Liquid Love On The Frailty Of Human Bonds:

Liquid Love Zygmunt Bauman, 2003 Liquid Love : On the Frailty of Human Bonds , Liquid Love Zygmunt Bauman, 2013-05-03 This book is about the central figure of our contemporary liquid modern times the man or woman with no bonds and particularly with none of the fixed or durable bonds that would allow the effort of self definition and self assertion to come to a rest Having no permanent bonds the denizen of our liquid modern society must tie whatever bonds they can to engage with others using their own wits skill and dedication But none of these bonds are guaranteed to last Moreover they must be tied loosely so that they can be untied again quickly and as effortlessly as possible when circumstances change as they surely will in our liquid modern society over and over again The uncanny frailty of human bonds the feeling of insecurity that frailty inspires and the conflicting desires to tighten the bonds yet keep them loose are the principal themes of this important new book by Zygmunt Bauman one of the most original and influential social thinkers of our time It will be of great interest to students and scholars in sociology and in the social sciences and humanities generally and it will appeal to anyone interested in the changing nature of human relationships ThirdWay , 2003 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture Being Human in a Consumer Society Alejandro Néstor García Martínez, 2016-04-15 This book offers a new perspective on sociological studies of the consumer society introducing neglected normative questions relating to the good life and human flourishing subjects more commonly discussed in fields of moral political and social philosophy With attention to a wide range of subjects including postemotional law and responsibility dehumanised consumption and prosumerism fashion embodiment conspicuous consumption and sustainability this book analyzes the structural and cultural transformations that can be identified in consumer society It also offers a critical but not pessimistic view of the important question of whether consumption is leading to an increasing isolation individualization or commodification of human beings suggesting an analytical framework for understanding consumer culture and human praxis Bringing together work from across disciplines by scholars in the US Europe and the UK to engage with questions concerning our globalized and globalizing world where consumerism is a keystone for understanding our contemporary culture and its social structures Being Human in a Consumer Society will appeal to scholars and students of sociology social theory and contemporary philosophy Taking Responsibility for the Life of Complex Human Ecosystems Gary R. Gunderson, James R. Cochrane, 2025-08-05 The long awaited convergence of climate economic political intellectual faith and social failures gives many reasons for despair The authors of this volume have spent their lives around the trauma of race and poverty in South Africa and the United States working with Nobel prize winners and those in townships and tenements We have learned that hope is not delusional and accountability not naive But one must think clearly and deeply untethered from the inadequate simplicities and false choices We must be here now with eyes wide open for when systems break down as so many are today knowing that they also break open new space for creative action The authors lead the global web of thinker doers through the Leading Causes of Life Initiative and national networks in Africa Europe and the United States They find coherence among profound thinking from fields never brought into alignment before drawn from by economists mycelial researchers anthropologists and health sciences working in the Arctic to South Africa and the tough neighbourhoods in between This includes a consideration of the human capacities that allow us to act in and transform the world we inhabit of the radical nature of joy in the face of despair of the judgement of Nemesis on hubris and privilege of the value of everything contra price as definitive of the idea of involution as distinguished from evolution of the concept of meshworks in our entanglement with others and finally of the theatre of the soul as the unity of the physical the psychological the political and the spiritual Sharply sensitive to the urgency of careful thought and wise action the authors help us see that life does find a way towards deep accountability for the life of complex human ecosystems They ask us to take responsibility for this as a key to human flourishing and well being this wonderful book as much as I do Jeffrey Ady Associate Professor retired Public Administration Program University of Hawaii at Manoa Founding Fellow International Academy for Intercultural Research The International Handbook of Love is far more than a traditional compendium It is a breath taking attempt to synthesize our anthropological and sociological knowledge on love It illuminates topics as diverse as Chinese love one night stands teen romance or love of leaders and many more This is a definitive reference in the field of love studies Eva Illouz author of The End of Love A sociology of Negative relationships Oxford University Press This is not a volume to be read in a single sitting though I almost did due to a protracted hospital stay nor is it romantic or inspirational reading though in some cases I had hoped for more narrative