Teaching Recent Global History Diana B. Turk, Laura J. Dull, Robert Cohen, Michael R. Stoll, 2014-03-05 Teaching Recent Global History explores innovative ways to teach world history beginning with the early 20th century. The authors' unique approach unites historians, social studies teachers, and educational curriculum specialists to offer historically rich, pedagogically innovative, and academically rigorous lessons that help students connect with and deeply understand key events and trends in recent global history. Highlighting the best scholarship for each major continent, the text explores the ways that this scholarship can be adapted by teachers in the classroom in order to engage and inspire students. Each of the eight main chapters highlights a particularly important event or theme, which is then complemented by a detailed discussion of a particular methodological approach. Key features include: An overarching narrative that helps readers address historical arguments; Relevant primary documents or artifacts plus a discussion of a particular historical method well suited to teaching about them; Lesson plans suitable for both middle and secondary level classrooms; Document-based questions and short bibliographies for further research on the topic. This invaluable book is ideal for any aspiring or current teacher who wants to think critically about how to teach world history and make historical discussions come alive for students. Military planning in the twentieth century : proceedings of the Eleventh Military History Symposium 10-12 October 1984 Harry R. Borowski, 1986 The essays, commentaries, and speeches which form this volume were presented at the Eleventh Military History Symposium held at the United States Air Force Academy on 10-12 October 1984. This conference is a biennial event sponsored jointly by the Department of History and the Association of Graduates of the United States Air Force Academy. Begun in 1967, the series seeks to address problems in military history which have received limited attention and to provide a forum in which scholars may present the results of their research. In this manner, we hope to stimulate and encourage interest in military history among civilian and military scholars, members of the armed forces, and the cadets of the United States Air Force Academy. Classroom Connect Newsletter, 2002 Military Planning in the Twentieth Century Harry R. Intellectual rigor and academic standards demand that the full scope of amphibious warfare be encompassed rather than the tracing of Marine Corps History emphasizing the landings of the Great Pacific War which had forged our modern Corps The present course structure and content reflect the determination that 1 the history of amphibious warfare remains a valid intellectual endeavor 2 its scope greatly exceeds the study of the U S Marine Corps and 3 a historical survey of amphibious warfare is best approached from a Maneuver Warfare perspective exploring the various levels of war and their impact on each battle The levels of war would include the political strategic operational and tactical technical This construct of classes will also prepare students to become critical thinkers of warfare and thus better prepare them for future commissioned service to the Marine Corps Instructors are cautioned to observe that this manual contains lesson guides not lesson plans Instructors must devote time for serious background reading in recommended literature course texts and contemplation of a conceptual approach that will capture the imagination of their students Another important objective of this course must be to stimulate original thought and persistent interest on the part of the student

PROFESSIONAL CORE COMPETENCY OBJECTIVES The primary objectives of this course are to provide prospective merchant marine officers a basic understanding of their role in our national security and to familiarize them with the basic principles and procedures for operating a merchant ship as a naval or military auxiliary in a wartime convoy or independent sailing situation
