Learning Work Turning Work And Lifelong Learning Inside Out:

Learning/work Linda Cooper, Shirley Walters, 2009 We are living through a daunting yet fascinating period in which the global economy increasingly challenges the accepted dichotomies between home life and work life between employment and unemployment paid work and unpaid work This calls for serious analysis of how knowledge is generated both formally and informally in workplaces as diverse as the factory the field or the street It raises questions about what forms of learning and training are involved how they articulate with one another and what practical and theoretical implications this has for our societies In this book 34 leading scholars from 10 countries challenge established understandings of lifelong learning and work with several arguing that work and lifelong learning need to be turned inside out through a rigorous critique of underlying social relations and practices so that we understand the power relations that shape learning work possibilities In various ways all of the 25 chapters that make up this volume are infused with imaginings of alternative futures which prioritise social justice and sustainability for the majority in the world Publisher's website

Inquiry into the Future of Lifelong Learning in the UK Peter Jarvis, 2014-06-11 This volume offers a comprehensive international response to the National Institute of Adult Continuing Education NIACE's inquiry into the future of lifelong learning in the UK The book focuses upon some of the main themes of the inquiry and analyses them from very broad perspectives undertaken by some of the world's leading scholars It provides an excellent introduction to significant debates about lifelong learning such as ecology migration morality happiness and poverty Each chapter raises issues of policy and practice with clear areas of discussion thus assisting readers in truly engaging with the issues The final chapter contains a response by Tom Schuller one of the NIACE's inquiry authors This book is essential reading for students of lifelong learning especially educational policy makers This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Lifelong Education

Second International Handbook of Lifelong Learning David N. Aspin, Judith Chapman, Karen Evans, Richard Bagnall, 2012-01-18 The second edition of the International Handbook of Lifelong Learning is extensive innovative and international in scope remit and vision inviting its readers to engage in a critical re-appraisal of the theme of lifelong learning It is a thorough going rigorous and scholarly work with profound and wide ranging implications for the future of educating institutions and agencies of all kinds in the conception planning and delivery of lifelong learning initiatives Lifelong learning requires a wholly new philosophy of learning education and training one that aims to facilitate a coherent set of links and pathways between work school and education and recognises the necessity for government to give incentives to industry and their employees so they can truly invest in lifelong learning It is also a concept that is premised on the understanding of a learning society in which everyone independent of race creed or gender is entitled to quality learning that is truly excellent This book recognises the need for profound changes in education and for goals that are critically important to education economic advancement and social involvement To those concerned about the future of our society our economy and educational provision this book provides a richly illuminating basis for powerful debate Drawing extensively on policy analyses conceptual thinking and examples of informed and world standard practice in lifelong learning endeavours in the field both editors and authors seek to focus readers attention on the many issues and decisions that must be addressed if lifelong learning is to become a reality for us all

Globalization and Education Nelly P. Stromquist, Karen Monkman, 2014-03-04 We offer in this book a collection of chapters that reflect a broad range of issues linking globalization to education in an accessible yet theoretically grounded and detailed form The authors analyze phenomena on the global plane in local spaces and in the connections between the global and the local New developments such as the growing impact of technology on education the emergence of new policy actors the growing expansion and segmentation of higher education the salience of human rights among others are emerging as powerful agendas shaping all levels of education In fundamental ways the forces of globalization challenge the previous approaches and theories of national development Recognizing the areas of convergence dissonance and conflict should help us grasp with greater clarity the implications of globalization for education and knowledge in the XXI century The contributors to this book include both well known scholars in the field of comparative education as well as young scholars The chapters present a balanced geographical coverage in terms of authors and the countries regions examined The second edition has been thoroughly updated throughout and contains seven new chapters The expanding interest in the intersection of education and globalization has brought up several new topics including the salience of global education policies notably EFA the expansion and differentiation of higher education the emphasis on work related training the increasing role of non state actors such as the transnational corporations and greater attention to human rights Also in this new edition is a chapter on qualitative methodologies especially suitable to the understanding of the intersection of globalization and education Knowledge, Curriculum, and Preparation for Work Stephanie Allais,Yael Shalem,2018-04-16 In Knowledge Curriculum and Preparation for Work the editors offer a timely collection of chapters approaching debates on economic and social change and employment within different types of economies Considering questions of knowledge and curriculum these works interrogate ways of thinking about relationships between different forms of work and education The focus is both on the curriculum the ways in which different types of knowledge affect the quality and organization of curricula that are intended to prepare for work and the factors influencing and constraining what education can do to prepare for work as well as how these factors shape and limit the role of educational preparation for work Indigenous Education W. James Jacob,Sheng Yao Cheng,Maureen K.

