Russi,2020-10-14 Sicilian Elements in Andrea Camilleri's Narrative Language examines Camilleri's unique linguistic repertoire and techniques over his career as a novelist. It focuses on the intensification of Sicilian linguistic features in Camilleri's narrative works in particular features pertaining to the domains of sounds and grammar since these have been marginalized in linguistic centered research on the evolution of Camilleri's narrative language and remain overall understudied. Through a systematic comparative analysis of the distribution patterns of selected Sicilian features in a selection of Camilleri's historical novels and novels of the Montalbano series the author identifies the individual features that have become most widespread and the lexical items that are targeted with highest frequency and consistency. The results of the analysis show that in the earlier novels Sicilian features are rather sparse and can be attributed to linguistic situational functionality that is they function as indices of salient distinctive aspects of topics settings events situations and characters. Conversely in the latest novels Sicilian elements pervade the entire novels and the texts are written almost entirely in Camilleri's own Sicilian vigatese so that Sicilian is stripped of any linguistic situational functionality. Minority comprehensively covers the history of Italian crime fiction from its origins to the present. Using the concept of moral rebellion the author examines the ways in which Italian crime fiction has articulated the country's social and political changes. The book concentrates on such writers as Augusto de Angelis 1888-1944 Giorgio Scerbanenco 1911-1969 Leonardo Sciascia 1921-1989 Andrea Camilleri b 1925 Lorian Macchiavelli b 1934 Massimo Carlotto b 1956 and Marcello Fois b 1960. Through the analysis of writers belonging to differing crucial periods of Italy's history this work reveals the many ways in which authors exploit the genre to reflect social transformation and dysfunction. Mediterranean Crime Fiction Barbara

Pezzotti,2023-11-23 By exploring the transcultural nature of Mediterranean crime fiction Barbara Pezzotti advocates for a regional reading of the genre. Sicily on Screen Giovanna Summerfield,2020-03-17 With its physical beauty and kaleidoscopic cultural background Sicily has long been a source of inspiration for filmmakers. Twelve new essays by international scholars and additional writings from directors Roberta Torre Giovanna Taviani and Costanza Quatriglio seek to offset the near absence of scholarship focusing on the relationship between the Mediterranean island and cinema Touching on class relations immigration gender and poverty the essays examine how Sicily is depicted in fiction satire and documentaries Situated between North and South East and West innovation and tradition authenticity and displacement Sicily acts as a microcosm of the world a place to explore numerous narratives and develop intercultural dialogue It is also the center of cinematographic discussions and events such as the Taormina Film Festival and the SalinaDocFest The volume presents Sicily almost as a character and creator in its own right

The Cultural Semantics of Address Practices Gian Marco Farese, 2018-08-15 This book presents a contrastive analysis of various forms of address used in English and Italian from the perspective of cultural semantics the branch of linguistics which investigates the relationship between meaning and culture in discourse The objects of the analysis are the interactional meanings expressed by different forms of address in these two languages which are compared adopting the methodology of the Natural Semantic Metalanguage The forms analyzed include greetings titles and opening and closing salutations used in letters and e mails in the two languages Noticeably the book presents the first complete categorization of Italian titles used as forms of address ever made on the basis of precise semantic criteria The analysis also investigates the different cultural values and assumptions underlying address practices in English and Italian and emphasizes the risks of miscommunication caused by different address practices in intercultural interactions Every chapter presents numerous examples taken from language corpora contemporary English and Italian literature and personal e mails and letters The book encourages a new innovative approach to the analysis of forms of address it proposes a new analytical method for the analysis of forms of address which can be applied to the study of other languages systematically In addition the book emphasizes the role of culture in address practices and takes meaning as the basis for understanding the differences in use across languages and the difficulties in translating forms of address of different languages Combining semantics ethnopragmatics intercultural communication and translation theory this book is aimed at a very broad readership which includes not only scholars in linguistics second language learners and students of cross cultural communication but virtually anyone interested in Italian and English linguistics as well as in cultural semantics The approach taken is interdisciplinary and brings together various fields in the social sciences linguistics anthropology cross cultural studies and sociology

The Foreign in International Crime Fiction Jean Anderson, Carolina Miranda, Barbara Pezzotti, 2012-06-14 The foreigner is a familiar character in popular crime fiction from the foreign detective whose outsider status provides a unique perspective on a familiar or exotic location to the xenophobic portrayal of the criminal other Exploring popular crime fiction from across the world The Foreign in International Crime Writing examines these popular works as transcultural contact zones in which writers can tackle such issues as national identity immigration globalization and diaspora communities Offering readings of 20th and 21st century crime writing from Norway the UK India China Europe and Australasia the essays in this book open up new directions for scholarship on crime writing and transnational literatures

The Importance of Place in Contemporary Italian Crime Fiction Barbara Pezzotti, 2012-09-14 By taking as its point of departure the privileged relationship between the crime novel and its setting this book is the most wide ranging examination of the way in which Italian detective fiction in the last twenty years has become a means to articulate the changes in the social landscape of the country Nowadays there is a general acknowledgment of the importance of place in Italian crime novels However apart from a limited scholarship on single cities the genre has never been systematically studied in a way that so comprehensively spans Italian national boundaries The originality of this volume also lies in the fact that the author have not limited her investigation to a series of cities but rather she has considered the different forms of social landscape in which Italian crime novels are set Through the analysis of the way in which cities the urban sprawl and islands are represented in the serial novels of eleven of the most important contemporary crime writers in Italy of the 1990s Pezzotti articulates the different ways in which individual authors appropriate the structures and tropes of the genre to reflect the social transformations and dysfunctions of contemporary Italy In so doing this volume also makes a case for the genre as an instrument of social critique and analysis of a still elusive Italian national identity thus bringing further evidence in support of the thesis that in Italy detective fiction has come to play the role of the new social novel
