Jenseits Des Lustprinzips Von Sigmund Freud,2015-03-26 This collection of literature attempts to compile many of the classic works that have stood the test of time and offer them at a reduced affordable price in an attractive volume so that everyone can enjoy them Dead Theory Jeffrey R. Di Leo,2016-05-19 What is the legacy of Theory after the deaths of so many of its leading lights from Jacques Derrida to Roland Barthes Bringing together reflections by leading contemporary scholars Dead Theory explores the afterlives of the work of the great theorists and the current state of Theory today

Considering the work of thinkers such as Derrida Deleuze and Levinas the book explores the ways in which Theory has long been haunted by death and how it might endure for the future Crafting Flesh, Crafting the Self John B. Lyon,2006

This book analyzes wounded human bodies in early nineteenth century German literature and traces their connection to changing philosophical models of the self It argues that literary representations and metaphors of violence against the body not only offer powerful physical referents for a concept of self but that they also define violence as an integral component of the self The Poetics of Death Beatrice Martina Guenther,1996-07-12 Traditionally the act of writing constitutes a challenge to the finality of death Yet writing as a subject for literary texts has its own tradition of imagery whose rhetoric is associated with loss rather than immortality The limit of death seems to force a more explicit analysis of the process of writing Writers consider the impact of their work on their readers or re articulate the link between the written text and the subject it is meant to represent Each writer constructs a subversive text The conjunction of writing and death besides highlighting or demystifying the creative act leads in each case to a decidedly critical stance Guenther examines how Kleist's and Balzac's representations of death bring with them a critical awareness that calls attention to the historical context in which the texts are produced Remains of a Self Cathrine Bjørnholt Michaelsen,2021-06-29 From the twentieth century in the twenty first psychoanalysis and deconstruction have challenged and continue to challenge our conceptions of subjectivity and selfhood Psychoanalysis revealed that even in our innermost households we are never quite alone rather instances of otherness incessantly interfere in our most intimate relation to ourselves forcing us to adapt continuously Deconstruction inheriting both this psychoanalytic disclosure and Heidegger's destruction of the history of metaphysics went to the foundations of the Western constructions of the subject and the self only to find how a destabilizing otherness was always already haunting them What if anything remains of the self in the aftermath Early on in the wake of deconstruction a certain misconceived and simplified notion of the death of the subject was proclaimed and in recent years more or less successful attempts have been made at reviving the notions of the subject the self and agency In contrast to these attempts at revival this book offers a two pronged approach On the one hand it argues that neither psychoanalysis nor deconstruction propounds a simple annihilation of the subject or liquidation of the self on the other hand however neither do they pave the way for a return to the subject or resurrection of the self that would allow us once again to become confident about our presence to ourselves Instead this book suggests that if we set ourselves the task of taking up the heritage from psychoanalysis and deconstruction in a serious manner we are obliged to retrace the subject and the self as undergoing perpetual auto deconstruction

A Poetics of Trauma after 9/11 Katharina Donn, 2016-10-04 The 9 11 attacks brought large scale violence into the 21st century with force and have come to epitomize the entanglement of intimate vulnerability and virtual spectacle that is typical of the globalized present This book works at the intersection of trauma studies affect theory and literary studies to offer radically new interpretive frames for interrogating the challenges inherent in representing the initial moments of the terrorist encounter Beyond the paradigm of traumatic unspeakability post 9 11 texts expose the materiality of the human body in its universal vulnerability The intersubjective empathy this engenders is politically subversive as it undermines the discourse of historical singularity and exceptionalism by establishing a global network of reference and dialogue Innovative theoretical interconnections between clinical pathology concepts of cultural trauma and political aesthetics lay the foundations for exploring formally and geographically diverse texts Close readings of works by Jonathan Safran Foer Art Spiegelman Don DeLillo and William Gibson map the relationship between representations of 9 11 and complex aspects of trauma theory This detailed approach makes a case for revisiting trauma theory and bringing its Freudian origins into the digitized present It showcases trauma as a physical and psychological wound as well as an experience that is simultaneously pre discursive and inhibited by the virtuality of the present day real Exploring how contemporary trauma studies can take into account the digitization and virtuality of present day realities this book is a key intervention in establishing a contemporary ethics of witnessing terror

