Hiding in Plain Sight Christian P. Potholm, 2021-10-22 Hiding in Plain Sight Women Warriors throughout Time and Space takes the many long standing dimensions of military history including the various modalities of warfare across cultures and periods and integrates them with the more recent and very substantial contributions of social history women's history black history feminist theory LGBTQ community and other perspectives By providing an extensive annotated bibliography of the new findings the work provides the reader with an exciting compilation of new knowledge placed within a longstanding military historical framework one which provides a broader study and understanding of warfare into which to put the very recent disparate findings culled from many disciplines The book reaffirms that women have long been deeply embedded in the practice of warfare not simply as victims or minor curiosities but as important actors tactically strategically in combat and directing warfare from afar just as their male counterparts The concomitant amalgam also shows that certain types and patterns of warfare such as the defense of castles and fortresses commanding a ship or a fleet revolutionary warfare and today's drone and cyber forms of warfare have been more conducive to female activity than other forms of warfare even as women are also present in a wider variety of other broader temporal and geographical dimensions of the history of warfare Hiding in Plain Sight is the only extensive annotated bibliography currently available which provides such a holistic overview of recent scholarship by grounding that scholarship in the existing military canon and history King and Court in Ancient Persia 559 to 331 BCE Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones, 2014-02-14 This book explores the representation of Persian monarchy and the court of the Achaemenid Great Kings from the point of view of the ancient Iranians themselves and through the sometimes distorted prism of Classical authors Gendering Culture in Greater Syria Fruma Zachs, Sharon Halevi, 2014-11-14 The Nahda lit the Awakening was one of the most significant cultural movements in modern Arab history By focusing on the neglected role of women in the intellectual Islamic renaissance of the late Ottoman Period Fruma Zachs

and Sharon Halevi provide a refreshingly interdisciplinary exploration of gender and culture in the Arab World Focusing mainly on Greater Syria this book re examines the cultural by products of the Nahda such as scientific debates journal articles essays short stories and novels and provides a new framework for rethinking the dynamics of cultural and social change in what today we know as Syria and Lebanon The lasting impact of the Nahda is given an innovative and thoroughly unique interpretation providing an indispensable perspective to studying the nuanced roles of the construction and development of gender ideologies in the nineteenth century Middle East The authors explore contemporary ideas concerning modern gender roles in the Middle East and the extent to which these emerged in nineteenth century Greater Syria How were these ideas incorporated into daily lives consumer patterns and cultural activities Was class a determining factor in the creation of gender relations in the Muslim world How were the subjectivities of gender moulded and articulated in fictional and non fictional texts The authors delineate both the evolution of a discourse on gender as well the real life activities of men and women as writers readers and participants in philanthropic and cultural societies literary salons and educational enterprises This book reemphasizes the position of the Nahda in the worlds of Damascus Aleppo and Beirut as an innovative deeply influential and significant socio cultural and political movement in its own right which played a major role in shaping modern Arab culture worldviews and self perception Zachs and Halevi here provide a new framework for rethinking the dynamics of cultural and social change and present a groundbreaking new interpretation of the cumulative impact of the Nahda on gender perception in the late Ottoman Period

Gender, Religion and Education in a Chaotic Postmodern World Zehavit Gross, Lynn Davies, Al-Khansaa Diab, 2012-12-04 The immense changes that the world is undergoing in terms of globalization and migration of peoples have had a profound effect on cultures and identities The question is whether this means shifts in religious identities for women and men in different contexts whether such shifts are seen as beneficial negative or insufficient or whether social change actually means new conservatism or even fundamentalisms Surrounding these questions is the role of education is in any change or new contradiction This unique book enhances an interdisciplinary discourse about the complex intersections between gender religion and education in the contemporary world Literature in the social sciences and humanities have expanded our understanding of women s involvement in almost every aspect of life yet the combined religious educational aspect is still an under studied and often under theorized field of research How people experience their religious identity in a new context or country is also a theme now needing more complex attention Questions of the body visibility and invisibility are receiving new treatments This book fills these gaps The book provides a strong comparative perspective with 15 countries or contexts represented The context of education and learning covers schools higher education non formal education religious institutions adult literacy curriculum and textbooks Overall the book reveals a great complexity and often contradiction in modern negotiations of religion and secularism by girls and boys women and men and a range of possibilities for change It provides a theoretical and practical resource for researchers religious and educational institutions policy makers and teachers Precarious Modernities

