Cragg, David G. I. Kingston, David J. Newman, 2011-10-10 The approach to drug discovery from natural sources has yielded many important new pharmaceuticals inaccessible by other routes In many cases the isolated natural product may not be an effective drug for any of several reasons but it nevertheless may become a drug through chemical modification or have a novel pharmacophore for future drug design In summarizing the status of natural products as cancer chemotherapeutics Anticancer Agents from Natural Products Second Edition covers the History of each covered drug a discussion of its mechanism on action medicinal chemistry synthesis and clinical applications Potential for novel drug discovery through the use of genome mining as well as future developments in anticancer drug discovery Important biosynthetic approaches to unnatural natural products Anticancer Agents from Natural Products Second Edition discusses how complex target oriented synthesis enabled by historic advances in methodology has enormously expanded the scope of the possible This book covers the current clinically used anticancer agents that are either natural products or are clearly derived from natural product leads It also reviews drug candidates currently in clinical development since many of these will be clinically used drugs in the future Examples include the drugs etoposide and teniposide derived from the lead compound podophyllotoxin numerous analogs derived from taxol topotecan derived from camptothecin and the synthetic clinical candidates E7389 and HTI 286 developed from the marine leads halichondrin B and hemiasterlin

Food Security, Gender and Resilience Leigh Brownhill, Esther Njuguna, Kimberly L. Bothi, Bernard Pelletier, Lutta Muhammad, Gordon M. Hickey, 2016-01-22 Through the integration of gender analysis into resilience thinking this book shares field based research insights from a collaborative integrated project aimed at improving food security in subsistence and smallholder agricultural systems The scope of the book is both local and multi scalar The gendered resilience framework illustrated here with detailed case studies from semi arid Kenya is shown to be suitable for use in analysis in other geographic regions and across disciplines The book examines the importance of gender equity to the strengthening of socio ecological resilience Case studies reflect multidisciplinary perspectives and focus on a range of issues from microfinance to informal seed systems The book s gender perspective also incorporates consideration of age or generational relations and cultural dimensions in order to embrace the complexity of existing socio economic realities in rural farming communities The issue of succession of farmland has become a general concern both to farmers and to researchers focused on building resilient farming systems Building resilience here is shown to involve strengthening households and communities overall livelihood capabilities in the face of ongoing climate change global market volatility and political instability
