number of fascinating topics and it vividly demonstrates the relevance of Weber's discussion of rationalization the basis of McDonaldization to the everyday life of today's student New and Retained Features Links a large number of social phenomena to McDonaldization some which are directly impacted by the principles of the fast food chain and others where the effect is more tenuous A new final chapter 10 on The DeMcDonaldization of Society examines the processes of deMcDonaldization and concludes that while it is occurring on the surface McDonaldization is alive and well for example in the structures that underlie Web 2.0 Many new and updated examples are from the digital world keeping the text ultimately relevant for the contemporary student reader Addresses the advantages of McDonaldization then focuses on the problems and dangers it poses and looks at efforts to deal with those challenges Examines the link between McDonaldization and globalization Challenges the reader to rethink McDonaldization as part of the structure of society and to act to reverse the trend towards it Middle Class Shanghai Cheng Li, 2021-05-11 The United States may be headed toward a disastrous conflict with China unless Washington updates its understanding of contemporary Chinese society After four decades of engagement the United States and China now appear to be locked on a collision course that has already fomented a trade war seems likely to produce a new cold war and could even result in dangerous military conflict The current deterioration of the bilateral relationship is the culmination of years of disputes disillusionment disappointment and distrust between the two countries Washington has legitimate concerns about Beijing's excessive domestic political control and aggressive foreign policy stances just as Chinese leaders believe the United States still has futile designs on blocking their country's inevitable rise to great power status Cheng Li's Middle Class Shanghai argues that American policymakers must not lose sight of the expansive dynamism and diversity in present day China The caricature of the PRC as a monolithic Communist apparatus set on exporting its ideology and development model is simplistic and misguided Drawing on empirical research in the realms of higher education avant garde art architecture and law this unique study highlights the strong constructive impact of bilateral exchanges Combining eclectic human stories with striking new data analysis this book addresses the possibility that the development of China's class structure and cosmopolitan culture exemplified and led by Shanghai could provide a force for reshaping U.S.-China engagement Both countries should build upon the deep cultural and educational exchanges that have bound them together for decades The author concludes that U.S. policymakers should neither underestimate the role and strength of the Chinese middle class nor ostracize or alienate this force with policies that push it toward jingoistic nationalism to the detriment of both countries and the global community With its unique focus this book will enlighten policymakers scholars business leaders and anyone interested in China and its increasingly fraught relations with the United States

Pink Globalization Christine R. Yano, 2013-04-29 In Pink Globalization Christine R Yano examines the creation and rise of Hello Kitty as a part of Japanese Cute Cool culture Yano argues that the international popularity of Hello Kitty is one aspect of what she calls pink globalization the spread of goods and images labeled cute kawaii from Japan to other parts of the industrial world The concept of pink globalization connects the expansion of Japanese companies to overseas markets the enhanced distribution of Japanese products and the rise of Japan's national cool as suggested by the spread of manga and anime Yano analyzes the changing complex of relations and identities surrounding the global reach of Hello Kitty's cute culture discussing the responses of both ardent fans and virulent detractors Through interviews Yano shows how consumers use this iconic cat to negotiate gender nostalgia and national identity She demonstrates that pink globalization allows the foreign to become familiar as it brings together the intimacy of cute and the distance of cool Hello Kitty and her entourage of marketers and consumers wink giddily suggesting innocence sexuality irony sophistication and even sheer happiness Yano reveals the edgy power in this wink and the ways it can overturn or at least challenge power structures

Accommodating the Chinese Michelle Campbell Renshaw, 2005-04-02 This in depth comparative study demonstrates that the hospital established in China its planning and architecture financing and all aspects of day to day operation differed from its counterpart at home These differences were never due to a single or even dominant cause They were a result of a complex process involving accommodation appreciation negotiation opportunism and pragmatism

