it the way we do Andrew Durkin best known as the leader of the West Coast based Industrial Jazz Group is singular for his insistence on asking tough questions about the complexity of our presumptions about music and about listening especially in the digital age In this winning and lucid study he explodes the age old concept of musical composition as the work of individual genius arguing instead that in both its composition and reception music is fundamentally a collaborative enterprise that comes into being only through mediation Drawing on a rich variety of examples Big Jay McNeely s Deacon s Hop Biz Markie s Alone Again George Antheil s Ballet M canique Frank Zappa s While You Were Art and Pauline Oliveros s Tuning Meditation to name only a few Durkin makes clear that our appreciation of any piece of music is always informed by neuroscientific psychological technological and cultural factors How we listen to music he maintains might have as much power to change it as music might have to change how we listen
