Combining social history with literary criticism James Krippner Mart nez shows how a historiographically sensitive rereading of contemporaneous documents concerning the sixteenth century Spanish conquest and evangelization of Michoac n and of later writings using them can challenge traditional celebratory interpretations of missionary activity in early colonial Mexico The book offers a fresh look at religion politics and the writing of history by employing a poststructuralist method that engages the exclusions as well as the content of the historical record The moments of doubt contradiction and ambiguity thereby uncovered lead to deconstructing a coherent conquest narrative that continues to resonate in our present age Part I The Politics of Conquest deals with primary sources compiled from 1521 to 1565 Krippner Mart nez here examines the execution of Cazonci the indigenous ruler of Michoac n as recounted in the trial record produced by his executioners explores the missionary Indian encounter as revealed in the Relaci n de Michoac n and assesses the writings of Michoac n s first bishop the legendary Vasco de Quiroga and their complex interplay of authoritarian paternalism and reformist hope Part II Reflections looks at how the memory of these historical figures is represented in later eras A key text for this discussion is the Cr nica de Michoac n written in the late eighteenth century by the Franciscan intellectual Pablo de Beaumont Krippner Mart nez concludes with a critique of the debate that initiated his investigation the controversy between Latin Americans and Europeans over the colonialist legacy beginning with the Latin American Bishops Conference in 1992 Continuum

Encyclopedia of Popular Music of the World Volume 8 John Shepherd, David Horn, 2012-03-08 See The Oxford Handbook of Borderlands of the Iberian World Danna A. Levin Rojo, Cynthia Radding, 2019-11-06 This Handbook integrates innovative interdisciplinary approaches to the production of Iberian imperial borderlands in the Americas from southwestern U S to Patagonia and their connections to trade and migratory circuits extending to Asia and Africa In this volume borderlands comprise political boundaries spaces of ethnic and cultural exchange and ecological transitions

Narrative Mutations Rudyard Alcocer, 2005-08-16 Given the welcomed shift throughout the academy away from essentialist and biologically fixed understandings of race and the body it is a curiosity worth exploring that so many sophisticated and even radical narratives retain physical and behavioral heredity as a guiding trope The persistence of this concept in Caribbean literature informs not only discourses on race ethnicity and sexuality but also conceptions of personal and regional identity in a postcolonial societies once dominated by slavery and the plantation In this book Rudyard Alcocer offers a theory of Caribbean narrative accounting for the complex interactions between scientific and literary discourses while expanding the horizons of narrative studies in general Covering works from Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea through contemporary fiction from the Hispanic Caribbean Narrative Mutations analyzes the processes and concepts associated with heredity in exploring what it means to be Caribbean Manufacturing Otherness Sergio Botta, 2014-01-14 The discovery of the New World offered European civilisation the chance to generate a process of circulation of its own cultural values the spiritual conquest that has no comparable precedents The missionary orders played an important role during this Westernisation of the world not only as key players in the spread of Christian values but also as mediators between different worlds Indeed missionary practices imposed the dominating culture's values and institutions on the vanquished peoples At the same time they also promoted the circulation of new knowledge and the negotiation between different cultures during the age of a global integration of space This book looks at the vast field of study concerning the history of missions from a specific viewpoint Firstly it focuses on local processes singling out specific case studies to be used for a general reflection On the other hand it refocuses the attention on the Indigenous cultures which the missionaries helped to bring to light in the field of Western history showing how they succeeded in entering the areas of negotiation created by missionaries and in producing their own cultural subjectivity

Indigenous Cosmolectics Gloria Elizabeth Chacón, 2018-09-28 Latin America's Indigenous writers have long labored under the limits of colonialism but in the late twentieth and twenty first centuries they have constructed a literary corpus that moves them beyond those parameters Gloria E Chacón considers the growing number of contemporary Indigenous writers who turn to Maya and Zapotec languages alongside Spanish translations of their work to challenge the tyranny of monolingualism and cultural homogeneity Chacón argues that these Maya and Zapotec authors reconstruct an Indigenous literary tradition rooted in an Indigenous cosmolectics a philosophy originally grounded in pre Columbian sacred conceptions of the cosmos time and place and now expressed in creative writings More specifically she attends to Maya and Zapotec literary and cultural forms by theorizing kab awil as an Indigenous philosophy Tackling the political and literary implications of this work Chac n argues that Indigenous writers use of familiar genres alongside Indigenous language use of oral traditions and new representations of selfhood and nation all create space for expressions of cultural and political autonomy Chac n recognizes that Indigenous writers draw from universal literary strategies but nevertheless argues that this literature is a vital center for reflecting on Indigenous ways of knowing and is a key artistic expression of decolonization