Porter,2015-01-20 Indigenous Education is a compilation of conceptual chapters and national case studies that includes empirical research based on a series of data collection methods The book provides up to date scholarly research on global trends on three issues of paramount importance with indigenous education language culture and identity It also offers a strategic comparative and international education policy statement on recent shifts in indigenous education and new approaches to explore develop and improve comparative education and policy research globally Contributing authors examine several social justice issues related to indigenous education In addition to case perspectives from 12 countries and global regions the volume includes five conceptual chapters on topics that influence indigenous education including policy debates the media the united nations formal and informal education systems and higher education Mathematics Teaching and Professional Learning in sub-Sahara Africa Kakoma Luneta,2021-12-09 The book represents a crop of wide ranging research conducted by renown scholars in sub Sahara Africa revolving around mathematics teaching and professional development programs for mathematics teachers The research based proposals and actual how to conduct professional development initiatives that enhance effective mathematics instruction are rooted in teacher input and informed by learners errors and misconceptions The book provides a comprehensive snapshot on mathematics teaching learning and effective professional development programmes for mathematics teachers in sub Sahara Africa It is the only research output that advances and disseminates issues of mathematics education and research in the region with input from South Africa Kenya Rwanda Uganda Malawi Namibia Lesotho Ethiopia and Zimbabwe When Care Work Goes Global Mary Romero,Valerie Preston,Wenona Giles,2016-02-11 Women who migrate into domestic labour and care work are the single largest female occupational group migrating globally at present Their participation in global migration systems has been acknowledged but remains under theorized Specifically the impacts of women migrating into care work in the receiving as well as the sending societies are profound altering gendered aspects of both societies We know that migration systems link the women who migrate and the households and organizations that employ domestic and care workers but how do these migration systems work and more importantly what are their impacts on the sending as well as the receiving societies How do sending and receiving societies regulate women's migration for care work and how do these labour market exchanges take place How is reproductive labour changed in the receiving society when it is done by women who are subject to multifaceted othering racializing processes A must buy acquisition When Care Work Goes Global will be an extremely valuable addition for course adoption in migration labour and gender courses taught in Sociology Anthropology Geography Women's Studies Area Studies and International Development Studies

Youth as/in Crisis Sara Carpenter, Shahrzad Mojab, 2017-08-26 Internationally there is a growing argument amongst policy makers and academics that broadening spectrums of young adults are at risk of various types of material social physical and cultural insecurity In this way the traditional identification of transitions from youth to adulthood marked by points of permanence such as stable employment are beginning to fray Through various academic popular and policy literatures young people today are imagined as being both threatened by social inequality as well as a threat against which our notions of security and social cohesion are constructed This edited collection includes empirical and theoretical work concerning the relationships between youth young adults public policy and educational research with its primary focus being new forms of public policy in Canada that we argue are emblematic of international policy instruments examining the policy and economic participation of young people Examining key sites of youth participation including post secondary institutions community based programs and work employment programs the included case studies examine how young people navigate and learn from everyday experiences of marginalization and violence while at the same time illuminating how these experiences are organized and reproduced through the very institutions that are meant to shape young people's engagement in society

Lifelong Learning for Poverty Eradication Wapula N. Raditloaneng, Morgen Chawawa, 2015-02-23 This book illustrates the meaning and scope of lifelong learning and different types of poverty reduction programs prevalent generally in the African context and particularly in selected communities in Botswana Lifelong learning is important for all stakeholders in poverty reduction to develop a better understanding of the scope and extent of poverty so that they can make informed decisions on best ways of tackling poverty The book succinctly showcases community development and engagement initiatives and experiences from selected African universities and how the interaction of the universities and their respective communities resulted in a major transformation in the lives of poor families through exposure to some engagement strategies that effectively gave them a better future in their fight against poverty This book develops in the reader a better understanding of the dynamics and dilemma of poverty and its negative effects on individuals and communities But it answers the plight of the poor by equipping them with effective and practical tools to transform their lives and take full control of their destiny Provides a conceptual understanding of lifelong learning Describes practical aspects and indicators of poverty and how it requires tackling through a multi sectoral approach Focuses on poverty reduction in all fronts including development of an entrepreneurship mind set

Workers' Education in the Global South Linda Cooper, 2020-03-31
Workers Education in the Global South explores the historical development of radical workers education in South Africa as one particular strand within the broader tradition of radical adult education Drawing on the theoretical resources of Activity Theory Gramsci Freire and others it investigates the key features of workers education as a form of pedagogy with a unique history and logic of practice and explores how it has been shaped by its location within labour and other social movements as well as its southern location within the global political economy Successive chapters explore its counter hegemonic but contested purposes its knowledge practices that seek to overcome the historical divide between intellectual and manual labour and a pedagogy which often assumes didactic forms but which retains a democratic character through its embeddedness in working class experience It illustrates the rich processes of experiential learning that happen through day to day organising in workers cultural activity as well as through mass action It argues that this tradition of workers education currently stands at a crossroads as global neoliberal market policies and post apartheid education and training policies threaten to undermine its radical social vision and concludes by offering ideas on how this tradition of radical workers education might be renewed

