

The background of the book cover is a detailed architectural drawing in a light blue and grey color scheme. It depicts a multi-story building with a prominent grid-like facade, possibly representing a curtain wall or a brick pattern. The building has a sloped roof with several chimneys or ventilation stacks. In the foreground, there are architectural details like a staircase and a railing, suggesting an elevated or interior perspective. The overall style is technical and precise, typical of architectural illustrations.
