  Space and Organizational Considerations in Academic Library Partnerships and Collaborations Doherty, Brian,2016-04-25 A vital component of any academic institution libraries are held to and expected to maintain certain standards In order to meet these standards and better accommodate the student and faculty body they serve many libraries are recognizing the benefit of forging relationships with other professional and academic entities Space and Organizational Considerations in Academic Library Partnerships and Collaborations is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly research on and methods for utilizing existing spaces within libraries to facilitate collection development in addition to discussions on how on campus and off campus partnerships can assist in this endeavor Focusing on issues related to faculty and researcher collaborations collection management and professional development this book is ideally designed for administrators librarians academicians MLIS students and information professionals   Cyber Behavior: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2014-04-30 Following the migration of workflows data and communication to the Cloud and other Internet based frameworks interaction over the Web has become ever more commonplace As with any social situation there are rules and consequences to actions within a virtual environment Cyber Behavior Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications explores the role of cyberspace in modern communication and interaction including considerations of ethics crime security and education With chapters on a variety of topics and concerns inherent to a contemporary networked society this multi volume work will be of particular interest to students and academicians as well as software developers computer scientists and specialists in the field of Information Technologies   Deep Active Learning Kayo Matsushita,2017-09-12 This is the first book to connect the concepts of active learning and deep learning and to delineate theory and practice through collaboration between scholars in higher education from three countries Japan the United States and Sweden as well as different subject areas education psychology learning science teacher training dentistry and business It is only since the beginning of the twenty first century that active learning has become key to the shift from teaching to learning in Japanese higher education However active learning in Japan as in many other countries is just an umbrella term for teaching methods that promote students active participation such as group work discussions presentations and so on What is needed for students is not just active learning but deep active learning Deep learning focuses on content and quality of learning whereas active learning especially in Japan focuses on methods of learning Deep active learning is placed at the intersection of active learning and deep learning referring to learning that engages students with the world as an object of learning while interacting with others and helps the students connect what they are learning with their previous knowledge and experiences as well as their future lives What curricula pedagogies assessments and learning environments facilitate such deep active learning This book attempts to respond to that question by linking theory with practice   Working Together Mary M. Somerville,2009 Reveals progressive insights developed over a six year period while serving as Assistant Dean at California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo Associate Dean at San Jos State University and University Librarian at the University of Colorado Denver Page vi 610 20 aRobert E Kennedy Library vCase studies   Collaboration and the Academic Library Jeremy Atkinson,2018-02-01 Collaboration and the Academic Library Internal and External Local and Regional National and International explores the considerable change that has affected universities and academic libraries in recent years Given this complex and important context it is clear that the academic library increasingly needs to operate in partnership with its users and other professionals and organizations to be successful in meeting the needs of its clientele Academic librarians need to work closely with client groups so that services are relevant and close partnerships with other professionals need to be forged to provide seamless services for users The book looks at all aspects of collaboration affecting academic libraries both internally and externally to help the reader understand future directions for collaborative activities in a complex and difficult working environment Considers collaboration issues affecting academic libraries Covers both internal and external collaboration Provides readers with direction for collaborative activities Shows how academic librarians can work with client groups to keep services relevant   Third-Space Exploration in Education Kaye, Candace,Haynes Writer, Jeanette,2023-08-07 The third space can simultaneously be a safe haven for experimentation and creativity and a risky space in which there is likely to be contestation and uncertainty Understanding the strategic role in examining and activating third spaces is necessary which applies not only to organizations that seek to apply the contemporary concept of third space in either digital or face to face settings but also to individuals who exist as actors in third space environments These organizations and individuals often have to perform outside of the first space a dominant social or settler colonial identity group Third Space Exploration in Education investigates the knowledge relationships legitimacies and languages that problematize and accommodate the paradoxes tensions and possibilities at the heart of understanding education related third space environments The book is useful in providing insights and support for readers concerned with the creation management negotiation or reconceptualization of expertise knowledge information and organizational development within culturally diverse third space communities and environments This reference work is ideal for audiences in various disciplines centering on education as well as interdisciplinary areas or areas that can relate to education such as ethnic studies sociology psychology medicine technology and business   Assessing Library Space for Learning Susan E. Montgomery,2017-08-01 With the surge in electronic access to the library s resources there has been an ongoing discussion about the need for a physical library building On a college or university campus the library is a destination for its users Students faculty and staff go to the library for various reasons Their usage makes the academic library a valuable learning space on campus However not much is known about how the library space contributes to user learning In Assessing Library Space for Learning chapters discuss library usage at academic institutions and how that usage is an integral part of the student learning experience Included are the perspectives of an architect who is tasked with designing library spaces with learning in mind a psychologist whose professional research focuses on the concept of place and a dynamic group of academic librarians who are dedicated to making the library conducive to the needs of their learners This book is a combination of theory practical and research based chapters with an overall focus on the intersection of library space and learning The authors demonstrate the importance of the library space in our users lives In addition the authors discuss the importance of determining ways to learn how library space contributes to user learning Readers will gain an understanding of the library space as a valuable learning space and the steps librarians need to take to assess learning in the academic library Meeting the Needs of Student Users in Academic Libraries Michele Crump,LeiLani Freund,2012-10-04 Meeting the Needs of Student Users in Academic Libraries surveys and evaluates the current practice of learning commons and research services within the academic library community in order to determine if these learning spaces are functioning as intended To evaluate their findings the authors examine the measurement tools that libraries have used to evaluate usage and satisfaction including contemporary anthropological studies that provide a more detailed view of the student s approach to research The book takes a candid look at these redesigns and asks if improvements have lived up to expectations of increased service and user satisfaction Are librarians using these findings to inform the evolution and implementation of new service models or have they simply put a new shade of lipstick on the pig Takes an honest look at learning commons in academic libraries and discusses what is working and what is not Explores behind the statistics as to why users come to the library does the librarians concept of the library as place match user perception Looks at the anthropology of the user to gauge satisfaction with the services and space provided by the library via recent survey findings Exploring Informal Learning Space in the University Graham Walton,Graham Matthews,2017-09-01 Growing student numbers increased student expectations new approaches to learning and fast paced technological advances all contribute to the need for universities to take a more strategic approach to their buildings including formal and informal learning spaces Exploring Informal Learning Space in the University addresses the issue of informal learning space from the perspectives of a comprehensive range of stakeholders including students academics facilities managers university managers IT managers architects interior designers and librarians With contributions from a range of experts practitioners and academics around the world this book uses a combination of case studies and theoretical discussion to explore the rationale and theory of informal learning space alongside the practicalities of its planning development and utilization The volume is at once ambitious and pragmatic combining innovative thinking with a firm awareness of practicalities including the varied constraints faced by universities and the need to work in tandem with broader strategies Advocating broad collaboration at both planning and delivery stage the result is essential reading for anyone involved in the delivery of learning space provision from architects and designers to university managers and strategists It will also be of particular interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of library information science or higher education policy and strategy
