Hope For Rwanda Conversations With Laure Guilbert And Herve Deguine:

Hope for Rwanda André Sibomana, Laure Guilbert, Hervé Deguine, 1999 This book takes us into hell into humanity into the horror of the crime of genocide The account is forceful the power of the expression shakes the soul because it touches the greatest depth of the human being of humanity Like the Jewish holocaust like other genocides the genocide in Rwanda is of concern to all societies Mission de L Eglise Readers of this book have a chance to share the author s journey and as they deepen their understanding of the Rwandan tragedy to renew their own commitment to the ideals of justice peace and reconciliation that fired the spirit of Andr Sibomana Alison Des Forges from the Foreword Andr Sibomana was a remarkable man A Rwandan Catholic priest journalist and leading human rights activist he was one of the very few independent voices to speak out against the abuses perpetrated by past and present governments in Rwanda Hope for Rwanda is his personal testimony and the first major English language account of the events surrounding the 1994 genocide in Rwanda by a Rwandan national Sibomana offers a personal reflection on the issues surrounding the genocide as well as confronting many of the preconceptions and stereotypes that are evident in the West s portrayal of the genocide In an acclaimed testimony Sibomana addresses controversial topics such as the role of the church in the genocide the failure of the international community to prevent massacres and the human rights record of the new Rwandan government Despite the inhumanity of the massacres and the endless suffering of the Rwandan people Sibomana offers a strong vision of hope for the future of his country and for the future of humanity Hope for Rwanda was published to great acclaim in France This English edition includes a new postscript which describes the circumstances of Sibomana s death and an updated chronology and additional chapter by the translator which summarises some of the more recent developments in Rwanda For those of us concerned with the brewing violence in our own societies and where it might lead for those interested in the politics of contemporary Africa or what happene in small Rwanda in the 1990s for those active in building organizations for human rights and peac Hope for Rwanda is a crucial and ultimately inspiring text Peace News      From Hope to Horror Joyce E.

Leader, 2020-03-01 As deputy to the U S ambassador in Rwanda Joyce E Leader witnessed the tumultuous prelude to genocide a period of political wrangling human rights abuses and many levels of ominous ever escalating violence From Hope to Horror offers her insider s account of the nation s efforts to move toward democracy and peace and analyzes the challenges of conducting diplomacy in settings prone to or engaged in armed conflict Leader traces the three way struggle for control among Rwanda s ethnic and regional factions Each sought to shape democratization and peacemaking to its own advantage The United States hoping to encourage a peaceful transition midwifed negotiations toward an accord The result a revolutionary blueprint for political and military power sharing among Rwanda s competing factions that met categorical rejection by the losers and a downward spiral into mass atrocities Drawing on the Rwandan experience Leader proposes ways diplomacy can more effectively avert the escalation of violence by identifying the unintended consequences of policies and emphasizing conflict prevention over crisis response Compelling and expert From Hope to Horror fills in the forgotten history of the diplomats who tried but failed to prevent a human rights catastrophe

Reparations for Victims of Genocide, War Crimes and Crimes Against Humanity Carla Ferstman, Mariana Goetz, Alan Stephens, 2009 This book provides detailed analyses of systems that have been established to provide reparations to victims of genocide crimes against humanity and war crimes and the way in which these systems have worked and are working in practice Many of these systems are described and assessed for the first time in an academic publication The publication draws upon a groundbreaking Conference organised by the Clemens Nathan Research Centre CNRC and REDRESS at the Peace Palace in The Hague with the support of the Dutch Carnegie Foundation Both CNRC and REDRESS had become very concerned about the extreme difficulty encountered by most victims of serious international crimes in attempting to access effective and enforceable remedies and reparation for harm suffered In discussions between the Conference organisers and Judges and officials of the International Criminal Court it became ever more apparent that there was a great need for frank and open exchanges on the question of effective reparation between the representatives of victims of NGOs and IGOs and other experts It was clear to all that the many current initiatives of governments and regional and international institutions to afford reparations to victims of genocide crimes against humanity and war crimes could benefit greatly by taking into full account the wide and varied practice that had been built up over several decades In particular the Hague Conference sought to consider in detail the long experience of the Conference on Jewish Material Claims against Germany the Claims Conference in respect of Holocaust restitution programmes as well as the practice of truth commissions arbitral proceedings and a variety of national processes to identify common trends best practices and lessons This book thus explores the actions of governments as well as of national and international courts and commissions in applying processing implementing and enforcing a variety of reparations schemes and awards Crucially it considers the entire complex of issues from the perspective of the beneficiaries survivors and their communities and from the perspective of the policy makers and implementers tasked with resolving technical and procedural challenges in bringing to fruition adequate effective and meaningful reparations in the context of mass victimisation

Becoming Human Again Donald E. Miller, 2020-03-31

Genocide involves significant death and trauma Yet the enormous scope of genocide comes into view when one looks at the factors that lead to mass killing the struggle for survival during genocide and the ways survivors reconstruct their lives after the violence ends Over a one hundred day period in 1994 the country of Rwanda saw the genocidal slaughter of at least 800 000 Tutsi at the hands of members of the Hutu majority government This book is a powerful oral history of the tragedy and its aftermath from the perspective of its survivors Based on in depth interviews conducted over the course of fifteen years the authors take a holistic approach by tracing how victims experienced the horrific events as well as how they have coped with the aftermath as they struggled to resume their lives The Rwanda genocide deserves study and documentation not only because of the failure of the Western world to intervene but also because it raises profound questions about the ways survivors create a new life out of the ashes of all that was destroyed How do they deal with the all encompassing traumas of genocide Is forgiveness possible And what does the process of rebuilding teach us about genocide trauma and human life

Revival and Reconciliation Phillip A. Cantrell, 2022-01-18 Phillip A Cantrell II takes a critical look at the Anglican Church's crucial role in many aspects of Rwanda's history particularly its complicity with the current Rwandan regime He boldly illuminates the Anglican Church's culpability in the events leading to the genocide calling attention to the consequences of the church's unwavering support for the Rwandan regime

The Violence of Law Jens Meierhenrich, 2024-04-30 Lawfare describes the systematic use and abuse of legal procedure for political ends This provocative book examines this insufficiently understood form of warfare in post genocide Rwanda where it contributed to the making of dictatorship Jens Meierhenrich provides a redescription of Rwanda's daring experiment in transitional justice known as inkiko gacaca By dissecting the temporally and structurally embedded mechanisms and processes by which change agents in post genocide Rwanda manoeuvred to create modified legal arrangements of things past Meierhenrich reveals an unexpected jurisprudence of violence Combining nomothetic and ideographic reasoning he shows that the deformation of the gacaca courts and thus the rise of lawfare in post genocide Rwanda was not preordained but the outcome of a violently structured contingency The Violence of Law tells a disturbing tale and will appeal to scholars advanced students and practitioners of international and comparative law African studies and human rights

Brickyards to Graveyards Villia Jefremovas, 2012-02-01 Brickyards to Graveyards examines how the overidealized picture of Rwanda as the darling of the world community in the 1980s was shattered amidst the genocide that occurred a decade later The brick and tile industries of Rwanda provide a microcosm to examine the transformation of gender class and power relations through the precolonial colonial and postcolonial periods and provide insights into the explosive impact of these changes on Rwandan culture and society The book illustrates how these gender class and power relations played out in times of economic political and demographic crisis and argues that these factors have not changed significantly since the Rwandan Patriotic Front took power in 1994

Routledge Companion to Christianity in Africa Elias Kifon Bongmba, 2015-12-22 The Routledge Companion to Christianity in Africa offers a multi disciplinary analysis of the Christian tradition across the African continent and throughout a long historical span The volume offers historical and thematic essays tracing the introduction of Christianity in Africa as well as its growth developments and effects including the lived experience of African Christians Individual chapters address the themes of Christianity and gender the development of African initiated churches the growth of Pentecostalism and the influence of Christianity on issues of sexuality music and public health This comprehensive volume will serve as a valuable overview and reference work for students and researchers worldwide

Narrating and Teaching the Nation Denise Bantovato, 2016-02-15 The book investigates the politics of education in pre and post genocide Rwanda examining the actors interests and discourses that have historically influenced educational policy and practice and in particular the production and revision of history curricula and textbooks This study combines a systematic historical and comparative analysis of curricula and textbooks in Rwanda stakeholder interviews classroom observations and a large scale investigation of pupils understandings of the country s history Written at a crucial time of transition in Rwanda it illuminates the role of education as a powerful means of socialisation through which dominant discourses and related belief systems have been transmitted to the younger generations thus moulding the nation It outlines emergent challenges and possibilities urging a move away from the use of history teaching to disseminate a conveniently selective official history towards practices that promote critical thinking and reflect the heterogeneity characteristic of Rwanda s post genocide society Picking Up the Pieces Samuel

Cyuma,2012-05-22 In the last ten years of the 20th century the world was twice confronted with unbelievable news from Africa First there was the end of Apartheid in South Africa Who would have thought that such a change would be possible without bloodshed But the miracle happened due to responsible political and Church leaders and as a result of the unique processes organized through the Truth and Reconciliation Commission under the leadership of Archbishop Desmond Tutu The second unbelievable experience from Africa was of a rather different and awfully shocking nature the mass killings in Rwanda This event soon developed into a real genocide and created a wave of horror around the world There political and Church leaders had been unable to prevent this crime against humanity Why Comrades go to War Philip Roessler,Harry Verhoeven,2017-08-01 In October 1996 a motley crew of ageing Marxists and unemployed youth coalesced to revolt against Mobutu Seso Seko president of Zaire Congo since 1965 The rebels of the AFDL marched over 1500km in seven months to crush the dictatorship heralding liberation as a second independence for Central Africa as a whole US President Bill Clinton toasted AFDL leader Laurent D sir Kabila and his regional allies having developed a unique camaraderie and personal trust on the region s battlefronts as a new generation of African leaders ushering in an African Renaissance Within months however the Pan Africanist alliance fell apart The AFDL s collapse triggered a cataclysmic fratricide between the heroes of liberation that became the deadliest conflict since the Second World War drawing in eight African countries This book draws on hundreds of interviews with protagonists from Africa and the international community to offer a novel theoretical and empirical account of Africa s Great War Bridging the gap between comparative politics and international relations it argues that the renewed outbreak of calamitous violence in August 1998 was a function of the kind of regime the AFDL was and how its leaders saw Congo the region and themselves As a Pan Africanist liberation movement the collapse of the AFDL government internally and the unravelling of regional order externally were inextricably linked Spontaneous Shrines and the Public Memorialization of Death J. Santino,2016-04-30 This is an edited volume of approximately 17 essays that deal with various types of spontaneous shrines and other related public memorializations of death The articles address events such as New York after 9 11 roadside crosses and the use of Day of the Dead altars to bring attention to deceased undocumented

Ethnicity and Sociopolitical Change in Africa and Other Developing Countries Santosh C. Saha, 2008-01-01 This edited book on constructive ethnicity argues that the modernizing state system in developing countries unduly denies a legitimate place to the linguistic and ethnic groups who despite habitual attachment to ethnic groups might meaningfully help the slow process of state building Here ethnicity is characterized as positive and as such moral and pragmatic Despite ethnicity's natural inclination to polarization a national community can be reconstructed as is exemplified by recent events in Rwanda Cyprus India Palestine and China

Localizing Transitional Justice Rosalind Shaw, Lars Waldorf, Pierre Hazan, 2010-04-23 Through war crimes prosecutions truth commissions purges of perpetrators reparations and memorials transitional justice practices work under the assumptions that truth telling leads to reconciliation prosecutions bring closure and justice prevents the recurrence of violence But when local responses to transitional justice destabilize these assumptions the result can be a troubling disconnection between international norms and survivors priorities Localizing Transitional Justice traces how ordinary people respond to and sometimes transform transitional justice mechanisms laying a foundation for more locally responsive approaches to social reconstruction after mass violence and egregious human rights violations Recasting understandings of culture and locality prevalent in international justice this vital book explores the complex unpredictable and unequal encounter among international legal norms transitional justice mechanisms national agendas and local priorities and practices

Making and Unmaking Nations Scott Straus, 2015-03-15 Winner of the Grawmeyer Award for Ideas Improving World Order 2018 Winner of the Joseph Lepgold Prize Winner of the Best Books in Conflict Studies APSA Winner of the Best Book in Human Rights ISA In Making and Unmaking Nations Scott Straus seeks to explain why and how genocide takes place and perhaps more important how it has been avoided in places where it may have seemed likely or even inevitable To solve that puzzle he examines postcolonial Africa analyzing countries in which genocide occurred and where it could have but did not Why have there not been other Rwandas Straus finds that deep rooted ideologies how leaders make their nations shape strategies of violence and are central to what leads to or away from genocide Other critical factors include the dynamics of war the role of restraint and the interaction between national and local actors in the staging of campaigns of large scale violence Grounded in Straus's extensive fieldwork in contemporary Africa the study of major twentieth century cases of genocide and the literature on genocide and political violence Making and Unmaking Nations centers on cogent analyses of three nongenocide cases Côte d'Ivoire Mali and Senegal and two in which genocide took place Rwanda and Sudan Straus's empirical analysis is based in part on an original database of presidential speeches from 1960 to 2005 The book also includes a broad gauge analysis of all major cases of large scale violence in Africa since decolonization Straus s insights into the causes of genocide will inform the study of political violence as well as giving policymakers and nongovernmental organizations valuable tools for the future
