Tony Award for Best Play and years after Wilson's death in 2005 Jitney earned a Tony Award for Best Revival of a Play. Through his brilliant use of vernacular speech Wilson developed unforgettable characters who epitomized the trials and triumphs of the African American experience. He said that he didn't research his plays but wrote them from the blood's memory, a sense of racial history that he believed African Americans shared. Author and theater critic Patti Hartigan traced his ancestry back to slavery and his plays echo with uncanny similarities to the history of his ancestors. She interviewed Wilson many times before his death and traces his life from his childhood in Pittsburgh where nine of the plays take place to Broadway. She also interviewed scores of friends, theater colleagues, and family members and conducted extensive research to tell the absorbing, richly detailed Chicago Tribune story of a writer who left an indelible imprint on American theater and opened the door for future playwrights of color.

August Wilson's Fences Ladrice Menson-Furr, 2013-06-06 Fences represents the decade of the 1950s and when it premiered in 1985 it won the Pulitzer Prize. Set during the beginnings of the civil rights movement, it also concerns generational change and renewal, ending with a celebration of the life of its protagonist even though it takes place at his funeral. Critics and scholars have lauded August Wilson's work for its universality and its ability, especially in Fences, to transcend racial barriers, and this play helped to earn him the titles of America's greatest playwright and the African American Shakespeare.

Modern American Drama: Playwriting in the 1980s Sandra G. Shannon, 2019-11-14 The Decades of Modern American Playwriting series provides a comprehensive survey and study of the theatre produced in each decade from the 1930s to 2009 in eight volumes. Each volume equips readers with a detailed understanding of the context from which work emerged; an introduction considers life in the decade with a focus on domestic life and conditions, social changes, culture, media, technology, industry, and political events, while a chapter on the theatre of the decade offers a wide-ranging and thorough survey of theatres, companies, dramatists, new movements, and developments in response to the economic and political conditions of the day. The work of the four most prominent playwrights from the decade receives in-depth analysis and re-evaluation by a team of experts, together with commentary on their subsequent work and legacy. A final section brings together original documents such as interviews with the playwrights and with directors, drafts of play scenes, and other previously unpublished material. The major playwrights and their plays to receive in-depth coverage in this volume include David Mamet Edmond 1982, Glengarry Glen Ross 1984, Speed the Plow 1988, and Oleanna 1992; David Henry Hwang Family Devotions 1981, The Sound of a Voice 1983, and M. Butterfly 1988; Maria Irene Fornes The Danube 1982, Mud 1983, and The Conduct of Life 1985; August Wilson Ma Rainey's Black Bottom 1984, Joe Turner's Come and Gone 1984, and Fences 1987.

The Theatre of August Wilson Alan Nadel, 2018-05-17 The first comprehensive study of August Wilson's drama introduces the major themes and motifs that unite Wilson's ten-play cycle about African American life in each decade of the twentieth century. Framed by Wilson's life experiences and informed by his extensive interviews, this book provides fresh, coherent, detailed readings of each play, well situated in the extant scholarship. It also provides an overview of the cycle as a whole demonstrating how it comprises a compelling interrogation of American culture and historiography Keenly aware of the musical paradigms informing Wilson's dramatic technique Nadel shows how jazz and particularly the blues provide the structural mechanisms that allow Wilson to examine alternative notions of time property and law Wilson's improvisational logics become crucial to expressing his notions of black identity and resituating the relationship of literal to figurative in the African American community The final two chapters include contributions by scholars Harry J Elam Jr and Donald E Pease

Rise Up! Chris Jones, 2018-11-15 Penned by one of America's best known daily theatre critics and organized chronologically this lively and readable book tells the story of Broadway's renaissance from the darkest days of the AIDS crisis via the disaster that was Spiderman Turn off the Dark through the unparalleled financial artistic and political success of Lin Manuel Miranda's Hamilton It is the story of the embrace of risk and substance In so doing Chris Jones makes the point that the theatre thrived by finally figuring out how to embrace the bold statement and insert itself into the national conversation only to find out in 2016 that a hefty sector of the American public had not been listening to what it had to say Chris Jones was in the theatres when and where it mattered He takes readers from the moment when Tony Kushner's angel crashed quite literally through the ceiling of prejudice and religious intolerance to the triumph of Hamilton with the coda of the Broadway cast addressing a new Republican vice president from the stage That complex performance at once indicative of the theatre's new clout and its inability to fully change American society for the better is the final scene of the book

Jitney August Wilson, 2017-08-24 Jitney is the seventh in Wilson's American Century cycle of plays on the black experience in twentieth century America He writes not about historical events or the pathologies of the black community but the unique particulars of black culture Currently on Broadway it was first produced in New York in the spring of 2000 with a London run following in 2001 winning rave reviews and the accolade of the as the best play of the year Set in the 1970s this richly textured piece follows a group of men trying to eke out a living by driving unlicensed cabs jitneys When the city threatens to board up the business and the boss's son returns from prison tempers flare potent secrets are revealed and the fragile threads binding these people together may come undone In addition to the essential and insightful preface by Ruben Santiago Hudson this edition includes production stills from the Manhattan Theatre Club's Broadway production directed by Santiago Hudson and featuring Harvy Blanks Anthony Chisholm Brandon J Dirden Andr Holland Moonlight Carra Patterson Straight Outta Compton Michael Potts The Book of Mormon Keith Randolph Smith Ray Anthony Thomas and John Douglas Thompson
