Media Lena Redman,2018-11-21 This cutting edge book considers how advances in technologies and new media have transformed our perception of education and focuses on the impact of the privatisation of digital tools as a mean of knowledge production Arguing that education needs to adapt to the modern learner the book s unique approach is based on a

disassociation with the deeply ingrained attitude with which people have traditionally viewed education learning the existing symbolic systems of certain disciplines and then expressing themselves strictly within the operational modes of these systems The ways of knowledge production exploring recording representing making meaning of and sharing human experiences have been fundamentally transformed through the infusion of digital technologies into all aspects of human activity allowing learners to engage with their immediate natural social and cultural environments by capitalising on their individual abilities and interests This book proposes a new approach to teaching and learning termed cinematic bricolage which involves generating knowledge from heterogeneous resources in a do it yourself manner while making meaning through multimodal representations It shows how cinematic bricolage reconnects ways of knowing with ways of being empowering the individual with a sense of personal identity and responsibility helping to shape more aware social citizens Campaigning in the Aftermath of the 2020 Elections Robert E. Denton Jr.,2021-10-28 The post election period of the 2020 presidential campaign is historic not only for the culmination of tensions in the January 6 2021 storming of the US capitol but also in the very persistence of campaigning after the election was over Historically political campaigns have had only four phases pre primary primary convention and general election In 2020 there was a distinct and active post election campaign in which President Donald Trump vigorously challenged the election calling for recounts court challenges amid charges of voter fraud and irregularities Speeches rallies fundraising and advertising continued weeks past the election For the first time modern electoral history there was an active dramatic and decisive post election phase of the 2020 presidential campaign This volume explores political communication during the post election phase from election day until the inauguration of President Joseph R Biden Chapters address political branding the nature of argumentation in the era of partisanship the themes and issues of media coverage examination of Trump s January 6th address in terms of inciting an insurrection or free speech Trump s discursive strategy political advertising and political cartoons during this period concluding with an examination of the post election lawsuits
