Holocaust Archaeologies Caroline Sturdy Colls, 2015-02-28 Holocaust Archaeologies Approaches and Future Directions aims to move archaeological research concerning the Holocaust forward through a discussion of the variety of the political social ethical and religious issues that surround investigations of this period and by considering how to address them It considers the various reasons why archaeological investigations may take place and what issues will be brought to bear when fieldwork is suggested. It presents an interdisciplinary methodology in order to demonstrate how archaeology can uniquely contribute to the history of this period. Case examples are used throughout the book in order to contextualise prevalent themes and a variety of geographically and typologically diverse sites throughout Europe are discussed. This book challenges many of the widely held perceptions concerning the Holocaust including the idea that it was solely an Eastern European phenomena centred on Auschwitz and the belief that other sites connected to it were largely destroyed or are well known. The typologically temporally and spatially diverse body of physical evidence pertaining to this period is presented and future possibilities for investigation of it are discussed. Finally the volume concludes by discussing issues relating to the re presentation of the Holocaust and the impact of this on commemoration heritage management and education. This discussion is a timely one as we enter an age without survivors and questions are raised about how to educate future generations about these events in their absence.

Cryo-Electron Microscopy in Structural Biology Krishnarao Appasani, 2024-10-17 Cryo electron microscopy in combination with tomography has emerged as a new technology for visualizing molecular structures at a resolution beyond even 1 Å. Using this technology has revealed the native molecular details of viruses, membranes, enzymes, ribosomes and cells. This comprehensive volume brings together authoritative overviews of these methods from structural and biological perspectives. It is a must have for researchers and graduate students as well as those working in industry primarily in the areas of biophysics, structural biology, crystallography and genomics. Key Features: Focuses on the applications of cryo EM to structural biology. Documents the importance of cryo EM/ET approaches in studying the structural determinants of cellular organelle and membrane protein biochemistry. Reviews the applications of high resolution structures of viruses. Emphasizes structural insights of nuclear and gene machineries. Includes a section focused entirely on the applications of cryo EM/ET in drug discovery and therapeutic development.

The Adria Microplate: GPS Geodesy, Tectonics and Hazards Nicholas Pinter, Gyula Grencs, John Weber, Seth Stein, Damir Medak, 2006-01-05 Tectonic motion of the Adria microplate exerts a first order control on the tectonics, geology, seismology, resource distribution and the geological hazards across a broad zone of south central Europe and the north central Mediterranean. Since its first application to geodynamical problems, GPS geodesy has gradually revealed the nature of motion and deformation for most active areas of deformation across the Earth. One of the last remaining regional scale problems on the planet is the motion and associated deformation in the peri Adriatic region. Selected local scale studies have examined aspects of this motion but to date no truly regional analysis or regional team has systematically attacked the full breadth of this problem. A NATO Advanced Research Workshop (ARW) was held in Veszprém, Hungary from April 4-7, 2004. This workshop brought together a distinguished international group of scientists working in the peri Adriatic region to 1) review research activities and results, 2) share technical expertise and 3) provide a springboard for future collaborative research on Adria geodynamics Areas of agreement were identified as well as remaining areas of debate In addition attention focused on important scientific questions and the potential for international and interdisciplinary research in the future Surveying and Mapping Christian Tiberius,Hans van der Marel,René Reudink,Freek van Leijen,2022-11-07 This book provides an introduction at academic level into the field of surveying and mapping The book has been compiled based on hand outs and readers written for the third year course Surveying and Mapping in the bachelor program Civil Engineering at Delft University of Technology This book covers a wide range of measurement techniques from land surveying GPS GNSS and remote sensing to the associated data processing the underlying coordinate reference systems as well as the analysis and visualization of the acquired geospatial information
