

QUESTIONING THE TEXT

Questioning is a skill that every student should develop and use to become a more effective learner.

There are many ways to develop this skill, and one way is to use the following questions:

- 1. What is the main idea of the text?
- 2. What evidence do you have to support this?
- 3. What is the author's purpose in writing this?
- 4. What is the author's point of view?

These are some of the questions that you should ask yourself as you read a text. They are not meant to be answered in a simple "yes" or "no" way, but rather to help you think more deeply about the text.

By asking these questions, you are able to see the text from a different perspective. You are able to see the author's purpose and point of view, and you are able to see the evidence that the author uses to support his or her claims.
