Children's Literature in Hitler's Germany Christa Kamenetsky, 2019-06-17 Between 1933 and 1945 National Socialists enacted a focused effort to propagandize children's literature by distorting existing German values and traditions with the aim of creating a homogenous folk community A vast censorship committee in Berlin oversaw the publication revision and distribution of books and textbooks for young readers exercising its control over library and bookstore content as well as over new manuscripts so as to redirect the cultural consumption of the nation's children In particular the Nazis emphasized Nordic myths and legends with a focus on the fighting spirit of the saga heroes their community loyalty and a fierce spirit of revenge elements that were then applied to the concepts of loyalty to and sacrifice for the Führer and the fatherland They also tolerated select popular series even though these were meant to be replaced by modern Hitler Youth camping stories In this important book first published in 1984 and now back in print Christa Kamenetsky demonstrates how Nazis used children's literature to selectively shape a Nordic Germanic worldview that was intended to strengthen the German folk community the Führer and the fatherland by imposing a racial perspective on mankind Their efforts corroded the last remnants of the Weimar Republic's liberal education while promoting an enthusiastic following for Hitler

Criticisms, 1846-99 Eduard Hanslick,1963      Navy Gray Maxine T. Turner,1999 The story of the Confederate Navy been told less often than the spectacular history of the armies but many of the familiar elements are there the exuberant hopes of the Confederacy the risk in spite of very long odds against success the basic deficits in resources becoming desperate needs and the dogged exhausted persistence in the face of certain defeat The story is epic in its importance to a nation and a people New strategies and developing technology however introduce new elements into this story of the Civil War The officers and men of the Confederate Navy were defeated at every turn by a national policy and a local tangle of political economic and social issues Southern officers resigned their Union Navy commissions to fight for principle and soon found themselves enmeshed in construction schedules and bureaucratic delays All too often naval officers on both sides found themselves engaged in what is now termed modern warfare In this story of the Civil War the phrase arms and the man begins to take on the contemporary ring of man and machine and man within and against the system      The Literary World ,1886