Sexual Myths of Modernity Alison M. Moore, 2015-11-19 The notion of sexual sadism emerged from nineteenth century alienist attempts to imagine the pleasure of the torturer or mass killer This was a time in which sexuality was mapped to social progress so that perversions were always related either to degeneration or decadence These ideas were internalized in later Freudian views of the drives within the self and of their repression under the demands of modern European civilization Sadism was always presented as the barbarous past that lurked within each of us ready to burst forth into murderous violence crime anti Semitism and finally genocide This idea maintained its currency in European thought after the Second World War as Freudian influenced accounts of the history of philosophy configured the Marquis de Sade as a kind of Kantian superego in a framework that viewed the Western Enlightenment as unraveled by its own inner demons In this way a straight line was imagined from the late eighteenth century to the Holocaust These ideas have had an ongoing legacy in debates about sexual perversion feminism genocide representation and historical memory of Nazism However recent genocide research has massively debunked assumptions that perpetrators of mass violence are especially sexually motivated in their cruelty This book considers how the late twentieth century imagination eroticized Nazism for its own ends but also how it has been informed by nineteenth century formulations of the idea of mass violence as a sexual problem Cultural Studies of the Modern Middle Ages E. Joy,M. Seaman,K. Bell,M. Ramsey,2007-12-09 This volume brings together contemporary popular entertainment current political subjects and medieval history and culture to investigate the intersecting and often tangled relations between politics aesthetics reality and fiction in relation to issues of morality identity social values power and justice both in the past and the present The Question of Sacrifice Dennis King Keenan,2005-06-14 In this concentrated and detailed look at questions surrounding the act of sacrifice Dennis King Keenan discusses both the role and the meaning of sacrifice in our lives Building on recent philosophical discussions on the gift and transcendence Keenan covers new ground with this exploration of the religious psychological and ethical issues that sacrifice entails According to Keenan sacrifice is paradoxically called to sacrifice itself But what does this necessary yet impossible condition mean for living an ethical life Along the way to an answer Keenan considers the views of Hegel Kierkegaard Nietzsche Heidegger Bataille Lacan Levinas Blanchot Irigaray Derrida Kristeva Nancy and Zizek This thoughtful and provocative work affords a sophisticated philosophical treatment of the question of sacrifice The ^Oxford Handbook of Schopenhauer Robert L. Wicks,2020-02-27 This collection of thirty one essays encompasses Schopenhauer s central contributions his influences and the scope of his impact especially on the arts and philosophy Six sections cover the wide range of his thought including its connection to religion ethics and art as well as his influence and legacy Publisher of the Mind Brett Kahr,2025-08-07 Karnac Books was founded on 24 March 1950 by Harry Karnac as a general interest bookshop at Gloucester Road London SW7 Following strong sales of a D W Winnicott title Harry Karnac began to increase his stock of mental health titles until they came to occupy the full floor of the shop s basement Word spread through the global mental health community and Karnac Books became the epicentre for English mental health publications not only as a must visit venue but also as a thriving mail order business Before long Harry took the plunge into publishing alongside bookselling and the Karnac imprint was born Since 1950 Karnac has changed hands several times and Brett Kahr has met befriended and interviewed every single owner from the eponymous Harry Karnac to the present day His detailed knowledge as customer author and friend of Karnac makes him the perfect person to write this history undertaken as a labour of love and published to celebrate Karnac s 75th anniversary The book begins with an amusing introduction on the welcome affliction of Karnacitis swiftly followed by a comprehensive history of early psychoanalytic publishing before leading into the first instalment of the chronicles of Karnac The behind the scenes story of the iconic Karnac Books shows why it rose to be a pivotal member of the mental health community and continues to this day Madness Peter Morrall,2017-03-31 This book is an introduction to the uncertainties and incongruities about madness It is aimed at all of those who are curious about this subject whether out of general inquisitiveness or because it is part of a formal course of study Using case studies of real people in order to explain humanise and bring to life the subject Peter Morrall critically analyses how madness has been and is understood or perhaps misunderstood By contrasting past and present people who have been perceived as mad and or perceive themselves as mad Morrall presents core ideas about madness and critiques their would be robustness in explaining the specific madness of the person in question as well as their general relevance to madness overall Unlike many of its contemporaries the book does not adhere to a perspective but rather remains skeptical about the ideas of all who profess to understand madness whether these emanate from sociology psychology psychotherapy anthropology anti psychiatry or the biological sciences of contemporary scientific psychiatry This book will inform and stimulate the thinking of the reader and challenge those with preconceived ideas about madness