Global Advertising, Attitudes, and Audiences Tony Wilson, 2013-09-05 Global Advertising Attitudes and Audiences is a post McDonaldization view of marketing power consumer pleasure and audience protest The psychological process wherein consumers actively make sense of advertising and branding and integrate them with living is fundamentally important in thinking about their responses to product sold on screen This wide ranging book draws on forty years of media and marketing theory to present a precise perception of that process a seven stage model of moments in media marketing reception Local understandings of global branding and marketing content traveling often from West to East is the main focus of Global Advertising Attitudes and Audiences Drawing from diverse reception studies of creative consumption Tony Wilson develops a philosophical psychology of purchasing testing theory against shared consumer responses in online blogospheres and offline interviews Successive chapters interpret reception of banking fast food national telecommunications and university global branding by Chinese Indian and Islamic Malay consumers in multi cultural Malaysia an Anglophone gateway to S E Asia These studies are used to illustrate how people view the worlds constructed by product branding

The Consumer Revolution in Urban China Deborah Davis, 2000-01-20 This wide ranging collection of essays by leading sociologists on the new consumerism of post economic reform China is an important contribution to our understanding of Chinese society and culture

Displacing Desire Beth E. Notar, 2006-10-31 Why do millions of people from around the world flock to Dali a small borderland town in the Himalayan foothills of southwest China Lonely planeters American European and Israeli backpackers named for the guidebook they carry trek halfway across the globe to get off the beaten track yet converge here to drink coffee eat banana pancakes and share music from home Coastal Chinese who are prospering in the phenomenal economic growth of China's reform era travel thousands of miles to sing songs and dress up as their favorite characters from a revolutionary era movie musical Overseas Chinese from Southeast Asia as well as a new generation of mainland youth follow in the footsteps of heroes and villains from Hong Kong martial arts novels seeking an experience of a Buddhist wild wild West at a martial arts theme park dubbed Hollywood East or Daliwood Inspired by representations in popular culture that engender fantasies of the exotic these tourists Western and Chinese journey to Dali Yunnan in search of an imagined place where they can indulge their craving for authenticity display their status in the present and act out their nostalgia for the past Based on more than a decade of ethnographic research Beth Notar explores struggles over place as people in Dali attempt to represent their historical identity and define their future Displacing Desire takes representation into the realm of practice to consider the ways in which those who are represented must contend with their image in popular culture and the material after effects of representations even decades after their original production It contributes to an exploration of travel as performance of nostalgia fantasy and status More specifically it contributes to an understanding of the growth of consumer culture in China examining what China's modernization process and market economy mean for different social actors in their struggles over power and place

Religion and Global Culture Jennifer I. M. Reid, 2003-02-22 Religion and Global Culture draws together the work of a group of historians of religion who are concerned with situating the contemporary study of religion within the cultural complexity of the modern world The writing of each of the volume's contributors relates to the work of leading historian of religion Charles H Long who has identified religious meanings in the contacts and exchanges of the colonial and postcolonial periods Together with Long these scholars explore religious practices in a variety of globalized contexts chapters consider such varied subjects as the rituals of African immigrant communities in the United States the making of Mohawk sweet grass and black ash baskets the religious experience of prisoners in the Nazi holding camp of Westerbork and the regional repercussions of contemporary multi national business By locating religion in the conflicted and cooperative relationships of the colonial and postcolonial periods Religion and Global Culture calls on scholars of religion to reconfigure their interpretive stances from the perspective of the material structures of the modern globalized world

Chinese Lesbian Cinema Liang Shi, 2014-10-23 The emergence of lesbian film in the first decade of the twenty first century symbolizes a breakthrough through the creation of new cinema that opens up a space that was not previously available or accessible in China These motion pictures present a new breed of characters namely lesbians as well as a new sexual subject on the screen for the first time in the history of Chinese cinema Blending historicist and comparative approaches this book begins with a critical genealogy of Chinese homosexual traditions in the first two chapters This strategy allows the author to examine a number of films individually through contextualizing their historical and cultural articulations and interpretations through the remainder of the book

