Elearning Theories & Designs Awatef Bouledroua, 2021-01-12 eLearning Theories Designs is a tailored book for new learners and practitioners in the field of blended education The book presents a holistic view of how to implement learning theories while you design your learning It allows the reader to swing between different theories while put into practice especially for the new learners in instructional design who can gather from the practices and case studies valuable information on how to approach their designs it also explains how communities of practice can have an impact on people s learning and how to transform such communities into schools for the enhancement of after school activities Therefore teachers can also benefit from the book as many parts of it are considering course designs and techniques on how to implement good practices in blended learning environments including feedback engagement and motivation The Chapters of the book go from simple theories and approaches put into practice for simple course designs then they expand into expertise techniques like needs assessment writing LPOs and learning modules to end up with program design and evaluation

eLearning Engagement in a Transformative Social Learning Environment Crawford, Caroline M., Simons, Melissa A., 2021-06-17 Distance learning and remote learning have been developing options within the eLearning and talent training realms for over two decades yet distance learning has become a significant reality within the past few months especially as the COVID 19 pandemic has forever impacted the K 12 higher education and adult training and talent development workforce solutions Within the rapid shift into remote and distance learning environments the curricular design and instructional design are understood as necessary. However, there is a need to understand aspects around social learning within eLearning environments. It is important to understand the opportunity of moving towards transformative social learning, environmental engagement and experiences within distance and remote learning environments to improve the ability to understand social learning in eLearning environments. eLearning Engagement in a Transformative Social Learning Environment focuses on supporting and enhancing remote and distance learning, eLearning instructional experiences, discusses the strategic role of social learning within eLearning environments and enhances levels of engagement, transformative learning and talent attainment environments. This book provides insights and support towards policies and procedures within instructional and training decision making around social learning needs and support. The chapters will explore social learning opportunities and support modeling social learning engagement communities of practice and instructional processes of eLearning. The intended audience is teachers, curriculum developers, instructional designers, professionals, researchers, practitioners and students working in the field of teaching, training and talent development.

The SAGE Handbook of E-learning Research Caroline Haythornthwaite, Richard Andrews, Jude Fransman, Eric M. Meyers, 2016-05-09. The new edition of The SAGE Handbook of E Learning Research retains the original effort of the first edition by focusing on research while capturing the leading edge of e learning development and practice. Chapters focus on areas of development in e learning technology, theory, practice, pedagogy and method of analysis. Covering the full extent of e learning can be a challenge as developments and new features appear daily. The editors of this book meet this challenge by including contributions from leading researchers in areas that have gained a sufficient critical mass to provide reliable results and practices. The 25 chapters are organised into six key areas: 1 THEORY, 2 LITERACY LEARNING, 3 METHODS, 4 PERSPECTIVES, 5 PEDAGOGY PRACTICE, 6 BEYOND THE CLASSROOM, 6 FUTURES.

Preparing Learners for e-Learning George M. Piskurich, 2004-02-01. Designed for anyone charged with making e learning really work. Preparing Learners for e Learning presents a variety of methods business organizations and educational institutions can use to prepare their learners to become successful e learners. This first of its kind book helps trainers, designers and educators understand the importance of enhancing self directedness in learners as they prepare for e learning and the various learning theories that can be used for this purpose. It then guides e learning professionals through the process of creating interventions specific to their own individual situations that will assist their learners in preparing for the move to an e learning environment.
