Barker, Nicholas Morton, 2018-08-30 There are several theories of executive functions that tend to share some theoretical overlap yet are also conceptually distinct each bolstered by empirical data Norman and Shallice 1986 Shallice Stuss and Alexander 2007 Burgess Gilbert Burgess Miyake et al 2000 The notion that executive processes are supervisory and most in demand in novel situations was an early conceptualization of executive function that has been adapted and refined over time Norman Shallice 2001 Burgess Gilbert ii automatic orientation towards stimuli in the environment or internally driven thought Burgess Gilbert iii the automatically generated interface between tacit processes and strategic conscious thought Barker Andrade Romanowski Morton and Wasti 2006 Morton and Barker 2010 and iv distinct but interrelated executive processes that maintain update and switch across different sources of information Miyake et al 2000 One problem is that executive dysfunction or dysexecutive syndrome Baddeley Eslinger Barker Andrade Andr s Chevignard et al 2000 Cripe 1998 Fortin Godbout Lamberts Evans Barker Morton Morrison McGuire 2011 Complete elimination of environmental confounds runs the risk of generating results that cannot be generalized beyond constrained circumstances of the test environment Barker Andrade Burgess et al 2006 Finally translational issues also confound executive function research across different disciplines psychiatry cognitive science and developmental psychology and across typically developing and clinical populations including Autism Spectrum Disorders Head Injury and Schizophrenia Blakemore Taylor Barker Heavey McHale 2013 Consequently there is a need for unification of executive function approaches across disciplines and populations and narrowing of the conceptual gap between theoretical positions clinical symptoms and measurement Research in action Conny Almekinders, Leni Beukema, Coen Tromp, 2023-09-04 Research in action engages the researcher who wants to live up to the challenges of contemporary science and to contribute to innovation and social change This ambition to contribute to change raises many questions How to define the main target group of the research What role does this group play in the research Which methods of data collection are most appropriate Who are the commissioners of the research and do their interests match with those of the prime target group How to deal with power relations in research situations What do these issues mean for the relation of researcher with the people in the researched situation And last but not least what does it all imply for the researcher him or herself These questions have to be dealt with in situations in which the design and organization of the research is still open but also in situations where these have already been preformatted through the research proposal or earlier developments In any case they have to be framed in the theoretical considerations of what is science This book aims to assist scholars and practitioners who would want to deal with this kind of research and questions The book does not offer recipes nor fixed scenarios It presents a series of practical research cases and theoretical insights by experienced researchers who themselves struggled with what is probably the most meaningful questions of the science today The practical examples of research in action are from different disciplines and include themes from health care policy research agricultural technology and education in Northern and Southern context Four leading themes of research in action are introduced in the first chapter In the last chapter the editors return to the dilemmas research in action and try to clarify the options and responses that are possible in different situations Record Linkage Techniques--1985 Beth Kilss,Wendy Alvey,1985 Summary Report of the 1967-68 Regional Conferences on the New Preservation Under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, Public Law 89-665 United States.