The Globalization of Israel Uri Ram, 2013-10-18 This book focuses on how globalization is impacting contemporary Israel It is a concise and originally argued introduction to Israel but the author Uri Ram is careful to frame his analysis in a broader discussion of Israeli history and broader social currents Focusing in particular on two defining and conflicting contemporary trends one toward advanced liberal democracy with a cosmopolitan edge and the other toward ethno religious traditionalism and rejection of the secularism associated with market driven globalization The cosmopolitan high tech driven city of Tel Aviv represents the former trend and Jerusalem a city increasingly dominated by orthodox Jews represents the latter Using Benjamin Barber's Jihad versus McWorld thesis to good effect Ram's book will stand as an ideal introduction to contemporary Israel and its place in the world

The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott, Warren Belasco, Peter Jackson, 2013-08-15 The last 20 years have seen a burgeoning of social scientific and historical research on food The field has drawn in experts to investigate topics such as the way globalisation affects the food supply what cookery books can and cannot tell us changing understandings of famine the social meanings of meals and many more Now sufficiently extensive to require a critical overview this is the first handbook of specially commissioned essays to provide a tour d horizon of this broad range of topics and disciplines The editors have enlisted eminent researchers across the social sciences to illustrate the debates concepts and analytic approaches of this widely diverse and dynamic field This volume will be essential reading a ready to hand reference book surveying the state of the art for anyone involved in and actively concerned about research on the social political economic psychological geographic and historical aspects of food It will cater for all who need to be informed of research that has been done and that is being done

Globaloney Michael Veseth, 2005 Veseth separates rhetoric from reality by taking close ups of classic globalization images and comparing them with unexpected alternative visions

Globalization Frank J. Lechner, 2009-03-16 GLOBALIZATION Lechner has drawn on his extensive work on and his deep knowledge of globalization to write a brief accessible and highly successful introduction to the field The early chapters on food sport and mass media should pique the student's interest and lure them into a deeper involvement with later chapters and the field in general George Ritzer University of Maryland Frank Lechner's text takes on key issues in the study of globalization with real clarity and critical power An authoritative account of the major issues theories and debates in the field aptly illustrated by diverse contemporary examples this text offers a clear analysis of a complex topic that will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars Fran Tonkiss London School of Economics Written in a lively and accessible style Globalization The Making of World Society shows how globalization affects everyday experience creates new institutions and presents new challenges With many examples Lechner describes how the process unfolds in a wide range of fields from sports and media to law and religion While sketching the outlines of a world society in the making the book also demonstrates that globalization is inherently diverse and contentious In this concise analysis of a complex subject Lechner presents some of the best work in the social sciences in clear and readable fashion Globalization The Making of World Society will serve as a stimulating state of the art text for any student of globalization beginner or advanced Between Mecca and Beijing Maris Boyd

Gillette,2000 Between Mecca and Beijing examines how a community of urban Chinese Muslims uses consumption to position its members more favorably within the Chinese government's official paradigm for development Residents of the old Muslim district in the ancient Chinese capital of Xi'an belong to an official minority the Hui nationality that has been classified by the state as backward in comparison to China's majority Han population Though these Hui urbanites like the vast majority of Chinese citizens accept the assumptions about social evolution upon which such labels are based they actively reject the official characterization of themselves as less civilized and modern than the Han majority By selectively consuming goods and adopting fashions they regard as modern and non Chinese which include commodities and styles from both the West and the Muslim world these Chinese Muslims seek to demonstrate that they are capable of modernizing without the guidance or assistance of the state In so doing they challenge one of the fundamental roles the Chinese Communist government has claimed for itself that of guide and purveyor of modernity Through a detailed study of the daily life eating habits dress styles housing marriage and death rituals religious practices education family organization of the Hui inhabitants of Xi'an the author explores the effects of a state sponsored ideology of progress on an urban Chinese Muslim neighborhood

Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke

Lloyd,2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this Content INTRODUCTION by Arma an Teke Lloyd PART A
