Masonry in Texas James David Carter,1955 Freemasonry in Texas James David Carter,1954 Character Counts Michael Glenn Maness,2010-12 New Orleans and the Texas Revolution Edward L. Miller,2004-08-30 In the fall of 1835 Creole mercantile houses that backed the Mexican Federalists in their opposition to Santa Anna essentially lost the fight for Texas to the Americans of the Faubourg St Marie As a result New Orleans capital some 250 000 in loans and New Orleans men and arms two companies known as the New Orleans Greys went to support the upstart Texians in their battle against Santa Anna Author Edward L Miller has delved into previously unused or overlooked papers housed in New Orleans to reconstruct a chain of events that set the Crescent City in many ways at the center of the Texian fight for independence Not only did New Orleans business interests send money and men to Texas in exchange for promises of land but they also provided newspaper coverage that set the scene for later American annexation of the young republic In New Orleans and the Texas Revolution Miller follows other historians in arguing that Texian leaders recognized the importance of securing financial and popular support from New Orleans He has gone beyond others though in exploring the details of the organizing efforts there and the motives of the pro Texian forces On October 13 1835 a powerful group of financiers and businessmen met at Banks Arcade and formed the Committee on Texas Affairs Miller deftly mines the long ignored documentation of this meeting and the group that grew out of it to raise significant questions He also carefully documents the military efforts based in New Orleans from the disastrous Tampico Expedition to the formation of two companies of New Orleans Greys and their tragic fates at the Alamo and Goliad Whatever their motives Miller argues Texas became a life long preoccupation for many who attended that crucial meeting at Banks Arcade And the history of Texas was changed because of that preoccupation

the Heart of Texas East Texas Troubles Jody Edward Ginn, 2019-07-11 When the gun smoke cleared four men were found dead at the hardware store in a rural East Texas town But this December 1934 shootout was no anomaly San Augustine County had seen at least three others in the previous three years and these murders in broad daylight were only the latest development in the decade long rule of the criminal McClanahan Burleson gang Armed with handguns Jim Crow regulations and corrupt special Ranger commissions from infamous governors Ma and Pa Ferguson the gang racketeered and bootlegged its way into power in San Augustine County where it took up robbing and extorting local black sharecroppers as its main activity After the hardware store shootings white community leaders formerly silenced by fear of the gang s retribution finally sought state intervention In 1935 fresh faced newly elected governor James V Allred made good on his promise to reform state law enforcement agencies by sending a team of qualified Texas Rangers to San Augustine County to investigate reports of organized crime In East Texas Troubles historian Jody Edward Ginn tells of their year and a half long cleanup of the county the inaugural effort in Governor Allred s transformation of the Texas Rangers into a professional law enforcement agency Besides foreshadowing the wholesale reform of state law enforcement the Allred Rangers investigative work in San Augustine marked a rare close collaboration between white law enforcement officers and black residents Drawing on firsthand accounts and the sworn testimony of black and white residents in the resulting trials Ginn examines the consequences of such cooperation in a region historically entrenched in racial segregation In this story of a rural Texas community s resurrection Ginn reveals a multifaceted history of the reform of the Texas Rangers and of an unexpected alliance between the legendary frontier lawmen and black residents of the Jim Crow South The Divine Charter Jaime E.
