Lion King Ecology Answers:

Greek Tragedy, Education, and Theatre Practices in the UK Classics Ecology David Bullen, Christine Plastow, 2024-06-12 Through a series of case studies this book explores the interrelations among Greek tragedy theatre practices and education in the United Kingdom This is situated within what the volume proposes as the Classics ecology The term ecology frequently used in Theatre Studies understands Classics as a field of cultural production dependent on shared knowledge circulated via formal and informal networks which operate on the basis of mutually beneficial exchange Productions of Greek tragedy may be influenced by members of the team studying Classics subjects at school or university or reading popular works of Classical scholarship or else by working with an academic consultant All of these have some degree of connection to academic Classics albeit filtered through different lenses creating a network of mutual influence and benefit the ecology In this way theatrical productions of Greek drama may in the long term influence Classics as an academic discipline and certainly contribute to attesting to the relevance of Classics in the modern world The chapters in this volume include contributions by both theatre makers and academics whose backgrounds vary between Theatre Studies and Classics They comprise a variety of case studies and approaches exploring the dissemination of knowledge about the ancient world through projects that engage with Greek tragedy theories and practices of theatre making through the chorus and practical relationships between scholars and theatre makers By understanding the staging of Greek tragedy in the United Kingdom today as being part of the Classics ecology the book examines practices and processes as key areas in which the value of engaging with the ancient past is re negotiated This book is primarily suitable for students and scholars working in Classical Reception and Theatre Studies who are interested in the reception history of Greek tragedy and the intersection of the two fields It is also of use to more general Classics and Theatre Studies audiences especially those engaged with current debates around saving Classics and those interested in a structural systemic approach to the intersection between theatre culture and class

Wasteland Oliver Franklin-Wallis, 2023-07-18 NAMED A BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR 2023 BY THE NEW YORKER THE GUARDIAN and KIRKUS REVIEWS An award winning investigative journalist takes a deep dive into the global waste crisis exposing the hidden world that enables our modern economy and finds out the dirty truth behind a simple question what really happens to what we throw away In Wasteland journalist Oliver Franklin Wallis takes us on a shocking journey inside the waste industry the secretive multi billion dollar world that underpins the modern economy quietly profiting from what we leave behind In India he meets the waste pickers on the front line of the plastic crisis In the UK he journeys down sewers to confront our oldest and newest waste crisis and comes face to face with nuclear waste In Ghana he follows the after life of our technology and explores the global export network that results in goodwill donations clogging African landfills From an incinerator to an Oklahoma ghost town Franklin Wallis travels in search of the people and companies that really handle waste and on the way meets the innovators and campaigners pushing for a cleaner and less wasteful future

With this mesmerizing thought provoking and occasionally terrifying investigation Oliver Franklin Wallis tells a new story of humanity based on what we leave behind and along the way he shares a blueprint for building a healthier more sustainable world before we re all buried in trash Creation and Ecology Ronald A. Simkins,2020-12-24 In this book Ronald A Simkins addresses the current environmental crisis and what the Bible might contribute in response to it The environmental crisis includes loss of biodiversity degradation of the soil and especially climate change If left unchecked these trends will bring about the collapse of human civilization These environmental problems are interrelated and share a similar cause the exploitation of the natural world through an economy structured by capitalist relations of production and powered by the burning of fossil fuels Through our economic relations we have depleted natural resources polluted natural environments and altered natural processes These problems are a product of our political economy which entails not only our politics ideology and religion but primarily our economic system Because the crisis is economic at its core Simkins first sets the Bible within its own economic context exploring how the biblical ideas of creation an understanding of the human relationship to the natural world were the product of the ancient Israelite political economy Then Simkins places the biblical tradition in conversation with the current environmental crisis The result is a far richer view of creation in the biblical tradition and a better understanding of what is at stake in the current environmental crisis Sex, Ecology, Spirituality Ken