Mail-Orders Sunka Simon,2002-03-21 Explores contemporary uses of letters and letter writing including electronic mail in literature film and art Cold War Freud Dagmar Herzog,2017 This book provides a panoramic history of psychoanalysis at its zenith as human nature was rethought in the wake of war and the global transformations that followed Who's Afraid of ...? Marion Gymnich,2012 Fear in its many facets appears to constitute an intriguing and compelling subject matter for writers and screenwriters alike The contributions address fictional representations and explorations of fear in different genres and different periods of literary and cultural history The topics include representations of political violence and political fear in English Renaissance culture and literature dramatic representations of fear and anxiety in English Romanticism the dramatic monologue as an expression of fears in Victorian society cultural constructions of fear and empathy in George Eliot s Daniel Deronda 1876 and Jonathan Nasaw s Fear Itself 2003 facets of children s fears in twentieth and twenty first century stream of consciousness fiction the representation of fear in war movies the cultural function of horror film remakes the expulsion of fear in Kazuo Ishiguro s novel Never Let Me Go and fear and nostalgia in Mohsin Hamid s post 9 11 novel The Reluctant Fundamentalist Personality Psychology Janek Musek,2024-03-21 This book integratively examines theories and models of the most essential findings of personality psychology with the aim of advancing personality knowledge Since much empirical research is applied to very specific problems the larger picture can get lost Rather this book starts from a coherent scientific theoretical framework rather than presenting diverse theories of personality phenomenological empirical psychoanalytic behavioral humanistic and cognitive perspectives without enough critical examination In this book all theories models and perspectives are reviewed and discussed within a unified theoretical framework of psychology Thus historically and conceptually different models can be considered by scientific standards Its insights will be highly relevant to academics students and professional alike Iterationen Sabine Lucia Müller,Anja Schwarz,2008 Myth and the Human Sciences Angus Nicholls,2014-12-05 This is the first book length critical analysis in any language of Hans Blumenberg s theory of myth Blumenberg can be regarded as the most important German theorist of myth of the second half of the twentieth century and his Work on Myth 1979 has resonated across disciplines ranging from literary theory via philosophy religious studies and anthropology to the history and philosophy of science Nicholls introduces Anglophone readers to Blumenberg's biography and to his philosophical contexts He elucidates Blumenberg's theory of myth by relating it to three important developments in late nineteenth and early twentieth century German philosophy hermeneutics phenomenology and philosophical anthropology while also comparing Blumenberg's ideas with those of other prominent theorists of myth such as Vico Hume Schelling Max Müller Frazer Sorel Freud Cassirer Heidegger Horkheimer and Adorno According to Nicholls Blumenberg's theory of myth can only be understood in relation to the human sciences since it emerges from a speculative hypothesis concerning the emergence of the earliest human beings For Blumenberg myth was originally a cultural adaptation that constituted the human attempt to deal with anxieties concerning the threatening forces of nature by anthropomorphizing those forces into mythic images In the final two chapters Blumenberg's theory of myth is placed within the post war political context of West Germany Through a consideration of Blumenberg's exchanges with Carl Schmitt as well as by analysing unpublished correspondence and parts of the original Work of Myth manuscript that Blumenberg held back from publication Nicholls shows that Blumenberg's theory of myth also amounted to a reckoning with the legacy of National Socialism

Humanizing Artificial Intelligence Luca M. Possati, 2023-10-04 What does humankind expect from AI What kind of relationship between man and intelligent machine are we aiming for Does an AI need to be able to recognize human unconscious dynamics to act for the best of humans that best that not even humans can clearly define Humanizing AI analyses AI and its numerous applications from a psychoanalytical point of view to answer these questions This important interdisciplinary contribution to the social sciences as applied to AI shows that reflecting on AI means reflecting on the human psyche and personality therefore conceiving AI as a process of deconstruction and reconstruction of human identity AI gives rise to processes of identification and de identification that are not simply extensions of human identities as post humanist or trans humanist approaches believe but completely new forms of identification Humanizing AI will benefit a broad audience undergraduates postgraduates and teachers in sociology social theory science and technology studies cultural studies philosophy social psychology and international relations It will also appeal to programmers software designers students and professionals in the sciences
