Gedo, 2013-05-13

Gedo's pathbreaking exploration of the psychology of creativity incorporates first hand material drawn from his extensive clinical work with artists, musicians, and other exceptionally creative individuals. Using this body of clinical knowledge as conceptual anchorage, he then offers illuminating reassessments of the artistic productivity of van Gogh, Picasso, Gauguin, and Caravaggio, and the literary productivity of Nietzsche, Jung, and Freud. The Nation and Athenæum, 1923

The CinemaScope Years Aubrey Solomon, 2025-04-20. Virtually every current widescreen movie, television broadcast, or streamed image benefits from the techniques that have evolved since the widespread adoption of the first practical use of anamorphic photography. CinemaScope. Wildly successful CinemaScope, with its huge screen and vividly panoramic images, lured audiences away from their television sets and ended a sharp decline in moviegoing attendance. And yet, generations who grew up from the 1960s through the 1990s experienced these films in a completely disfigured format, sized to fit black and white television screens of the era. The chapters in this book provide a first time re-evaluation of the cinematic qualities of all 538 major studio produced, financed films shot in CinemaScope. Also included are excerpts of interviews with cameramen and directors who describe in detail the development and problems presented by widescreen production. Each title entry includes a brief synopsis, including major cast members, an analysis highlighting the artistic values present or absent, and comments from critics and trade papers pertinent to the use of the wide screen process. The Mind of the Novel Bruce F. Kavin, 2006

From Moby Dick to The Unnamable, from A Tale of a Tub to The Book of Questions, Bruce Kavin explores the nature of self-conscious fiction and compares its structure to that of human consciousness. Focusing on texts that confront their own limits by trying to name the unnamable, the ineffable self, Kavin draws on methods from literary criticism to systems theory to explain a variety of first person works that dance around the ungraspable subject. The Nation and the Athenaeum, 1923

Reading the World's Stories Annette Y. Goldsmith, Theo Heras, Susan Corapi, 2016-08-11. Reading the World's Stories is volume 5 in the Bridges to Understanding series of annotated international youth literature bibliographies sponsored by the United States Board on Books for Young People. USBBY is the United States chapter of the International Board on Books for Young People (IBBY), a Switzerland based nonprofit whose mission is to bring books and children together. The series promotes sharing international children's books as a way to facilitate intercultural understanding and meet new literary voices. This volume follows Children's Books from Other Countries (1998), The World through Children's Books (2002), Crossing Boundaries with Children's Books (2006), and Bridges to Understanding: Envisioning the World through Children's Books (2011) and acts as a companion book to the earlier titles. Centered around the theme of the importance of stories, the guide is a resource for discovering more recent global books that fit many reading tastes and educational needs for readers aged 0-18 years. Essays by storyteller Anne Pellowski, author Beverley Naidoo, and academic Marianne Martens offer a variety of perspectives on international youth literature. This latest installment in the series covers books published from 2010-2014 and includes English language imports as well as translations of children's and young adult literature first published outside of the United States. These books are supplemented by a smaller number of culturally appropriate books from the US to help fill in gaps from underrepresented countries. The organization of the guide is geographic by region and country. All of the more than 800 entries are recommended, and many of the books have won awards or achieved other recognition in their home countries. Forty children's book experts wrote the annotations. The entries are indexed by author, translator, illustrator, title, and subject. Back matter also includes international book awards, important organizations, and research collections, and a selected directory of publishers known for publishing books from other countries.

Victorian Jewelry, Identity, and the Novel Jean Arnold, 2011. Jean Arnold explores the role material objects play in the cultural cohesion of the West, arguing that gems symbolized the most closely held beliefs of the Victorians and thus can be considered prisms of culture. Her close readings of works by Wilkie Collins, George Eliot, William Makepeace Thackeray, and Anthony Trollope show jewels turned into symbols of power, personal relationships, and valued ideas that serve to bind the materialist culture together. Sisi Allison Pataki, 2017-02-07. NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER. A sweeping historical novel that tells the dramatic story of Sisi, the empress of Austria-Hungary, who fought for her family, her people, and her empire in a changing world. Irresistible, completely impossible to put down. Allison Pataki reimagines the reign of the nineteenth-century Princess Diana in this stunning book. Michelle Moran, bestselling author of Rebel Queen, Married to Emperor, Franz Joseph, and Elisabeth, fondly known as Sisi, captures the hearts of her people as their fairy queen, but beneath that dazzling persona lives a far more complex figure. In mid-nineteenth-century Vienna, the halls of the Hofburg Palace buzz not only with imperial waltzes and champagne but with temptations, rivals, and cutthroat intrigue. Feeling stifled by strict protocols and a turbulent marriage, Sisi finds solace at her estate outside Budapest, where she rides her beloved horses and enjoys visits from a man with whom she's unwittingly become enamored. But tragic news brings the end of her fragile seclusion, forcing her to return to her capital and a world of gossip, envy, and sorrow, where a dangerous fate lurks in the shadows. Through love affairs and loss, dedication and defiance, Sisi struggles against conflicting desires to keep her family together or to flee amid the collapse of her suffocating marriage and the gathering tumult of the First World War. In an age of crumbling monarchies, the empress fights to assert her right to the throne beside her husband to win the love of her people and the world and to save an empire But in the end can she save herself Featuring larger than life historic figures such as Bavaria's Mad King Ludwig and the tragic Crown Prince Rudolf and set against many of Europe's grandest sites from Germany's storied Neuschwanstein Castle to England's lush shires Sisi brings to life an extraordinary woman and the romantic volatile era over which she presided The Movie Guide James Monaco,1992 From The Big Sleep to Babette's Feast from Lawrence of Arabia to Drugstore Cowboy The Movie Guide offers the inside word on 3 500 of the best motion pictures ever made James Monaco is the president and founder of BASELINE the world's leading supplier of information to the film and television industries Among his previous books are The Encyclopedia of Film American Film Now and How to Read a Film This is Not a Novel and Other Novels David Markson,2016-03-01 David Markson was a writer like no other In his novels which have been called hypnotic stunning and exhilarating and earned him praise from the likes of Kurt Vonnegut and David Foster Wallace Ann Beattie and Zadie Smith Markson created his own personal genre With crackling wit distilled into incantatory streams of thought on art life and death Markson's work has delighted and astonished readers for decades Now for the first time three of Markson's masterpieces are compiled into one page turning volume This Is Not a Novel Vanishing Point and The Last Novel In This Is Not a Novel readers meet an author called only Writer who is weary unto death of making up stories and yet is determined to seduce the reader into turning pages and getting somewhere Vanishing Point introduces us to Author who sets out to transform shoeboxes crammed with note cards into a novel In The Last Novel we find an elderly author referred to only as Novelist who announces that since this will be his final effort he possesses carte blanche to do anything he damn well pleases United by their focus on the trials calamities absurdities and even tragedies of the creative life these novels demonstrate David Markson's extraordinary intellectual richness leaving readers time after time with the most indisputably original of reading experiences The New Yorker ,1939-08 The English Catalogue of Books Sampson Low,1926 Volumes for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers
