and subtle or dramatic and breathtaking are deeply personal events More than half of us have undergone a spiritual transformation each unique and life changing We may only have a moment or two to act or we may have a few months to sort things out We may curse the gods or sink to our knees in gratitude The circumstances vary but two things are certain One our life is about to change And two it's a day we will not soon forget Sixty Seconds is an uplifting collection of intimate heartfelt stories from prominent people who graciously share their personal experiences with the profound Their moving life altering interviews powerfully illustrate that sacred moments of illumination and insight are available to us all

Night of the World Frank Smecker, 2014-05-30 By situating objectivity at the level of ideology while placing it within a dynamic experimental and at times unorthodox interplay with Hegelian and Lacanian philosophy The Night of the World offers a unique and radical re thinking of objectivity Encompassing a constellational array of wide ranging subjects from popular culture politics history science and philosophy while deploying an engaging prose that is both incisive and seamlessly tangential Smecker is both an ally with and emerging voice in the field of Zizekian dialectics Incorporating Zizek's philosophy Smecker speculates over both objectivity and ideology evoking methods of thought not so prevalent since German Idealism was all the rage In the spirit of Kierkegaard The Night of the World is the result of an imaginative hypothesis And that is only the half of it Written in a style that will undoubtedly leave the reader itching to read it again once finished The Night of the World is an ongoing engagement with an abundance of additional postulations whose sole purpose is to produce more products of thought

My Expectations Nearly Killed My Dream Andries J. Jacobs, 2020 Operating in a start up and entrepreneurial environment that is innovative fast paced and requires multitasking brings about the realization that a demonstrable gap exists between what leadership expects of consultants and how they in reality work referred to as the expectation reality gap ERG Whether you have an idea are ready to initiate or are building your consulting organization you will benefit from the content of this book Once your leadership and consultants grasp the themes writes Jacobs they will respond with urgency to become key players and gain significant momentum for your start up and consulting business Jacobs masterfully applied the input process output IPO model and descriptive attributes to demonstrate and analyze the ERG and guide readers to gain insight into why the expectation reality gap occurs and what inadequacies might exist in terms of culture capability and leadership Jacobs provides for each theme a checklist of questions to ascertain whether your organization employs practices to avoid or narrow the ERG Realizing the ERG themes exist and understanding the context is a powerful instrument For hiring teams during the recruitment process client engagement leaders when engaging consultants in business development activities project leaders in assigning and mentoring team members executive management in starting leading and managing consulting organizations and for individual consultants understanding what leaders expect My Expectations Nearly Killed My Dream is the checklist methodology every entrepreneur needs to build a non conventional business an influential culture and talent that can sustain an environment characterized by client value speed and adaptability God at Work David W. Miller, 2007 In the 1980s Miller shows a complex set of independent developments gave rise to what is known as the Faith At Work movement He analyses the history of the movement examines membership profiles and modes of expression and constructs and proposes a new framework for discussing the movement

CEO Society Peter Bloom, Carl Rhodes, 2018-04-15 Chief Executive Officers CEOs have become the cultural icons of the 21st century Figures like Steve Jobs and Mark Zuckerberg are held up as role models who epitomise the modern pursuit of innovation wealth and success We now live Bloom and Rhodes argue in a CEO society a society where corporate leadership has become the model for transforming not just business but all spheres of life where everyone from politicians to jobseekers to even those seeking love are expected to imitate the qualities of the lionized corporate executive But why in the wake of the failings exposed by the 2008 financial crisis does the corporate ideal continue to exert such a grip on popular attitudes In this insightful new book Bloom and Rhodes examine the rise of the CEO society and how it has started to transform governments culture and the economy This influence they argue holds troubling implications for the future of democracy as evidenced by the disturbing political rise of Donald Trump in the US and for our society as a whole Faith Reads David

Rainey, 2008-07-30 At last a resource for librarians who wish to build or develop their nonfiction collection and use it to better serve the needs of adult Christian readers Covering the three major branches of Christianity Roman Catholic Protestant and Orthodox the author organizes more than 600 titles into subject categories ranging from biography the arts and education to theology devotion and spiritual warfare Award winning classics are noted Introductory narrative frames the literature and helps librarians better understand Christian literature and learn how to establish selection criteria for building a Christian nonfiction collection Evangelical Christian Executives Lewis D. Solomon, 2017-10-24 In Evangelical Christian Executives Dr Solomon has captured the essence of an effective and refreshingly different approach to business In telling the compelling stories of six Christian CEOs he shows us an alternative to an ethic of greed that has so tarnished corporate

America John D Beckett CEO and Chairman of R W Beckett Corp Events of recent years have encouraged a high degree of skepticism and doubt about business institutions and markets In the face of widespread cynicism about corporate credibility business leaders are seeking to restore the trust and confidence not only of investors but of employees customers suppliers shareholders potential investors and the public at large In this volume Lewis D Solomon focuses on evangelical Christians who have founded or come to lead six firms He explores whether religion offers a constructive way to think about corporate governance and the tensions between profitability and social responsibility Solomon finds that many Christian executives have a private faith leading quietly by example Others want their faith to shine forth Solomon focuses on this latter group dividing them into two categories The first group he identifies as preachers who weave visible demonstrations of their faith into the fabric of their businesses The second are those who take a more sophisticated approach based on two biblical principles stewardship and or servant leadership In addition to examining how these leaders of faith have successfully brought their religious values into their businesses he assesses the consequences of incorporating their faith and values into their business organizations considering profitability employee and customer satisfaction legal and environmental compliance and charitable giving Together with these leadership styles and results Solomon presents three business models constant transformational and evolving that enable readers to gain a further understanding of the six companies While Solomon shows that it is possible to integrate financial profitability and broader religious goals he finds that it is difficult though not impossible to maintain a biblically based leadership style after a firm goes public or expands With the growth of evangelical Christianity in many sectors of American public life this volume will be of broad interest to business executives sociologists students of religion and economists Lewis D Solomon is Theodore Rinehart Professor of Business Law at the George Washington University Law School where he has taught corporate and tax law for over twenty five years A prolific author on legal business public policy and religious topics he has written over fifty books and numerous articles He is an ordained rabbi and interfaith minister
