

Knife Fighting

Knife Palming with the Ice Pick grip

The ice pick grip also permits you to palm your knife in your hand. Knife palming is a strategic method of concealing your knife behind your forearm during the precontact stage of knife fighting.

Knife palming is probably one of the most deceptive forms of knife concealment and can surprise even the most seasoned knife fighter. Therefore, when confronted by a potential adversary, always be aware of his hands. Remember, if you can't see the opponent's fingertips, beware – he could also be palming a knife.

Chapter 3 Knife Fighting Grips and Ranges

The knife fighting grips are not just limited to knife fighting. They have numerous weapon applications, including the applications to hand guns.

When using the ice pick grip, don't make the common mistake of holding the knife with the cutting edge facing away from the adversary.

MCMAP is an integrated weapons based system that incorporates the full spectrum of the force continuum on the battlefield and contributes to the mental character and physical development of Marines. It is the intent that MCMAP enhances the transformation from civilian to Marine by capitalizing on the zeal of entry level training and developing the Marine ethos in a progressive manner throughout a Marine's career. Concept of operations: a All Marines regardless of age grade or sex must perform MCMAP qualifications b Commanders shall conduct MCMAP training in accordance with the instructions contained e The prescribed minimum requirements of this Order should not be interpreted as limiting the commander. Commanders are encouraged to conduct additional MCMAP training in a progressive safe manner to enhance unit performance and fitness levels of Marines.
