Resources in Education ,2001-04 Motivating Students to Learn Jere E. Brophy,2010-05-26 Written specifically for teachers this book offers a wealth of research based principles for motivating students to learn Its focus on motivational principles rather than motivation theorists or theories leads naturally into discussion of specific classroom strategies Throughout the book these principles and strategies are tied to the realities of contemporary schools and classrooms The author employs an eclectic approach to motivation that shows how to effectively integrate the use of extrinsic and intrinsic strategies Guidelines are provided for adapting motivational principles to group and individual differences and for doing repair work with students who have become discouraged or disaffected learners Research in Education ,1974

Resources in Education ,1997 Helping Students who Struggle with Math and Science Dennis Adams,Mary Hamm,2008 This book provides teachers with research based and standards driven techniques that are especially useful for reaching all students in the classroom Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham,Gary A. Troia,Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar,2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature Foundation of Eduspace, Eighth Edition, Custom Publication Ornstein,2002-08 American Book Publishing Record ,2004 Learning Mathematics in Elementary and Middle Schools W. George Cathcart,2001 Text is appropriate for courses in Mathematics for the Elementary School Built on the foundation of the new 2000 NCTM Principles and Standards this major new entry for K 8 math methods has impacted the market because of its point of use links to the standards and its emphasis on the importance of a child centered approach creating a learning environment that informs teachers how to support children as they build understandings of math concepts Designed to be neither skimpy nor exhaustive this text presents theory in an accessible manner and models a wealth of practical activities for teaching Five videos from the Annenberg CPB TEACHING MATH video series bring real classrooms to life for teachers and are integrated into the text as four color resourceful inserts
