THE STAGES OF GRIEF FOR CHILDREN

Adaptation of the Kübler-Ross Model (1969)

Grief is an overwhelming feeling that happens when big changes happen in our lives, such as a person or a pet dying. We can understand grief as being like a hilly journey with 6 stages. Everyone experiences these slightly differently.

STAGE 1

Shock, Denial and Loneliness
"This is not happening. I am so alone, no one understands."

STAGE 2

Anger
"This is my fault. Why is this happening to me? This is not fair!"

STAGE 3

Bargaining
"If only I had done something about it. What if we tried something different or done things differently?"

STAGE 4

Depression
"I feel empty and numb inside. I feel nothing."

STAGE 5

Acceptance
"They are not coming back and that is okay. I know I may still feel sad but I understand why I feel this way. It is okay to feel upset and angry sometimes."

STAGE 6

Healing
"I have people around me who I can talk to. These people will support me when I need them. I can cope."

Children, Adolescents, and Death Robert G. Stevenson, Gerry R. Cox, 2017-02-02 The topic of death and related issues such as grief often begin with questions When the questions come from or are about children or adolescents they bring an additional component the fear some adults have of giving a wrong answer In this context a wrong answer is one that can cause more harm than good for the child or adolescent who asked the question This book provides information that can be used to address the death related questions from children and adolescents It also looks at questions from caring adults about the way children or adolescents view death and the grief that follows a death or any major loss Children Adolescents and Death covers topics that start with early studies of childhood grief and progress to expression of grief in cyberspace There is no one answer to most of the questions in this book There are contributors from a number of continents countries cultures and academic disciplines each of whom brings a unique view of the topic issues they discuss There are presentations of practical interventions that others may copy upon which they can build There are a number of chapters that look at death education in both family and school settings This work contains ideas and techniques that can be of value to parents educators counselors therapists spiritual advisors caring adults and of course will be of the most benefit to those who ask the most questions the children and adolescents themselves

Children Mourning, Mourning Children Kenneth J. Doka, 2014-01-21 Based on the Hospice Foundation of America s second annual teleconference this book explores three basic themes in children s grief Firstly it maintains that children are always developing therefore their understanding of death and their reactions to illness and loss are also multifaceted and constantly undergoing change Secondly children grieve in ways that are both different from and similar to adults While they may need different therapeutic approaches from their elders each loss is different and the grief experience will be affected by many of the same factors that affect adults Thirdly it holds that they need significant support as they grieve Talking to children about loss and and illness is too important to wait until a crisis rather it is essential to provide opportunities to discuss loss in times that are not so Emotionally Laden This Book Aims To Demonstrate That Open Communication between parents and children will lead to skills and understanding that are essential to the child for coping with loss and reaffirming that death is part of the process of living

The ABC's of Grief Jessica Correnti,2023-10-15 Grief is messy and complicated Yet many children find themselves grieving at a young age due to illness death of a significant person moving deployment of a family member pet loss divorce mental health issues within the family foster care or other major changes or losses within their life The ABCs of Grief takes a complex multifaceted topic and breaks it down into a relatable and digestible language for young children Each letter of the alphabet explores a different aspect of the grief experience providing space for children to process the complex emotions and experiences encountered while grieving A is for Anything I can grieve any type of change An illness accident move divorce death or other difficult experiences B is for Bursts I do not feel grief all the time but when I feel it I feel it BIG Bursts of feelings and memories flood my mind and stop me in my tracks C is Coping I can cope and move through my difficult experiences in many ways This is the perfect conversation starter book for parents caregivers and professionals who support grieving children teens and even adults

How Children Grieve Corinne Masur,2024-10-03 An informative empathetic and accessible guide to understanding childhood grief at every age which will help caretakers to support children mourning after loss From Dr Corinne Masur an award winning clinical psychologist specialising in grief and mourning comes a necessary and impactful guide to understanding children s grief from the inside and to guiding children through loss from the death of a parent and other family members to the loss of friends pets and even the family home Dr Masur describes how to understand help and guide children at each age and stage of development and uses her own childhood experience with loss through empathetic yet clinically informed advice When Dr Masur was fourteen years old her father died Like most children and teens facing loss Masur didn t know how to handle her grief and she was never encouraged to acknowledge or share what she was feeling with her family teachers or friends Her experience of shock and emotional paralysis around her loss is what led her to become an expert in childhood grief in order to help grieving children and to help others to support the children in their lives who have experienced loss As a psychologist and child psychoanalyst Dr Masur has helped many children recognise and express their feelings after loss In How Children Grieve Masur shares her expertise with caregivers of all kinds giving them the tools they need to help a child or teenager to mourn to move forward and to make meaning of terrible loss