examples and case studies Rather it is a highly diverse scholarly effort a massive resource collection of research papers on love in a variety of contexts personal and professional settings and cultures The work is well referenced providing a large number of resources for deeper exploration We owe our thanks to the authors and editors of this handbook for work well done though that word in the title should not lead readers to suspect that enlightening as it is this book is a vade mecum or practical tour guide that provides ready solutions to the vicissitudes and challenges of our love lives Reviewed by Dr George F Simons on amazon com Please see Claude H l ne Mayer s interview related to the handbook in LeanHealth Talks published by Bernadette Bruckner <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yVNXA9sWuWo> Please see Claude H l ne Mayer s interview related to the handbook published In Iran News Daily <https://newspaper.irandaily.ir/nid/6941/pid/6?type=0> Reconfigurations of the Bildungsroman Gonalo Cholant,2022-06-21 The present work deals with the representation of trauma and violence in coming of age stories written by African American and Afro Caribbean women authors in the United States The kinds of violence explored in this work are related to the post colonial condition the women protagonists experience in which racism sexism classism among other kinds of discrimination are co created in an intersectional experience of oppression The titles analyzed in this work are Lucy 1990 written by Jamaica Kincaid Breath Eyes Memory 1994 written by Edwidge Danticat Bone Black Memories of Girlhood 1996 written by bell hooks and God Help the Child 2015 written by Toni Morrison The Bildungsroman genre serves as the form with which the authors are able to display the different forms of violence experienced during the the process of growing up female and black in the United States and also in the Caribbean islands of Antigua and Haiti in the cases of Kincaid and Danticat respectively The coming of age stories written by women and more specifically by African American and Afro Caribbean women tend to showcase narratives in which the tensions between the protagonists self determination and the influence of social and cultural factors in their development opportunities are negotiated The genre is adapted and subverted by the authors deviating from its canonical European origins becoming a site in which the authors are able to represent different kinds of violence and the subsequent traumatic consequences caused by it Erotic Love in Sociology, Philosophy and Literature Finn Bowring,2019-08-22 Why is love taken for granted as a part of human experience And why is sexual or romantic love in particular so important to us This book aims to find out tracing the intellectual history of sexual love from the ancient Greeks to the modern day Erotic Love in Sociology Philosophy and Literature shows how discourses of love have intersected with social and cultural trends as well as with personal events and experiences Beginning with the queering of love in Greek antiquity it looks at how sexual love has been sung about fictionalized and theorized as a cornerstone of the formation of Western culture From the courtly love of twelfth century troubadours and the rise of affective individualism in the eighteenth century to the way the novel helped catalyze and crystallize the hopes and contradictions of love and marriage these are decisive episodes in the history of romantic love Lastly the book deals with how sociologists and feminist theorists have made sense of the liberalization of sexuality over the last fifty years especially given the post romantic pragmatism of commercialized dating practices Arguing against the over rationalism of intimate life Erotic Love in Sociology Philosophy and Literature recognizes the need to liberate love from patriarchal racist and homophobic prejudices and highlights the value of literary and sociological traditions to emphasize how they dignify the rhapsodies and the sufferings of love

Being Human Now Raili Marling, Sara Bédard-Goulet, Tanel Lepsoo, 2022-07-25 Today s world is characterized by a pervasive sense of crisis and uncertainty This has created an increasingly urgent set of questions about who counts as human today and the nature of meaningful human life Although the human impact on earth is as visible as ever we can no longer take the centrality of the human for granted This tension is at the center of this volume which engages with ontological theories of posthumanism and new materialism combining them with poststructuralist theories of power and subjectivity to create a comprehensive matrix for diagnosing the present Within this framework the authors discuss American and French novels and French language plays that offer an insight into today's diverse challenges to being human They consider the impact of neoliberalism on shaping human affects and intimacies as well as literary responses to socio economic precarity The current environmental catastrophe is tackled through novels that question the human responsibility in bringing about for example the sixth mass extinction of species and the anthropocentricity of literature itself The art and artificiality of theater are shown to be means that allow us to delve into the extremes of human experience for example by revisiting myths that re interpret desire and question the possibility of a future for human beings
