The Saliva Tree Brian W. Aldiss, 2015-05-19 Invisible aliens invade the bucolic English countryside in Brian W Aldiss s Nebula Award winning science fiction novella plus nine other stories of the fantastic and the odd A meteor shower in the skies above the rolling English countryside late in the nineteenth century fires the imagination of a young man with a penchant for science especially when one of the falling rocks breaks off from the rest and lands at the bottom of a pond near the Benford farm While the young man s curiosity has been seriously aroused Farmer Benford and his clan couldn t be less interested not even when there s a sudden curious rash of animal births they notice odd lingering pervasive smells and the family dog dies inexplicably Still the young man is not willing to abandon his investigation into these strange occurrences even as it becomes increasingly apparent that to keep looking could prove injurious and perhaps even fatal not only to himself but to every Benford in the vicinity Grand Master Brian W Aldiss wrote his wonderfully strange and gripping novella The Saliva Tree as a tribute to H G Wells the immortal author of The Time Machine and War of the Worlds and it was honored with a Nebula Award Included alongside this classic tale of creeping alien terror are nine other sparkling gems of short fiction from the grisly baby steps of a novice serial killer to the travels of a history professor through alternate worlds to the journey of a young widow who has both a murderer and a monster vying for her attention

Waking the Power Within Thermodynamics and the Human Battery Professor Ibrahim Elnohokaty , The sci fi film The Matrix introduces a fascinating premise where humans function as energy sources for an advanced machine society In this fictional world human bodies are maintained in a state of suspended animation while their minds exist in a virtual reality allowing machines to extract their bioelectric thermal and kinetic energy This article investigates the scientific feasibility of utilizing humans as a power source by applying thermodynamic principles According to the first law of thermodynamics the energy required to sustain human life would result in a net energy loss for the machines The second law indicates that the system's entropy would rise rendering it an inefficient energy strategy Furthermore the energy output of a human body even if fully utilized would be inadequate to meet the machines energy demands More efficient alternatives for the machines would include other biological power sources and energy harvesting techniques such as solar or nuclear power The article concludes that while the concept of human batteries serves as an engaging storytelling element it is not a scientifically viable solution for the machines energy requirements The machines choice to preserve human life may be motivated by other factors such as leveraging their collective cognitive abilities for computational purposes or adhering to an ethical code that prohibits the complete annihilation of humanity This investigation aims to fill the gap by providing a detailed thermodynamic analysis of the energy expenditure required to sustain human life in a suspended animation state and the inefficiency of this system as an energy source for machines a facet previously unexplored By elucidating the thermodynamic constraints of human based energy sources this study not only challenges a popular sci fi narrative but also enriches our understanding of bioenergetic processes and their implications for future energy harvesting technologies

Immersive Systemic Knowing

Raghav Rajagopalan, 2020-10-16 This book advances systems thinking by introducing a new philosophy of systemic knowing It argues that there are inescapable limits to rational understanding Humankind has always depended on extended ways of knowing to complement the rational analytic approach The book establishes that the application of such methods is fundamental to systemic practice The author advocates embracing two modes of consciousness intentionality which Western philosophy has long recognized and non intentional awareness which Eastern philosophy additionally highlights The simultaneity of these two modes of consciousness and the variety of knowings they spawn are harnessed for a more holistic systemic knowing Four practices from fields related to systems thinking are examined two contemporary action research methodologies from the US and the UK the Sumedhian Indian approach to inquiry about processes within groups and a technique of group psychotherapy originating in Eastern Europe Each of these systematically harnesses knowing using both modes of consciousness Therefore the author insists such approaches must be included in systemic practice in purposeful and methodical juxtaposition to rational analytic ways The book provides examples and guidelines for deployment All researchers and practitioners of systems thinking and action research must read this book Raghav has craftfully blended Eastern and Western wisdom He uses his immersion into Eastern ways of knowing practically to elaborate the systems philosophy in rich detail He has incorporated from cooperative inquiry as action research the idea of four ways of knowing practical propositional presentational and experiential to bolster the foundations of systems thinking SHANKAR SANKARAN

Professor University of Technology Sydney Australia President International Society of Systems Sciences ISSS 2019 2020

This is a book with the potential to stimulate the emergence of a new paradigm Raghav shows that systems thinking can transcend rational analysis and incorporate other ways of knowing such as arts based methods also rather than be overly preoccupied with striving for change there is value in simply abiding which comes with a deep appreciation of the ecological relationships we are part of It s not that rational analysis is wrong it s that it is only part of a genuinely transformative practice

GERALD MIDGLEY Co Director Centre for Systems Studies University of Hull former President ISSS 2013 14

Raghav Rajagopalan s writing on generating deep appreciation for the social and ecological interdependencies ties in closely with my own work The philosophical ideas he develops contain the tracings and essential tones of Gregory Bateson s idea of Mind as a process of living complexities reaching well beyond the notion of the body This book demonstrates outstanding erudition and deep compassion at the same time It should delight the adventurous reader unafraid of big questions
