

Changing Image Scanner Name - via Barcodes

If you wanted to set up your image scanners with names 0001-0007, you may scan the barcodes below. Scan the Reset barcode after each name change and wait for the image scanner to re-link to the base before scanning the next barcode to name the next image scanner.

Reset

Alternatively, you may change the name with a barcode command if you cannot send serial commands to the base. One way to do this is to scan the barcode below and scan a number for the image scanner name. For example, if you had 7 image scanners to one base, scan the barcode below with the first image scanner, scan the 1 barcode on the Programming Chart inside the back cover of this manual and scan Save. Then scan the Reset barcode and wait for the image scanner to re-link to the base before scanning the next barcode. Repeat that process for image scanner number 2, 3, 4 etc.

Image Scanner Name

If you want to assign an alphabetic name to the image scanner, create a Code 128 barcode containing “~BT_NAMname.” followed by a FNC3 character (hexidecimal 83), where name is the new image scanner name. Scan the Reset barcode (page 1-9 or on the Programming Chart inside the back cover of this manual). You may use Barcode Builder, which is included with Quick*View. You may download Quick*View from the Hand Held Products, Inc. website: www.handheld.com.
