The Legal Research and Writing Handbook Blackboard Bundle Andrea B. Yelin, Hope Viner Samborn, 2009-06-12 American Book Publishing Record, 2006 Legal Research and Writing for Paralegals Deborah E. Bouchoux, 2006

The text retains the features that earned it such widespread use: clear, well-organized text for the introductory legal research and writing course designed specifically for paralegal students; comprehensive overview of research and writing skills reinforced by illustrations and exercises; integration of writing strategies into each research chapter to demonstrate the link between the two processes; timely and thorough coverage of electronic research including a chapter on internet research as well as fee-based services such as Lexis and Westlaw. Throughout the text, the author supplies further tips on how to use electronic resources most effectively; useful charts and diagrams help students understand complex topics; thorough explanation of proper citation form and updating; validating legal authorities including Shepardizing and KeyCiting samples of legal writing such as letters, a court brief, and a legal memorandum. This timely revision contains valuable new material; completely revised text reflects the changing nature of legal publishing to help students learn how to navigate through cyberspace; a section at the end of each chapter, State Your Answer, now offers additional questions relating to the materials discussed. These questions require students to access relevant internet sites and local information and can be made state-specific; a new feature, The Final Wrap Up, provides practical and pragmatic information on citing and using various research resources and advises students on when to use a certain set and whether it may be cited in various legal documents. Practice Tips now appear in each chapter, offering realistic and helpful suggestions for workplace success; expanded and updated Legal Citation chapter with more coverage of the ALWD Citation Manual. The examples of citation form given at the end of each chapter display citations in both Bluebook and ALWD form. Coverage is updated to the new 18th edition of The Bluebook.

The Legal Research and Writing Andrea B. Yelin, Hope Viner Samborn, 1999-04-01

With legal research and writing covered in one text, authors Yelin and Samborn have tailored their presentation to the specifics paralegals need to know. They effectively introduce paralegal students to the essential skills and strategies necessary to do legal research: analytical skills for understanding their research and drafting skills for creating legal documents. Notable features: the book is written and designed to be particularly accessible to paralegal students; pedagogically sound: each chapter of the book offers chapter overviews, detailed headings to make it easy to find information, sample documents, review questions; the accompanying workbook offers many opportunities for students to practice their research and writing skills. Special features of the Second Edition: a chapter on the Internet includes a discussion of legal research sources on line; coverage reflecting recent changes in the legal publishing world; materials to help students better understand the research process; the authors explicitly highlight the relationship between research and writing; enhanced design offers greater accessibility; there are chapters on research strategy, pre-writing issues, and process.