Trail of Footprints Alex Hidalgo, 2019-07-12 Trail of Footprints offers an intimate glimpse into the commission circulation and use of indigenous maps from colonial Mexico A collection of sixty largely unpublished maps from the late sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries and made in the southern region of Oaxaca anchors an analysis of the way ethnically diverse societies produced knowledge in colonial settings Mapmaking proposes Hidalgo formed part of an epistemological shift tied to the negotiation of land and natural resources between the region's Spanish Indian and mixed race communities The craft of making maps drew from social memory indigenous and European conceptions of space and ritual and Spanish legal practices designed to adjust spatial boundaries in the New World Indigenous mapmaking brought together a distinct coalition of social actors Indian leaders native towns notaries surveyors judges artisans merchants muleteers collectors and painters who participated in the critical observation of the region's geographic features Demand for maps reconfigured technologies associated with the making of colorants adhesives and paper that drew from Indian botany and experimentation trans Atlantic commerce and Iberian notarial culture The maps in this study reflect a regional perspective associated with Oaxaca's decentralized organization its strategic position amidst a network of important trade routes that linked central Mexico to Central America and the ruggedness and diversity of its physical landscape eco perspectives Perfect for students in undergraduate and graduate courses tackling Latin American literature and culture topics A Companion to Latin American Literature and Culture Second Edition will also earn a place in the libraries of members of the general public and PhD students interested in Latin American literature and culture Magical Writing In Salasaca Peter Wogan, 2018-04-27 This book demonstrates that the beliefs about writing reflect extensive contact with birth certificates baptism records and other church and state documents It reviews Ecuadorian history to identify the specific documentation sources that have most influenced beliefs in the witch s book Nahua Horizons Ezekiel G. Stear, 2025-02-18 Nahua Horizons Writing Persuasion and Futurities in Colonial Mexico investigates how Nahuas conceptualized their futures in the early colonial period Scholar Ezekiel G Stear delves deeply into canonical texts such as the Florentine Codex and the Crónica mexicana as well as understudied texts such as the Lienzo de Quauhquechollan the Tira de Tepechpan and the Anales de Juan Bautista The study does more than describe how Nahuas conceived of their own futures it also shows their specific plans for moving into the coming years The book examines how Nahua writers in Central Mexico and other Mesoamerican voices in colonial Spanish America played an active decisive role in shaping culture using writing to persuade their communities to mold their own destinies even amid colonial upheaval This work opens up new directions for research and teaching shifting inquiry from how Nahuas preserved cultural continuity to how they envisioned their roles as pathfinders toward times to come Nahua Horizons challenges the notion that the Spanish erased Nahua culture The book emphasizes the ways people kept sovereignty over the futures they envisioned for themselves and their communities Stear s bold new approach follows the paths that Nahuas forged ahead into unknown times The Andean World Linda J. Seligmann, Kathleen S. Fine-Dare, 2018-11-08 This comprehensive reference offers an authoritative overview of Andean lifeways It provides valuable historical context and demonstrates the relevance of learning about the Andes in light of contemporary events and debates The volume covers the ecology and pre-Columbian history of the region and addresses key themes such as cosmology aesthetics gender and household relations modes of economic production exchange and consumption postcolonial legacies identities political organization and movements and transnational interconnections With over 40 essays by expert contributors that highlight the breadth and depth of Andean worlds this is an essential resource for students and scholars alike The Desertmakers Javier Uriarte, 2019-10-29 This book studies how the rhetoric of travel introduces different conceptualizations of space and time in scenarios of war during the last decades of the 19th century in Argentina Brazil Paraguay and Uruguay By examining accounts of war and travel in the context of the consolidation of state apparatuses in these countries Uriarte underlines the essential role that war in connection to empire and capital has played in the Latin American process of modernization and state formation In this book the analysis of British and Latin American travel narratives proves particularly productive in reading the ways in which national spaces are reconfigured reimagined and reappropriated by the state apparatus War turns out to be a central instrument not just for making possible this logic of appropriation but also for bringing temporal notions such as modernization and progress to spaces that were described albeit problematically as being outside of history The book argues that wars waged against deserts as Patagonia the sert o Paraguay and the Uruguayan countryside were described and imagined were in fact means of generating empty spaces real voids that were the condition for new foundations The study of travel writing is an essential tool for understanding the transformations of space brought by war and for analyzing in detail the forms and connotations of movement in connection to violence Uriarte pays particular attention to the effects that witnessing war had on the traveler s identity and on the relation that is established with the oikos or point of departure of their own voyage Written at the intersection of literary analysis critical geography political science and history this book will be of interest to those studying Latin American literature Travel Writing and neocolonialism and Empire writing From Viracocha to the Virgin of Copacabana Verónica

Salles-Reese,2010-07-05 Surrounded by the peaks of the Andean cordillera the deep blue waters of Lake Titicaca have long provided refreshment and nourishment to the people who live along its shores From prehistoric times the Andean peoples have held Titicaca to be a sacred place the source from which all life originated and the site where the divine manifests its presence In this interdisciplinary study Ver nica Salles Reese explores how Andean myths of cosmic and ethnic origins centered on Lake Titicaca evolved from pre Inca times to the enthronement of the Virgin of Copacabana in 1583 She begins by describing the myths of the Kolla pre Inca people and shows how their Inca conquerors attempted to establish legitimacy by reconciling their myths of cosmic and ethnic origin with the Kolla myths She also shows how a similar pattern occurred when the Inca were conquered in turn by the Spanish This research explains why Lake Titicaca continues to occupy a central place in Andean thought despite the major cultural disruptions that have characterized the region s history This book will be a touchstone in the field of Colonial literature and an important reference for Andean religious and intellectual history La

Entrelazando debates sobre todo tipo de temas desde la historia global del comercio del petróleo hasta la crisis migratoria y la espiritualidad animista de las comunidades indígenas de todo el mundo. La maldición de la nuez moscada ofrece una aguda crítica de la sociedad occidental y habla de las formas profundamente notables en que la historia humana está moldeada por fuerzas no humanas.

The ^AOxford Handbook of Latin American Christianity David Thomas Orique, Susan Fitzpatrick-Behrens, Virginia Garrard, 2020-03-23 Latin America where 90% of the population is Christian and where nearly 40% of the world's Catholics reside has its own unique brand of Christianity. The Oxford Handbook of Latin American Christianity offers a survey of Latin American Christianity from thirty-three leading scholars. The volume systematically introduces and examines dramatic shifts in Catholic and Protestant Christianity over the course of several centuries. Its four sections explore the emergence of colonial Christianity, its institutional and popular evolution, and its dynamic role in the region's contemporary developments.
