the STEM for Our Youngest Learners Series uses ramps and pathways as a context to provide children ages 3-8 opportunities to engage in STEM every day. Ramps and Pathways is a meaningful and fun way for children to develop engineering habits of mind as they explore concepts in force and motion, properties of objects and how those properties affect their movement. In the process, children develop spatial thinking that is essential for future careers in STEM. The text also offers guidance for arranging the physical, intellectual, social, emotional, and promotional environments of a classroom to embrace the natural integration of literacy learning. Each volume in this series includes guidance for forming partnerships with families and administrators that support STEM learning, vignettes showing educators and children engaging in inquiry, learning tips for selecting materials, modifications and accommodations for diverse learners, ways to establish adult learning communities that support professional development, and more.

Book Features: Alignment with both the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework (ELOF) and the NGSS Science and Engineering Practices with specific descriptions of how those science and engineering practices in Ramps and Pathways look and feel in Pre-K-2 classrooms. Examples of how to integrate literacy learning in a meaningful way. Descriptions of how the open-ended nature of ramps and pathways aligns with the Universal Design for Learning Framework (UDL). Guidance to help teachers anticipate and plan for all children to become purposeful, motivated, resourceful, knowledgeable, strategic, and goal-directed about learning. Examples of how to stage, introduce, and support children's designs to develop engineering habits of mind, systems thinking, optimism, creativity, communication, collaboration, attention to ethical considerations. A meaningful and healthy context to grow children's executive function skills (EFs) including inhibitory control, working memory, and cognitive flexibility.

Investigating Water With Young Children (Ages 3-8) Beth Dykstra Van Meeteren, 2023. Water is a meaningful context for children to engage in inquiry and acquire and use science and engineering practices such as developing spatial thinking and early concepts of water dynamics. This book shows teachers how to engage children with opportunities to engineer water movement through pouring and filling containers of various kinds and shapes, observing how water interacts with surfaces in large and small amounts, exploring how water can be moved, and using water to move objects. These experiences build a foundation that will support children's more complex study of this phenomena in later schooling, as well as encourage interest in STEM fields. The text provides guidance for arranging the physical, intellectual, social, emotional, and promotional environments of the early childhood classroom for integrating literacy learning and for building essential partnerships with administrators and families to enhance STEM learning for our youngest learners.

Book Features: Introduces WaterWorks, an integrative STEM experience developed by young children, their teachers, and early childhood researchers. Describes an approach that engages children in doing science and engineering rather than teaching children about these fields. Offers children the opportunity to engage in STEM experiences every day in their classrooms alongside literacy.

learning Illustrates ways to plan and use over ten types of engineering experiences appropriate for children ages 3-8 Includes guidance for documenting children's learning over time Aligns to the Early Learning Outcomes Framework and the Next Generation Science Standards Contributors Allison Barness Shelly L Counsell Lawrence Escalada Judith Finkelstein Linda Fitzgerald Sherri Peterson Jull Uhlenberg and Wendy Miller Praise for the STEM for Our Youngest Learners Series This series is an important addition to a very limited field of guides for teaching STEM to young learners While activity books abound this series with its basis in constructivism and its use of an inquiry based teaching model guides teachers in creating in depth experiences for children to examine the natural world while building their critical thinking skills and deepening their curiosity about and interest in the world around them Karen Worth consultant in science education early childhood and elementary years including Wortham McAfee Puckett and Mindes Wright's writing style grabs and engages the reader in the topic. Two of our reviewers who use Wortham specifically cited Wright's writing style as a reason they would adopt our book. A McAfee reviewer is likely to switch for the same reason. Building Blocks Gene I. Maeroff, 2025-09-23 A student's entire journey along the educational spectrum is affected by what occurs and crucially by what does not occur before the age of eight or nine. Yet early learning has never received the attention it deserves and needs. In his latest book, education expert Gene Maeroff takes a hard look at early learning and the primary grades of schooling. Building Blocks offers a concrete and groundbreaking strategy for improving early education. Filled with colorful descriptions and anecdotes from Maeroff's visits to schools around the country, Building Blocks creates a rich portrait of education in America ranging from math lessons imported from Singapore in Massachusetts to serious but joyful kindergartens in California. He speaks of the need for schools to prepare for the burgeoning enrollment of youngsters from immigrant families and for all children to acquire the habits and dispositions that will make them committed and productive students. Maeroff issues a call to action for policy makers and parents alike.

Designing Culturally Competent Programming for PK-20 Classrooms Spratt, Katherine, O'Connor Jr., Johnny R., Msengi, Clementine, 2020-08-14 In order to promote effective learning, individuals must feel fully appreciated within their own unique identities, i.e., ethnicities, language differences, socioeconomic status, gender, religions. Culturally competent educators employ practices that acknowledge and build on cultural diversity and that identify students themselves as resources and honors assets possessed within the context of the school community. Designing Culturally Competent Programming for PK-20 Classrooms is a comprehensive research publication that explores strategies and best practices for designing culturally competent curricula and serves as a courier for stakeholders fostering inclusive and forward thinking opportunities in PK-20 classrooms. Highlighting a wide range of topics such as ethics, leadership, and organizational development, this book is ideal for educators, administrators, academicians, curriculum developers, instructional designers, researchers, and students.
