

Wealth inequality is present in communities across the US

In only a few areas of the country are the wealthiest 10% of households less than 4 times as wealthy as the median income of their neighbors. In a few areas of the nation, the wealthiest households are 6 or more times as wealthy as the median household in their community. And in some, like small areas of Manhattan in New York City, the wealthiest 10% of households are nearly 120 times as wealthy as their area's median.

Inequality In American Communities:

Inequality in American Communities Richard F. Curtis, Elton F. Jackson, 2013-09-11 Inequality in American Communities is an empirical study of inequality in U S communities and its impact on individual Americans The data for this study come from sample surveys in six American cities differing in size and region In each survey male heads of households were asked about attributes that ranked them in the system of inequality and about a variety of attitudes and behaviors that might be affected by their ranks The analyses seek to determine how social rank affects various attitudes and behaviors and compare these effects from community to community Comprised of 12 chapters this book begins with an overview of theoretical assumptions about community stratification with particular reference to how a person s life is shaped by his position in a local structure of inequality The discussion then turns to patterns of social stratification in six cities Columbus Ohio Linton and Indianapolis Indiana and Yuma Safford and Phoenix Arizona The distributions of various rank variables such as income and education in these cities are described along with the ways in which they are related to form systems of inequality A basic model of the processes of stratification is also presented The remaining chapters explore the consequences of social rank and cover topics ranging from social participation and political ideology to anomia and intolerance This monograph will be of interest to sociologists

Gutierrez, 2003 This analysis of social equity and the solicitation and granting of federal funds will examine how police agencies have changed in lieu of the receipt of these funds authorized by the 1994 Federal Crime Bill In the first part of this study an analysis of the recent history of federal funding aimed at improving law enforcement capabilities will be examined Next the community oriented policing COP movement will be analyzed by detailing the types of programs subsidized by the 1994 Crime Bill funding their original intent and how they were to be operationalized will be discussed A theoretical framework will be presented that will use empirical assessments of the number of community or proactive programs in place in each agency degrees of organizational change noted in a three year review of each department s structure as reported in the LEMAS survey of police departments the levels of economic inequality present in the jurisdictions that received COP funding and the ethnic composition of these jurisdictions

Contemporary Asian American Communities Linda Trinh Võ, Rick Bonus, 2009 Once thought of in terms of geographically bounded spaces Asian America has undergone profound changes as a result of post 1965 immigration as well as the growth and reshaping of established communities This collection of original essays demonstrates that conventional notions of community of ethnic enclaves determined by exclusion and ghettoization now have limited use in explaining the dynamic processes of contemporary community formation Writing from a variety of perspectives these contributors expand the concept of community to include sites not necessarily bounded by space formations around gender class sexuality and generation reveal new processes as well as the demographic diversity of today s Asian American population The case studies gathered here speak to the fluidity of these communities and to the need for new analytic approaches to account for the similarities and differences between them Taken together these essays forcefully argue that it is time to replace the outworn concept of a monolithic Asian America

African Americans in the U.S. Economy Cecilia Conrad, 2005

Over the last several decades academic discourse on racial inequality has focused primarily on political and social issues with significantly less attention on the complex interplay between race and economics African Americans in the U S Economy represents a contribution to recent scholarship that seeks to lessen this imbalance This book builds upon and significantly extends the principles terminology and methods of standard economics and black political economy Influenced by path breaking studies presented in several scholarly economic journals this volume is designed to provide a political economic analysis of the past and present economic status of African Americans The chapters in this volume represent the work of some of the nation s most distinguished scholars on the various topics presented The individual chapters cover several well defined areas including black employment and unemployment labor market discrimination black entrepreneurship racial economic inequality urban revitalization and black economic development The book is written in a style free of the technical jargon that characterizes most economics textbooks While the book is methodologically sophisticated it is accessible to a wide range of students and the general public and will appeal to academicians and practitioners alike

Wealth Accumulation and Communities of Color in the United States Jessica Gordon Nembhard, Ngina S. Chiteji, 2010-03-23

Congratulations to Drs Nembhard and Chiteji and the authors included in this much needed volume of work Their book offers the perspective and insight of scholars of color that are too often missing from information produced by the asset building field people and organizations seeking to help low income people develop assets Communities served by the asset building field are disproportionately made up of people of color This book captures work

produced by scholars representing these communities and offers innovative and thought provoking analyses of wealth inequality Decision making on research policy and practice that fails to incorporate the knowledge of these and other asset accumulation experts of color runs the risk of being fatally flawed and irrelevant to the communities the asset building field intends to serve Kilolo Kijakazi Ph D The Ford Foundation An important contribution to the economics literature on wealth and to our understanding of racial and ethnic inequality This book adds to our knowledge and understanding of the wealth positions of Latinos Asian Americans Hawaiians and Native Americans and places this information in the context of black white wealth inequality Cecilia A Conrad Department of Economics Pomona College This book does an outstanding job of introducing readers to a host of interesting questions related to racial and ethnic minority status and wealth composition and accumulation The chapters on wealth accumulation among Native Americans Latinos and Asian Americans offer one of the few places where this information is readily available The recent disaster in New Orleans has shown the nation that there is a strong interaction between wealth race and social outcomes This book not only fills a void in understanding the black white wealth inequality that was apparent after Hurricane Katrina but it also provides great insight into the wealth status of other racial and ethnic minorities Patrick L Mason Department of Economics Florida State University This edited volume takes up an important indeed fundamental topic bringing together leading scholars to assess wealth accumulation among people of color No other book or research report covers as many groups of color as appear in this volume devoting chapters to African Americans Latinos Native Americans Asian Americans and Native Hawaiians The result is a noteworthy achievement Michael Sherraden Benjamin E Youngdahl Professor of Social Development Washington University in St Louis Jessica Gordon Nembhard is Assistant Professor and Economist African American Studies Department and co founder of the Democracy Collaborative at the University of Maryland College Park Her work on the history of black cooperatives is well known in progressive circles Ngina Chiteji is Associate Professor of Economics Skidmore College She was a Visiting Assistant Research Scholar at The Democracy Collaborative University of Maryland College Park

inequality in New York City has usually had a narrow focus examining particular social problems affecting ethnic racial groups In contrast this book provides a comprehensive overview of racial inequality in the city s economy housing and education sectors over the last half century A collection of original essays by some of New York s most well known and emerging urban experts Racial Inequality in New York City since 1965 explores what city government has done and failed to do to address racial inequality It examines the changes in circumstances of Asian Latino West Indian and African American New Yorkers outlining how theirs have either improved or deteriorated relative to their white counterparts The contributors also analyze how practices and policies in policing public housing public health and community services have maintained racial inequality and discuss how political participation can increase social capital among city residents in order to reduce racial inequality The book concludes by offering a compendium of practical recommendations and actions that can be implemented to address racial inequality in the city

Rethinking Neighborhoods William A.V. Clark, 2024-05-02 Although neighborhoods are sometimes perceived as just a backdrop to our lives there is considerable evidence that they are central to our sense of wellbeing and in the functioning of the city Rethinking Neighborhoods is about these areas of geography what we know about how neighborhoods function why they matter and how we chose where to live
