Resources in Education, 1996 Transformative Learning in Healthcare and Helping Professions Education Teresa J. Carter, Carrie J. Boden, Kathy Peno, 2019-05-01 Transformative Learning in Healthcare and Helping Professions Education Building Resilient Professional Identities is a co edited book Carter Boden and Peno with invited chapters from educators who share our passion for learning in healthcare and the helping professions The purpose of the book is to introduce professional learners students residents and others in professional training to transformative learning for building resilient professional identities amid practice environments that include widespread burnout and compassion fatigue With a diverse set of authors engaged in clinical and educational practice in academic medicine nursing dentistry physical therapy mental health counseling science education psychology social work and inter professional collaborative practice we offer strategies for building resilience throughout the years of professional training and into professional practice We do so through the experiences of authors involved in healthcare and the helping professions to illustrate how some are coping with the challenges of burnout and compassion fatigue through learning that can be transformative This book explores the nature of professional identity formation by examining ways that professionals in training can thrive amid the challenges of today's stressful practice environments First hand stories of resilience illustrate how learners as well as educators in these professions are addressing adversity career decision making service to the underserved and the self care needed to provide excellent care for others The prominence of transformative learning within adult learning theory is illustrated for its potential to revise the meaning that learners make of their experiences and open up new possibilities for renewed vitality in professional education and practice environments The book has two primary audiences professional learners in healthcare and helping professions education and their educators who are often professional practitioners themselves These educators have a significant role in influencing the next generation of professionals by serving as mentors role models and teachers The importance of fostering learning that is transformative has never been more important than it is today for those who will work in these demanding professions We invite readers to discover experiences and strategies for achieving individual wellbeing as well as opportunities for building a culture within professional education and practice settings that will foster resilience

Relational Mindfulness Roberto Aristegui, Javier Garcia Campayo, Patricio Barriga, 2021-03-25 This book proposes a new approach to mindfulness based interventions presenting them not as individual but as relational practices In the last decades mindfulness has exerted a growing influence on many fields of research and activity but always as an individual practice The authors in this volume believe that the strong development of mindfulness today implies considering a dialogue between this individualistic approach and the perspective of relational mindfulness based on social constructionism The volume is organized in two parts The first part focuses on the theoretical foundations of relational mindfulness The second part presents possibilities of applications of relational mindfulness in clinical and organizational settings to promote mental health and personal development Relational Mindfulness Fundamentals and Applications will be of interest to a wide range of professionals interested in applying mindfulness based interventions in mental health care and productive organizations such as clinical and health psychologists public health professionals and human resources analysts and consultants among others It is true that the metaphor of mindfulness has been enormously fruitful in its invitation to innovate By removing meditative practices from their ancient roots practitioners were free to create practices especially relevant to context At the same time there was also a recognizable loss in the profoundly rich heritage that was left behind For many of us the greatest loss resulted from the absorption of such practices into Western individualism What had once been an orientation to practice emphasizing our fundamental inter being had become a gateway to silent separation It is in this context that the present volume bursts into significance With special appreciation to the editors of this book we are treated to a multi dimensional exploration into the relational dimensions of mindfulness practices Bringing ideas experience and wisdom from across professions and across continents the contributors open an exciting path to the future Excerpt from the Foreword by Kenneth J Gergen

The Educational Leader's Guide to Improvement Science Robert Crow, Brandi Nicole Hinnant-Crawford, Dean T. Spaulding, 2019-05-23

The Educational Leader's Guide to Improvement Science Data Design and Cases for Reflection is a collection illustrating applied organizational problem solving using methods of improvement science in educational leadership. Early chapters introduce improvement science and then the reader is led through a logical sequence of inquiry presented with cases of educational dilemma matched with principles of improvement science and provided examples of research methodology applied in context. Because improvement science research is so quickly becoming a signature pedagogy and core subject area of inquiry in the field of educational leadership the literature is still scant in its coverage of improvement science models it is the purpose of this publication to fill the void by providing concrete examples through case studies of instances where improvement research methods and analyses can be embedded to enhance and strengthen efforts at organizational improvement. This text concentrates on the elements faculty students and administrators need specific models where improvement science frameworks enhance the reliability and validity of improvement or quality enhancement efforts. Perfect for courses such as Introduction to Improvement Science Seminar Practicum in Educational Leadership Introduction to Program Evaluation Educational Research for Administrators Action Research for School Practitioners Educational Research School Improvement and Teacher Leadership.
