Th Kloek, 1999 This stunning book presents the very best still lifes produced in the Netherlands at the height of the genre from the early beginnings in the 16th century with Pieter Aertsen and Joachim Beuckelaer to the late highlights in the 18th century with Rachel Ruysch and Jan van Huysum Despite the popularity and abundance of flower paintings in modern collections the book includes a wide range of subjects and styles from the simple to the complex the charmingly small to the opulent and extravagant and from flowers to hunting still lifes or objects in the corner of a painter's studio along with an occasional trompe l'oeil The visual delights of still life painting have a strong historical context Collectors and connoisseurs purchased them because of their realism visual appeal and relevance to their own lives Poets praised the wonders of still life paintings and evoked the power of painting to transcend the seasons and the passing of time Contemporary observers lauded the expensive and elaborate objects often on display The book therefore considers the visual achievement of the Netherlandish still life painters in the context of contemporary reactions to pictures art theory and issues of patronage Numerous artists were tempted to try their hand at still life drawn by a new and enchanting genre that allowed an artist to create independent worlds of inanimate objects on the flat surface of a picture imaginary realms that had an exceptional following among connoisseurs of the time These images continue to work their magic on present day art lovers Asia in Amsterdam Rijksmuseum (Netherlands), 2015-01-01 Discusses the Asian luxury goods that were imported into the Netherlands during the 17th century and demonstrates the overwhelming impact these works of art had on Dutch life and art during the Golden Age

Perry Chapman,Newark Museum,2001 The caress of fabrics the sheen of metal the brittle luminosity of glass Dutch genre painters of the Golden Age were so skilled at mimicking the appearance of things that their largely imaginary domestic scenes are utterly convincing pictures of life as it was once lived The contemporary viewer enters this world of make believe as eagerly as Dorothy stepped into the land of Oz with a complete trust in the fitness and accuracy of the illusion Now four eminent art historians reveal the trick behind this illusion and give us insight into the social reality that animates the deception We learn why domestic interiors were a favorite subject for seventeenth century Dutch artists and why buyers snatched up these paintings before their varnish dried And we come to understand why these images of home and family the earliest in the history of art still speak to us three hundred years later in a voice as fresh and powerful as when they first appeared This is the story of an art that echoed and shaped the ideals of an emerging nation a sensitive portrait of the painted fictions that laid the ground for our modern concept of home as the compass of our true selves Book jacket Haags zilver uit vijf eeuwen Margarethe Leonarda Joanna Maria Jansen,S.M..