World Yearbook of Education 2014 Tara Fenwick, Eric Mangez, Jenny Ozga, 2014-01-10
This latest volume in the World Yearbook of Education Series focuses on a major and highly significant development in the governing of education across the globe the use of knowledge based technologies as key policy sources A combination of factors has produced this shift first the massive expansion of technological capacity signalled by the arrival of big data that allows for the collection circulation and processing of extensive system knowledge The rise of data has been observed and discussed extensively but its role in governing and the rise of comparison as a basis for action is now a determining practice in the field of education Comparison provides the justification for modernising policy in education both in the developed and developing world as national policy makers selectively seek templates of success from the high performers and demand solutions to apparent underperformance through the adoption of the policies favoured by the likes of Singapore Finland and Korea In parallel the growth of particular forms of expertise the rise and rise of educational consultancy the growth of private for profit involvement in provision of educational goods and services and the increasing consolidation of networks of influence in the promotion of best practice are affecting policy decisions Through these developments the nature of knowledge is altered along with the relationship between knowledge and politics Knowledge in this context is co constructed it is not disciplinary knowledge but knowledge that emerges in the sharing of experience This book provides a global snapshot of a changing educational world by giving detailed examples of a fundamental shift in the governing and practice of education learning by Assessing approaches to the changing nature of comparative knowledge and information Tracking the translation and mobilisation of these knowledges in the governing of education learning Identification of the key experts and knowledge producers circulators translators and analysis of how best to understand their influence Mapping of the global production of these knowledges in terms of their range and reach the interrelationships of actors and their effects in different national settings Drawing on material from around the world the book brings together scholars from different backgrounds who provide a tapestry of examples of the global production and national reception and mediation of these knowledges and who show how change enters different national spaces and consider their effects in different national settings

Professional Learning in Changing Contexts Tara Fenwick, Monika Nerland, Karen Jensen, 2016-04-08 The knowledge and decisions of professionals influence all facets of modern life a fact reflected by the increasing and distinct emphasis on public accountability for what professionals know and do The nature of this accountability has been fundamentally transformed in response to a changing context of market pressures network arrangements declining discretion and public trust and public managerialism To tackle these challenges an important body of research has emerged which concentrates on the material elements and processes of professional learning and considers how these affect wider society This volume presents specific pressures on professionals learning in different occupational contexts ranging from public school teaching to medicine and creative industry These pressures are wrought by changing regulatory frameworks changing modes of organising changing demands and changing knowledge authorities in professional practice The authors stress the importance of understanding these relations as sociomaterial webs through which the important moments of professional action and decisions emerge This approach moves us beyond accepting learning as an identifiable individualist phenomenon by emphasising the multiplicities around professional practice standards and quality workarounds responsibility agency and knowledge practices As the chapters here demonstrate sociomaterial perspectives raise new questions and methodologies that can highlight what is often invisible in the sometimes messy dynamics of professional learning and point to new ways of promoting and supporting professional education This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Education and Work

Preparation, Practice, and Politics of Teachers Mark Ginsburg, 2013-02-11 This edited volume based on papers presented at the World Congress of Comparative Education Istanbul 2010 presents research examining pre service teacher education in service teacher development and the politics of teachers work in a variety of geographical regions including Asia Africa Eurasia Europe Latin America and North America More specifically the chapters examine the situations activities and education of teachers in the societal contexts of Cuba Equatorial Guinea France Germany Ghana Hong Kong Ireland Lithuania The Netherlands Scotland Spain Turkey and the United States The authors address a variety of important questions related to a group of employees who are key actors in determining the quality of education How can pre service teacher education best be organized for different purposes in various settings What kinds of activities should be organized and who should be involved in in service professional development to promote teacher capacity and commitment to perform their roles in classrooms and communities What kinds of incentives can motivate teachers engagement with various aspects of their work How do certain educational policies and reforms promote the professionalization or the deprofessionalization and proletarianization of teaching What are the opportunities and constraints for teachers as they seek to operate within themicro politics of schools and the macro politics of society The book thus contributes to refining our understanding of the critical theoretical issues in the field of comparative and international education as well as calling attention to dynamics that should be considered in developing and implementing as well as critiquing and resisting educational policies in varying contexts
