Production and Processing of Healthy Meat, Poultry and Fish Products A.M. Pearson, T.R. Dutson, 2013-03-09 The central theme for this volume was chosen since consumers have great interest in purchasing low fat low salt and reduced cholesterol meat poultry and fish products As in past volumes experts in the field have been chosen to write chapters with emphasis on their breadth of knowledge in each specific area Efforts were also made to obtain authors from different countries in order to give the book a worldwide perspective Chapter I stresses the nutritional and sensory properties that meat poultry and fish products make to healthful diets and discusses consumer concerns about these products Chapter 2 covers dietary recommendations in major consumer nations along with data from food composition tables and the dietary contributions of meat poultry and fish to meeting dietary needs Chapter 3 discusses the labeling of low and reduced fat salt products which although written mainly from the US viewpoint may serve as a model for labeling in other countries Chapter 4 reviews the rationale for reducing fat energy levels in muscle foods problems encountered in their production and how these may be solved Chapter 5 discusses the scientific basis for reducing the salt sodium content in food products and the health benefits derived from lowering salt intake Methods of reducing the cholesterol content of these animal products is reviewed in Chapter 6

Catalog Food and Nutrition Information Center (U.S.), 1974 Non-Thermal Processing Technologies for the Meat, Fish, and Poultry Industries M. Selvamuthukumaran, Sajid Maqsood, 2023-10-02 Processed products obtained from meat fish and poultry play a predominant role ascribed to their nutritional profile and sensory characteristics Usually these products are highly perishable and therefore the food industry used traditional thermal methods of heat processing in order to extend the stability of the product to the greatest extent But this traditional method has several disadvantages including undesirable changes in organoleptic characteristics denaturation of the good quality of animal proteins and degradation of several nutritional components Non Thermal Processing Technologies for the Meat Fish and Poultry Industries addresses stability enhancement of meat fish and poultry processed products by implementing a non thermal approach Currently there are several innovative non thermal processing techniques available that can be adopted for enhancing the safety quality of these foods This book presents the various non thermal processing techniques that can be successfully applied to this processing industry including high pressure processing ultrasound irradiation and pulse electric fields It explains how these processes can significantly minimize quality changes without posing any threat to the consumer These techniques can be replaced for traditional thermal processing techniques viz roasting frying boiling and grilling This