Cristiana Strava,2021-12-02 Using rich ethnographic detail Precarious Modernities offers an immersive account of the multiple scales and entangled actors involved in the objectification and instrumentalization of Casablanca s margins as part of ongoing and contingent processes of modernization Focusing on the everyday lives and spaces of a mythicized community and its interaction with heritage activists international development agendas and technocratic planning regimes the book documents how the depoliticization of the urban margins aids the consolidation of deeply unequal social spatial and economic orders The result is a unique account of the political continuities security logics economic ideologies and competing forces that shape the possibilities open to precarious communities in a storied and sprawling metropolis As marginalized inhabitants develop pragmatic ways of appropriating or resisting powerful agendas unanticipated and novel forms of political engagement emerge These signal the revival and reconfiguration of notions of class and open up creative and alternative spatial avenues for participation in an era of increasing authoritarianisms The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions

Wail S. Hassan,2017-08-01 The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions is the most comprehensive treatment of the subject to date In scope the book encompasses the genesis of the Arabic novel in the second half of the nineteenth century and its development to the present in every Arabic speaking country and in Arab immigrant destinations on six continents Editor Wail S Hassan and his contributors describe a novelistic phenomenon which has pre modern roots stretching centuries back within the Arabic cultural tradition and branching outward geographically and linguistically to every Arab country and to Arab writing in many languages around the world The first of three innovative dimensions of this Handbook consists of examining the ways in which the Arabic novel emerged out of a syncretic merger between Arabic and European forms and techniques rather than being a simple importation of the latter and rejection of the former as early critics of the Arabic novel claimed The second involves mapping the novel geographically as it took root in every Arab country developing into often distinct though overlapping and interconnected local traditions Finally the Handbook concerns the multilingual character of the novel in the Arab world and by Arab immigrants and their descendants around the world both in Arabic and in at least a dozen other languages The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions reflects the current status of research in the broad field of Arab novelistic traditions and signals toward new directions of inquiry

Housing in the Ancient Mediterranean World J. A. Baird, April Pudsey, 2022-07-21 One of the greatest benefits of studying the ancient Greek and Roman past is the ability to utilise different forms of evidence in particular both written and archaeological sources The contributors to this volume employ this evidence to examine ancient housing and what might be learned of identities families and societies but they also use it as a methodological locus from which to interrogate the complex relationship between different types of sources Chapters range from the recreation of the house as it was conceived in Homeric poetry to the decipherment of a painted Greek lekythos to build up a picture of household activities to the conjuring of the sensorial experience of a house in Pompeii Together they present a rich tapestry which demonstrates what can be gained for our understanding of ancient housing from examining the interplay between the words of ancient texts and the walls of archaeological evidence Fashioning the Modern Middle East Reina Lewis, Yasmine Nachabe Taan, 2021-06-03 In the first book to address the critical role of the undressed body in the formation of the modern Middle East, these essays unveil contemporary struggles over nation, gender, modernity, and postmodernity. Contributions from leading interdisciplinary scholars exploring gender representation, photography, dress, and visual culture recount the role of the visible elite body in campaigns for gender and social emancipation, dress histories concerning early nationalist women and men, and legal frameworks used by those who seek to control the movement of gendered bodies. The result is a rich picture of a historical period and cultural landscape which brings dress and visual culture back into historical narratives of the modern Middle East. Recognising multiple modernities, multiple imperialisms, and diverse regional experiences of postcolonialism, Fashioning the Modern Middle East contains a range of theoretical frameworks invaluable to students of fashion studies, Middle Eastern studies, anthropology, photography, and gender. Bringing forward new primary material and re-investigating extant sources from new perspectives, this is the essential introduction to the role of the dressed and undressed body in the formation of the modern Middle East.
